Limit Increased For Span On Route 68

Although a truck-bus ban was ordered in effect today on the Chester Bridge, truckers were continuing to use the span, apparently because signs designating the new 5,000-pound limit have not been delivered and erected.

The Ohio Department of Highways ordered the sharp restriction on travel on the span as a result of discovery by inspecting engineers of corrosion in cable anchorages on the Ohio side.

Late this morning the 15-ton limit signs remained at both sides of the heavily - traveled Route 30 artery, and trucks were continuing to cross.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy task force including the carrier Enterprise cruised toward North Korea today as the United States applied diplomatic leverage in a bid to recover its captured intelligence ship Pueblo.

The four-ship American force moved in high readiness through the Sea of Japan while the United States asked the Soviet Union to persuade North Korea to give up the 935-ton craft, which had 83 men aboard.

The White House called North Korea's capture of the lightly armed vessel "a very serious situation." The State Department viewed it "with utmost gravity."

President Johnson was to preside today at what was described as a regular meeting of the National Security Council. The ship incident was likely to be the No. 1 topic.

In Panmunjom, Korea, where the Korean War truce was negotiated, the United Nations Command strongly protested the seizure and demanded immediate return of the ship. The command also demanded a North Korean apology.

But the head of the North Korena delegation there, Maj. Gen. Choong-kook, claimed the Pueblo violated North Korean territorial waters off Wonsan and was trying to "come closer to the land to perpetrate intolerable provocative acts" when North Korean navy vessels "returned fire."

Some congressmen called the Pueblo's takeover an act of war and there were suggestions from Capitol Hill that the United States retaliate.

Sources said the nuclear-powered Enterprise was accompanied by the nuclear frigate Truxton and two other combat ships.

Late Tuesday night the ships —diverted from a combat assignment off Vietnam—were southwest of Sasebo, Japan, and hours away from the North Korean port of Wonsan where the Pueblo was assumed held prisoner. In her last message, the Pueblo reported she had been told to follow four North Korean patrol boats into Wonsan.

A North Korea Korean report monitored in Tokyo said the United States was trying to "ignite another war."

Ambassador William J. Porter informed South Korean officials in Seoul the United States had decided to take "certain initial measures" following the seizure.

Sources in the Korean capital speculated that beyond the dispatching of a naval force, retaliatory military actions against North Korea "are not totally excluded."

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul of South Korea said the North Korean Communist regime "must prepare itself to pay due price for its inhumane, unwarranted terrorism."

Sets Diplomatic Pressure

North Koreans commandeered the electronics-packed Pueblo at 11:45 p.m. EST, Monday, wounding four crewmen—one critically—according to her radioed reports.

The Pueblo was the first U.S. ship captured since the Civil War—when Confederates captured the Union's Harriet Lane —and a Pentagon spokesmen said "she did not fire a shot."

Why? This was one of many unanswered questions.

Japan's Kyodo News Service quoted North Korea as saying the Communists "killed or wounded" several Pueblo crewmen when the North Koreans "returned" fire from the "intruding" U.S. vessel. Noting its earlier denial that the Pueblo fired any shots, the Pentagon said it had no knowledge of any fatalities.

If "intruding" meant penetrating North Korea's 12-miles territorial limit, the Pentagon denied it.

Spokesmen placed the Pueblo's initial encounter with and subsequent boarding by the North Koreans at about 25 miles off North Korea's coast.

But the Pentagon did not come to grips with a number of other questions presented by newsmen which had significant bearing on the situation:

—Why didn't the Pueblo, under the command of Cmdr. L. M. Bucher of Jefferson City, Mo., resist the takeover? She was armed with three 50-caliber machine guns.

—Why did the Pueblo wait until the North Koreans were boarding before asking for help? The Pentagon said this request was radioed at 11:45 p.m. and "time and distance factors made it impossible to respond to a call that was made when the ship was being boarded."

—Assuming Pueblo didn't seek aid, why didn't higher authorities perceive a serious situation and scramble some of the supersonic F4 Phantoms from Osan or Kunsan, South Korea, when the ship reported being accosted by the first of four North Korean patrol boats at 10 p.m.? The Pueblo reported at that time she was warned by the Communists to "heave to or I will open fire on you."

—Cmdr. Bucher, 38, in charge of his first ship, "did not request instructions" even after the four boats and two North Korean MIGs surrounded him, according to the Pentagon. Why?

—And why didn't the Pentagon or the Pacific command in Hawaii offer the Pueblo any advice?

The timing of Washington's first alert to the Pueblo's sensitive situation was not precise.

The initial report from Pueblo to Washington arrived "before midnight," the Pentagon said, adding that the precise time was secret.

Bucher "made periodic reports to higher naval authorities" after she was accosted, officers said, but the Pentagon did not identify these officials.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was notified "along with appropriate officials," but the Pentagon didn't say when.

President Johnson was awakened at 2 a.m., sometime after presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow rushed from his home to the secret "situation room" in the White House basement to be briefed.

GOP Selects McQuilkin For Election Board Post

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican Executive Committee Tuesday night recommended Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth to succeed Charles A. Pike of Lisbon on the County Board of Elections. James R. Magill of Pittsburgh St., Columbiana, was the other nominee.

The executive board's action is subject to the confirmation of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who will be in Youngstown next month to iinstall new election board members in this district.

Thirty members attended the meeting in GOP headquarters in the Wick Hotel building. Pike presided.

He is completing his second four-year term on the board of elections and must step down March 1 according to the party's policy. He also is serving his third and final two-year term as county chairman.

McQuilkin is the likely successor. The party will elect a new chairman after the primaries in May.

McQuilkin is owner of the McQuilkin Lumber Co. in Homeworth. He has been vice chairman of the county GOP organization for six years and organized the Western Columbiana County GOP Club.

Last summer a motorist damaged a door and fender on the car of Mrs. Ralph E. George of 409 Azalea Ave. while it was parked on Broadway. The driver did not leave a note of apology or identification.

As are most victims of a "hit-skip," Mrs. George was angered.

Monday, when she got into her auto downtown, she found an envelope had been slipped in a narrow opening of the window. In it were four $20 bills and a folded piece of paper.

"Here is $80 on your fender," the note read. "I am sorry I scraped your car on the left side. I had no Insurance and I am on Social Security. I hope this will repair the damage."

The writer, apparently an elderly man, had seemingly kept watch on Mrs. George's car, identifying it by the license plate, and had saved enough money to pay for the damage and satisfy what obviously was a strict conscience.

Mrs. George, who had a touch of remorse at being angry after the initial incident, came to The Review today to show, as she put it, "There are still honest people in the world."

Police To Work Round The Clock

Chester will begin receiving around-the-clock police protection immediately, members of Council announced today after a meeting Tuesday night.

Council has advanced Patrolman Paul Rex Cowey to full-time status in order to provide added protection. Cowey previously has served only as an extra patrolman who filled in for the police chief and regular patrolman, Joseph (Bill) Cornell, during their days off.

IN TAKING the action, which will be formalized during the next regular meeting Feb. 12, Council said the city is assured 24-hour protection. The meeting was called during Monday night's regular session after a lengthy, heated discussion occurred in the wake of several major robberies in recent weeks.

Members at that time pointed to the fact that until now no police have been on duty after 1 a. m. The patrolman scheduled to work the next morning, Chief Audley T. Campbell or Cornell, was called out of bed if an emergency arose.

Cowey received no salary increase immediately, however, and will continue at his $1.80-an-hour rate.

Councilman Roy Cashdollar, who set up the new schedule, said Cowey will work 40 hours each week spread over a seven-

Ohio House Floor Vote Due Redistricting Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The House Government Operations Committee has cleared the way for a possible floor vote today on a Senate-passed measure setting new borders for Oho's 24 congressional districts.

Acting under a Jan. 26 federal court deadline, the committee voted 12-5 late Tuesday night to approve the plan in much the same form as it was when it squeaked through the Senate 18-15 last week.

Several changes mean the bill will have to go back to the Senate for concurrence but GOP leaders in touch with upper chamber members indicated a compromise had been worked out.

The biggest change agreed on in the House committee involved a switch of townships in Hamilton County to overcome objections from the Cincinnati Republican delegation in both the House and Senate.

Its major provision would retain Republican-oriented Ander-

It was their first attack with big guns on the base, on a red clay bluff three miles north of the town of Khe Sanh.

2 Senators Angered

'Caution' Urged In Ship Seizures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Angry demands for immediate retaliation mixed with calls for caution marked congressional reaction to North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

A major question being asked at the Capitol Tuesday was why the ship had no protection.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., called the incident "an insult to our flag. It is a serious setback in our intelligence forces and it is an act that we should not tolerate."

He sent a telegram to President Johnson urging that the North Koreans be told the Pueblo would be retaken by force if she is not returned within a specified time.

A similar note was sounded by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. He said the North Koreans should be told that if they don't release the Pueblo and her crew within 24 hours, "our naval forces will be instructed to seize all vessels of North Korean registry wherever they may be found on the high seas."

But the two senators were the exception to the general reaction that the United States should move slowly and through diplomatic channels before taking any retaliatory action.

As Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a Foreign Relations Committeeman, put it: "This is a provacative incident but we

First National Purchases Store Building For Annex

The First National Bank has purchased the former King's Store building adjacent to the bank on E. 5th St., and plans to remodel it as an annex.

Robert E. Boyce, president of the bank, today announced the purchase of the Stein - Gardner Building which housed the discount store for some years, and prior to that was occupied by the A. J. Olsen Co. store, now on W. 5th St.

The two - story brick structure was purchased from Dorothy S. Gardner of Philadelphia and Ralph I. Stein of Los Angeles. The tract was obtained in 1918 by Jacob Stein, and the building was used by the Stein Dry Goods Store for some years.

Boyce indicated the bank is studying transfer of some departments into the building, to be known as the First National Bank Annex, but plans are not complete for such moves or for the start of the remodeling program.

First National Purchases Store Building For Annex

The First National Bank has purchased the former King's Store building adjacent to the bank on E. 5th St., and plans to remodel it as an annex.

Robert E. Boyce, president of the bank, today announced the purchase of the Stein - Gardner Building which housed the discount store for some years, and prior to that was occupied by the A. J. Olsen Co. store, now on W. 5th St.

The two - story brick structure was purchased from Dorothy S. Gardner of Philadelphia and Ralph I. Stein of Los Angeles. The tract was obtained in 1918 by Jacob Stein, and the building was used by the Stein Dry Goods Store for some years.

Boyce indicated the bank is studying transfer of some departments into the building, to be known as the First National Bank Annex, but plans are not complete for such moves or for the start of the remodeling program.

Rigs Use Chester Bridge Despite New Load Limits

A TRACTOR-TRAILER truck heads onto the Chester Bridge from the Chester side at midmorning, although a technical 2½-ton load limit is in effect today, barring heavy vehicles due to corrosion in cables on the span.

Limit Increased For Span On Route 68

Although a truck-bus ban was ordered in effect today on the Chester Bridge, truckers were continuing to use the span, apparently because signs designating the new 5,000-pound limit have not been delivered and erected.

The Ohio Department of Highways ordered the sharp restriction on travel on the span as a result of discovery by inspecting engineers of corrosion in cable anchorages on the Ohio side.

Late this morning the 15-ton limit signs remained at both sides of the heaavily - traveled Route 30 artery, and trucks were continuing to cross.

MEANWHILE, the load limit of 25 tons on the Route 68 bridge over Beaver Creek at Smiths Ferry has been lifted by Pennsylvania Highway Department officials, and a new limit of 36 tons established.

Removal of the lower limit has brought expressions of con-

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Navy task force including the carrier Enterprise cruised toward North Korea today as the United States applied diplomatic leverage in a bid to recover its captured intelligence ship Pueblo.

The four-ship American force moved in high readiness through the Sea of Japan while the United States asked the Soviet Union to persuade North Korea to give up the 935-ton craft, which had 83 men aboard.

The White House called North Korea's capture of the lightly armed vessel "a very serious situation." The State Department viewed it "with utmost gravity."

President Johnson was to preside today at what was described as a regular meeting of the National Security Council. The ship incident was likely to be the No. 1 topic.

In Panmunjom, Korea, where the Korean War truce was negotiated, the United Nations Command strongly protested the seizure and demanded immediate return of the ship. The command also demanded a North Korean apology.

But the head of the North Korena delegation there, Maj. Gen. Choong-kook, claimed the Pueblo violated North Korean territorial waters off Wonsan and was trying to "come closer to the land to perpetrate intolerable provocative acts" when North Korean navy vessels "returned fire."

Some congressmen called the Pueblo's takeover an act of war and there were suggestions from Capitol Hill that the United States retaliate.

Sources said the nuclear-powered Enterprise was accompanied by the nuclear frigate Truxton and two other combat ships.

Late Tuesday night the ships —diverted from a combat assignment off Vietnam—were southwest of Sasebo, Japan, and hours away from the North Korean port of Wonsan where the Pueblo was assumed held prisoner. In her last message, the Pueblo reported she had been told to follow four North Korean patrol boats into Wonsan.

A North Korea Korean report monitored in Tokyo said the United States was trying to "ignite another war."

Ambassador William J. Porter informed South Korean officials in Seoul the United States had decided to take "certain initial measures" following the seizure.

Sources in the Korean capital speculated that beyond the dispatching of a naval force, retaliatory military actions against North Korea "are not totally excluded."

Information Minister Hong Jong-chul of South Korea said the North Korean Communist regime "must prepare itself to pay due price for its inhumane, unwarranted terrorism."

North Koreans commandeered the electronics-packed Pueblo at 11:45 p.m. EST, Monday, wounding four crewmen—one critically—according to her radioed reports.

The Pueblo was the first U.S. ship captured since the Civil War—when Confederates captured the Union's Harriet Lane —and a Pentagon spokesmen said "she did not fire a shot."

Why? This was one of many unanswered questions.

Japan's Kyodo News Service quoted North Korea as saying the Communists "killed or wounded" several Pueblo crewmen when the North Koreans "returned" fire from the "intruding" U.S. vessel. Noting its earlier denial that the Pueblo fired any shots, the Pentagon said it had no knowledge of any fatalities.

If "intruding" meant penetrating North Korea's 12-miles territorial limit, the Pentagon denied it.

Spokesmen placed the Pueblo's initial encounter with and subsequent boarding by the North Koreans at about 25 miles off North Korea's coast.

But the Pentagon did not come to grips with a number of other questions presented by newsmen which had significant bearing on the situation:

—Why didn't the Pueblo, under the command of Cmdr. L. M. Bucher of Jefferson City, Mo., resist the takeover? She was armed with three 50-caliber machine guns.

—Why did the Pueblo wait until the North Koreans were boarding before asking for help? The Pentagon said this request was radioed at 11:45 p.m. and "time and distance factors made it impossible to respond to a call that was made when the ship was being boarded."

—Assuming Pueblo didn't seek aid, why didn't higher authorities perceive a serious situation and scramble some of the supersonic F4 Phantoms from Osan or Kunsan, South Korea, when the ship reported being accosted by the first of four North Korean patrol boats at 10 p.m.? The Pueblo reported at that time she was warned by the Communists to "heave to or I will open fire on you."

—Cmdr. Bucher, 38, in charge of his first ship, "did not request instructions" even after the four boats and two North Korean MIGs surrounded him, according to the Pentagon. Why?

—And why didn't the Pentagon or the Pacific command in Hawaii offer the Pueblo any advice?

The timing of Washington's first alert to the Pueblo's sensitive situation was not precise.

The initial report from Pueblo to Washington arrived "before midnight," the Pentagon said, adding that the precise time was secret.

Bucher "made periodic reports to higher naval authorities" after she was accosted, officers said, but the Pentagon did not identify these officials.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was notified "along with appropriate officials," but the Pentagon didn't say when.

President Johnson was awakened at 2 a.m., sometime after presidential assistant Walt W. Rostow rushed from his home to the secret "situation room" in the White House basement to be briefed.

GOP Selects McQuilkin For Election Board Post

LISBON — The Columbiana County Republican Executive Committee Tuesday night recommended Ford McQuilkin of Homeworth to succeed Charles A. Pike of Lisbon on the County Board of Elections. James R. Magill of Pittsburgh St., Columbiana, was the other nominee.

The executive board's action is subject to the confirmation of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, who will be in Youngstown next month to iinstall new election board members in this district.

Thirty members attended the meeting in GOP headquarters in the Wick Hotel building. Pike presided.

He is completing his second four-year term on the board of elections and must step down March 1 according to the party's policy. He also is serving his third and final two-year term as county chairman.

McQuilkin is the likely successor. The party will elect a new chairman after the primaries in May.

McQuilkin is owner of the McQuilkin Lumber Co. in Homeworth. He has been vice chairman of the county GOP organization for six years and organized the Western Columbiana County GOP Club.

He is a member of the Mid-

Diogenes! Stop Looking!

Last summer a motorist damaged a door and fender on the car of Mrs. Ralph E. George of 409 Azalea Ave. while it was parked on Broadway. The driver did not leave a note of apology or identification.

As are most victims of a "hit-skip," Mrs. George was angered.

Monday, when she got into her auto downtown, she found an envelope had been slipped in a narrow opening of the window. In it were four $20 bills and a folded piece of paper.

"Here is $80 on your fender," the note read. "i am sorry i scraped your car on the left side. i had no Insurance and i am on Social Security. I hope this will repair the damage."

The writer, apparently an elderly man, had seemingly kept watch on Mrs. George's car, identifying it by the license plate, and had saved enough money to pay for the damage and satisfy what obviously was a strict conscience.

Mrs. George, who had a touch of remorse at being angry after the initial incident, came to The Review today to show, as she put it, "There are still honest people in the world."

Police To Work Round The Clock

Chester will begin receiving around-the-clock police protection immediately, members of Council announced today after a meeting Tuesday night.

Council has advanced Patrolman Paul Rex Cowey to full-time status in order to provide added protection. Cowey previously has served only as an extra patrolman who filled in for the police chief and regular patrolman, Joseph (Bill) Cornell, during their days off.

IN TAKING the action, which will be formalized during the next regular meeting Feb. 12, Council said the city is assured 24-hour protection. The meeting was called during Monday night's regular session after a lengthy, heated discussion occurred in the wake of several major robberies in recent weeks.

Members at that time pointed to the fact that until now no police have been on duty after 1 a. m. The patrolman scheduled to work the next morning, Chief Audley T. Campbell or Cornell, was called out of bed if an emergency arose.

Cowey received no salary increase immediately, however, and will continue at his $1.80-an-hour rate.

Councilman Roy Cashdollar, who set up the new schedule, said Cowey will work 40 hours each week spread over a seven-

SAIGON (AP) — Communist gunners escalated the battle of Khe Sanh late today with a heavy shelling of the U.S. Marine regimental combat base in the critical northwest corner of South Vietnam.

It was their first attack with big guns on the base, on a red clay bluff three miles north of the town of Khe Sanh.

2 Senators Angered

'Caution' Urged In Ship Seizures

WASHINGTON (AP) — Angry demands for immediate retaliation mixed with calls for caution marked congressional reaction to North Korea's seizure of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

A major question being asked at the Capitol Tuesday was why the ship had no protection.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., called the incident "an insult to our flag. It is a serious setback in our intelligence forces and it is an act that we should not tolerate."

He sent a telegram to President Johnson urging that the North Koreans be told the Pueblo would be retaken by force if she is not returned within a specified time.

A similar note was sounded by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn. He said the North Koreans should be told that if they don't release the Pueblo and her crew within 24 hours, "our naval forces will be instructed to seize all vessels of North Korean registry wherever they may be found on the high seas."

But the two senators were the exception to the general reaction that the United States should move slowly and through diplomatic channels before taking any retaliatory action.

As Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., a Foreign Relations Committeeman, put it: "This is a provacative incident but we

Committee Approves Measure

Ohio House Floor Vote Due Redistricting Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The House Government Operations Committee has cleared the way for a possible floor vote today on a Senate-passed measure setting new borders for Oho's 24 congressional districts.

Acting under a Jan. 26 federal court deadline, the committee voted 12-5 late Tuesday night to approve the plan in much the same form as it was when it squeaked through the Senate 18-15 last week.

Several changes mean the bill will have to go back to the Senate for concurrence but GOP leaders in touch with upper chamber members indicated a compromise had been worked out.

The biggest change agreed on in the House committee involved a switch of townships in Hamilton County to overcome objections from the Cincinnati Republican delegation in both the House and Senate.

Its major provision would retain Republican-oriented Ander-

4 File Offers For New Auto

Tad Pontiac, Inc., of 1273 Pennsylvania Ave. filed the apparent low offer of $2,475.90 Tuesday noon with the Board of Control on purchase of a 1968 four - door sedan for use on official business by the city administration and members of Council.

The firm's bid, one of four, covered a Pontiac with an eight-cylinder, 265-horsepower motor.

Mike Turk, Inc., of E. 6th and Walnut Sts. offered a 1968 Buick LeSabre four-door sedan at $2,375 without a trade-in and for $2,550 with the trade-in of a 1960 Studebaker station wagon formerly used by the fire department.

The other two bids were filed by the East Liverpool Central Service Co. of W. 7th St.

Central Service offered a 1968 Plymouth Fury with a 290-horsepower engine at $2,569 without a trade and $2,574.50 with a trade of the old station wagon.

It bied $2,999 on a Chrysler Newport sedan without a trade-in and $2,974.50 with a trade of the station wagon. The Chrysler also has a 290-horsepower motor.

The 1966-67 Council appropriated $2,500 late in 1967 for the auto purchase. In the past the administration and Council used a former police cruiser for transportation, but no such vehicle is available now.

The Board of Control is comprised of Mayor George E. Willshaw, who is on vacation in Florida, and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey. The board will act on the bids after the mayor's return late this month.

Bank Bandit Begins Term Of 15 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The "Commuter Bandit" case which baffled police and the FBI for years ended today as William E. Zeiler began a 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

The man who prosecuted him, U.S. Atty. Gustvus Diamond, described himself as "perfectly satisfied with the results' even though the jury returned convictions on only two of eight robberies with which Zeiler was charged.

James P. McKenna Jr., the court-appointed defender, said he probably would appeal.

The jury of nine men and three women in U.S. District Court deliberated 12 hours over two days before finding Zeiler guilty Tuesday.

The 32-year-old former grocer from Pittsburgh's North Side stood mute as Judge Joseph P. Willson sentenced him.

At one time authorities had pinned 16 holdups over seven years on the "Commuter Bandit," so named because of a police theory he lived in the suburbs and drove to town for a robbery when low on cash.

Shafer Plans Budget Offer In February

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly, in recess until March 4, will come to Harrisburg for one day during the first or second week of February to receive Gov. Shafer's budget for 1968-69.

Shafer had intendd to present his budget when the legislature returns from its recess. Legislative leaders, however, requested to see the budget earlier, Shafer said.

Rep. Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R -Allegheny, majority floor leader of the House, said the earlier presentation date would afford the General Assembly "an excellent opportunity" to begin its review of the budget during the recess.

Other legislative leaders, whom Shafer consulted before deciding to advance the budget date, also praised the move.

The budget, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, is expected to approach $2 billion.

While Shafer has said the new requests for spending already near some $500 million, he pledged in his State of the Commonwealth address that he would propose no new taxes this year.

Current estimates indicate that the administration will have some $200 million in excess revenue to work without another tax increase.

Shafer had a 284 million tax package enacted in 1967 to balance a 1.8 billion budget.

Tree seeds vary widely in size. It takes 300,000 hemlock seeds to make a pound, while certain tropical coconuts may weigh 40 pounds each.

Bank Bandit Begins Term Of 15 Years

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The "Commuter Bandit" case which baffled police and the FBI for years ended today as William E. Zeiler began a 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

The man who prosecuted him, U.S. Atty. Gustvae Diamond, described himself as "perfectly satisfied with the reults' even though the jury returned convictions on only two of eight robberies with which Zeiler was charged.

James P. McKenna Jr., the court-appointed defender, said he probably would appeal.

The jury of nine men and three women in U.S. District Court deliberated 12 hours over two days before finding Zeiler guilty Tuesday.

The 52-year-old former grocer from Pittsburgh's North Side stood mute as Judge Joseph P. Willson sentenced him.

At one time authorities had pinned 16 holdups over seven years on the "Commuter Bandit," so named because of a police theory he lived in the suburbs and drove to town for a robbery when low on cash.

Shafer Plans Budget Offer In February

HARRISBURG (AP) — The General Assembly, in recess until March 4, will come to Harrisburg for one day during the first or second week of February to receive Gov. Shafer's budget for 1968-69.

Shafer had intendd to present his budget when the legislature returns from its recess. Legislative leaders, however, requested to see the budget earlier, Shafer said.

Rep. Lee A. Donaldson Jr., R -Allegheny, majority floor leader of the House, said the earlier presentation date would afford the General Assembly "an excellent opportunity" to begin its review of the budget during the recess.

Other legislative leaders, whom Shafer consulted before deciding to advance the budget date, also praised the move.

The budget, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, is expected to approach $2 billion.

While Shafer has said the new requests for spending already near some $500 million, he pledged in his State of the Commonwealth address that he would propose no new taxes this year.

Current estimates indicate that the administration will have some $200 million in excess revenue to work without another tax increase.

Shafer had a 264 million tax package enacted in 1967 to balance a 1.8 billion budget.

Tree seeds vary widely in size. It takes 300,000 hemlock seeds to make a pound, while certain tropical coconuts may weigh 40 pounds each.

A Transportation Vacuum?

Uneasiness on the part of area users of the Chester Bridge about its safety, and concern by the Ohio Department of Highways about its load - bearing capability have apparently been justified.

Corrosion of the cable anchorage, discovered by the consulting engineers, has brought a strict curtailment of traffic use of the span, a restriction which will apparently be in effect for some time.

Trucks and buses are barred as a result of the 5,00-pound limit, and only the lighter trucks can utilize the privately - owned Newell Bridge, due to the 10-ton limit on it.

District trucking firms report this poses a time - consuming and expensive operation for them. Freight to be delivered or picked up in Chester by a city concern for example, must be routed by way of the Shippingport Bridge at Midland.

THE 25-TON limit on the Route 68 span over Beaver Creek—violated repeatedly in the past by steel-carrying rigs—has been lifted, and a 36-ton limit is now in effect.

If an in-depth inspection of that bridge showed serious problems which would curb heavy traffic, East Liverpool could become a veritable vacuum for truck transportation, with major hauling firms forced to use Route 14 across the northern part of the county and ship via Steubenville.

It is too early for engineers to assess what repairs will be needed to make the Chester Bridge usable for truck traffic.

The engineers and the Ohio Highway Department indicate the bridge is safe for autos. The engineers are to be commended for spotting a problem and reporting it to the department; the department is to be commended for arranging an in-depth inspection of the span which was built in 1897 and has an uncomfortably similar structure as the Point Pleasant Bridge — a tragic symbol of neglect.

If the Chester Bridge were repaired by next week, however, it might be safe but it would not be adequate to the demands of traffic flow in 1980. It certainly will be less and less adequate as utilization of Routes 7 and 11 grows.

IF CONSTRUCTION began Thursday upon a new bridge in the East Liverpool, it would not help the sudden choke-off of trucking, a signficant job and revenue factor in the East Liverpool economy and its future development.

But what can be started in the very near future is brass tacks work on planning and engineering for a new bridge, and a top-level priority to get one built.

Safety for all traveling the river is of first importance. But a modern highway link for Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania at their common borders, tying Routes 30, 11 and 7 into the national net, is vital for this immediate area and for all three states.

Edginess In A Nuclear Age

The Greenland crash of a B-52 bomber marks the 13th time in 10 years a U.S. aircraft has been in an accident involving nuclear weapons.

The Defense Department is always prompt in its statement that there is no danger of a nuclear explosion because of built-in safety precautions. The public is informed in each case that the bombs are unarmed.

There is only one danger. It made its presence felt in January of 1966 when a bomber and a KC 135 tanker plane collided during a refueling maneuver and crashed off Palomares, Spain.

Three nuclear bombs fell on land near the coastal village, and one fell into the Mediterranean Sea. A pair of the bombs broke open and scattered plutonium and uranium.

It was finally ruled there was no danger to public health or safety. However, while the search continued for the bomb that fell into the sea, the U.S. government removed more than 1,000 tons of Spanish topsoil and vegetation and shipped it to an Atomic Energy Commission radioactive waste burial site in South Carolina.

The government said this action was taken to soothe the fears of Spaniards in the area.

The H-bomb ultimately was recovered from the Mediterranean April 7 and the incident was over officially. But in the hearts and minds of Palomares residents, the chapter isn't closed. Many suits still are pending against the U.S. government, despite $660,000 which has been paid so far on 530 claims.

Underneath all the surface chatter is the edginess that goes with living in a nuclear age when military might is the balancing factor in world balance.

People in America and around the world are haunted by statistics from 1945.

On Aug. 6, 1945, an atomic bomb destroyed 4.1 square miles of Hiroshima, Japan, and killed an estimated 200,000. Three days later, another bomb wiped out 73,000 citizens of Nagasaki, Japan.

Airborne B-52s loaded with unarmed nuclear bombs are a part of the defense network for the free world. But the Defense Department will never be able to dispel the nagging fear that a one-in-a-million mistake could occur.

New Secretary, Old Dilemma

Clark M. Clifford has no irreconcilable mental conflicts with President Johnson, who has designated him to be the next secretary of defense. This much goes without saying.

Mr. Clifford steps into the key position in the presidential cabinet soon to be vacated by Robert McNamara, who did have mental conflicts. That much never has been said, either — only hinted at. But it, too, goes without saying. Mr. McNamara was having dovish feelings.

The president of the United States is commander-in-chief of the armed forces. He is our No. 1 decision maker. He conducts foreign policy. No secretary of defense who differed with the chief executive would be able to stay on the job. He would have a choice between stepping out and being thrown out. Mr. McNamara stepped out.

The man who follows Secretary McNamara someday will have the same choice. Mr. Clifford has been around Washington long enough to know how it works. He has been around Lyndon Johnson long enough to know how he works, too.

The President takes very seriously his prerogative of executive leadership.

This is why his administration has landed on a sizzling hot spot in regard to a large-scale war in Vietnam that never was declared but is being waged by executive decision.

Mr. Johnson advocated such a war in 1961 when newly elected President Kennedy sent him to Southeast Asia to make recommendations on U.S. policy there. He had his chance to put his recommendations for escalation into effect after he won the presidency in 1964.

He led the nation into heavy involvement in Asia, though he had said in his presidential campaign he would not risk bogging down the United States in a place that might bring on war with the hordes of China.

His secretary of defense, who turned out to be a totally inept military prophet, thought the whole thing would be over in no time. It wasn't.

The new secretary of defense can have no such illusion. He has consented to put his reputation as a successful public figure on the firing line when the Johnson administration is on the defensive about its Asia crusade.

He is regarded in Washington as more hawkish than dovish, though he says he should not be classified. Fact is, classification is unimportant. President Johnson couldn't be expected to pick a dove for a hawk's job — and the President these days is all hawk.

The question is the hawkishness of the electorate and whether the Republican party will find a plausible candidate to oppose Lyndon Johnson in November.

Might Be Worth Trying

The Soviets, who have acquired a reputation for inferior workmanship in the manufacture of consumer products, apparently have done it again. This time it is TV sets.

Faced with their own brand of protestors — Russian citizens whose TV sets won't work — those involved in the manufacture and sale of the malfunctioning sets are blaming each other.

The sets are reported to have a staggering repair rate. They either "fail to play" from the time they are carried into the home, or they conk out after operating a short time.

Getting a defective set replaced is next to impossible and finding a repairman is extremely difficult, according to the newspaper of the Moscow Young Communist League.

Faulty parts and rushed sloppy workmanship are blamed by the newspaper on the "rotten hope of businessmen that anything will sell if there is a big demand for it."

The Communists decry the capitalistic system of free enterprise.

But if they were to substitute competition for government control in the manufacture and sale of their TV sets, maybe Igor Q. Public and his family wouldn't suffer the irritating frustration of owning a TV set that won't work and can't be repaired.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

"Three Killed And Ten Injured on Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Road."

This or similar headlines this year or perhaps next but predestined to happen as sure as the sun rises and sets will some day adorn the headlines of our fair paper, The Review.

This road is used heavily by Crucible Employes who happen to be among the safest in the industry to travel to and from work.

The local road service with speed and efficiency removes the snow and ice to the Pennsylvania line. Compliments on a job well done.

Unfortunately the Ohio portion of the road, being clean, can be traveled at a normal speed with excellent car control. Unfortunately, because this good surface seduces the driver into the trap that lies around the bend in the road that suddenly presents the death slide on the virgin ice and snow lying untouched on the Pennsylvania portion of the road.

We have elected officials, and it is expected of them within reason to be guardians of the public welfare.

Is it asking too much of these people to join together to take care of one short mile of important highway? Is their unconcern so profound they can permit this threat to life to go unattended?

When this tragic accident happens, those responsible for the roadway should bear the guilt. Must a picket line or strike, which they all seem to fear and respect, be used to get fast action? Damnation on all their houses!

'Hello? Hello!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Snare For Public Officials

NEW YORK — Until recently some of this state's prominent political personalities sat haunch, paunch and jowl alongside associates of Cosa Nostra characters now involved in a murderous scandal.

Victor Riesel

The politicians rushed to accept banquet invitations simply because the engraved cards were lettered with the magic words: "Labor's Non-Partisan League." These men, who will not be identified here simply because they went unwittingly and thus changed compromising several national leaders who are in the U.S. presidential race, should have checked out their hosts.

They'd have found that this particular Labor's Non-Partisan League of New York State, headquartered in a Long Island suburb, was a handy business nurtured by friends, patrons and proteges of the Three-Finger Brown Luchese Cosa Nostra establishment.

As usualy these days, the Cosa Nostra's business agent on this account were Johnny (Dio) Dioguardi and Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo. Each generation has its deadly names. Ducks and Dio are this season's gifts of the Mafia.

Had those political officials who were "honored" by sitting on the dais at recent banquets checked out the names on the "Labor's Nonpartisan League" stationery, they'd have seen the black hand of the crowd which sets up local unions and buys and sells them much as one does a corner drug store.

THIS BEING the political season, now is just the time for the politicos of all parties everywhere, and the leaders of legitimate labor nonpartisan leagues everywhere, to study this profile in craftiness.

On this labor league's letterhead was the name of Arthur Santa Maria. Tht federal records reveal that he was the secretary-treasurer and boss of something once called Local 227, UAW-AFL (not to be confused with the Detroit UAW).

During the Senate rackets probe at least one senator and the chief counsel put into the record their belief that Santa Maria was sponsored by Johnny Dio. At that tme this ex-convict (now facing another five-year federal pen term) was UAW-AFL regional director.

In typical, terse fashion, Sen. Mundt said, ". . .Arthur. . Santa Maria (was) brought into the labor movement by Johnny Dio."

Chief Council Robert Kennedy said: "Dio had this close relationship with Arthur Santa Maria. In fact, he placed him in business."

At least $22,000 disappeared from the Local 227 treasury. So did $50,000 vanish from another union led by Joseph Scalza, also a Labor's Non-Partisan League letterhead official. Scalza was convicted of embezzlement but that did not stop him after from trying to move in on unions in the bowling alley business, toy shops, and retail establishments. He also served as chairman of the league's House Committee.

Who then placed such men on the board, or whatever it really is, of this do-it-yourself political league with headquarters in the office of a project called Local 350, of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union?

Obviously it had to be the president of the non-partisan league, also president of the local, and until the other day president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers First District Council covering some of the industry in New York and New Jersey (not to be mistaken for the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers, AFL-CIO).

THIS MULTIPRESIDENT, "Danny" J. Motto, also owns a trotter racing stable, and a $57,500 mansion in fashionable Greenwich, Conn. It all has a musical comedy touch. He did it on a salary of $13,250 from Local 350, a union of less than 600 members with a dues take of some $55,000 annually.

How did "Danny" boy — who is now deep in the big city-shaking water department scandal — do it?

It all goes back to some 20 years ago, when this man, with a racket conviction behind him, decided he needed a respectable base. So he moved in on a tiny bakery local.

He picked up the frightened little fellows, the porters, the cleaners in pickle plants and potato chip factories, the box handlers who could not get into the skilled bakery craft unions. He even went after some Chinese food processors and dropped one "t" from his name so he could sound like Mr. Moto, a Chinese, on the phone to prospective members.

Thus he was able to pick up 575 members and get himself some credentials to the national conventions. With the help of his friends he threw his weight around.

Then they organized the labor league. Thev set it up in the now heavily investigated Local 350 offices. Obviously such an enterprise, which ran such banquets and endorsed such candidates, had to have less austere quarters. So last year they borrowed money, bought real estate and prepared to put up a building of their own.

At this point they found themselves involved in the big scandal. Mr. Motto was indicted on charges of "interstate conspiracy involving kickback in the New York City public water works contract."

One of the highest government racket-busting officials tells this correspondent that "the whole thing now is hotter than a pistol at high noon. We don't know where this crisscrossing scandal and investigation will lead."

Well, the least the citizenry can expect is that such "labor" operations and political leagues be x-rayed and exposed before they can go "legitimate" as a front for the mobs.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Clark Clifford

President Johnson, appointing Clark Clifford secretary of defense, didn't pick a specialist in military matters but a man with a type of mind capable of serving as a top counsellor in the Cabinet—someone he has known a long time.

Termination of Robert McNamara's duty as secretary of defense and selection of Mr. Clifford is far more significant than a mere chance in personalities.

There was much said originally in favor of the choice of Mr. McNamara as secretary of defense. He had been a top executive in Ford Motor Co. He was expected to give the huge department of the armed services the benefit of his talent — efficiency in organization. He was accustomed to handling large sums and determining the best way to get the most for the money on a business basis.

But this is not always feasible in government. In the Department of Defense, while the handling of large business contracts is an important part of the job, how can a secretary measure efficiency in evaluating the purpose of weapons or strategy when lives are at stake?

MANY A GENERAL or admiral might prefer to spend millions of dollars in preparedness that might seem to others to be wasteful. If there is a chance to cut down the potential list of casualties in a given operation or piece of strategy, this is considered more important for the future than economizing.

Clark Clifford is a lawyer. He understands the art of reconciling differences of opinion and making compromises, as happens in out-of-court settlements which are frequently as difficult to handle as cases in court.

Mr. Clifford is not the sort of official who will regard admirals or generals as mere champions of an unpopular philosophy. He will reflect their viewpoint to the President and express a layman's judgment as to what should be done, but Mr. Johnson will have to assess for himself the consequences of his decision.

Where Mr. McNamara made an error was in assuming, as too many people mistakingly do nowadays, that military men are obsessed with certain prejudices in favor of more and more battles and the escalation of a war such as is going on in Vietnam.

When given orders to repel aggression or to operate effectvely along with an allied force in fighting the enemy, the problem is not one of politics or penny-saving but of effectuating the military strategy most likely to attain the desired objective.

Again and again, military men have come up with big budgets deemed necessary for national defense. These have often been regarded as too large.

But back of the recommendations has always basically been the military concept of how to protect national security. The biggest cut which a defense budget ever experienced, for example, was one year before the Korean War broke out. It caught the United States unprepared, though warnings were plain. Communists had taken over the mainland of China two years earlier.

CIVILIANS,TO be sure, make the final decisions, but President Johnson now will have at his side a Cabinet secretary who will give the military chiefs every opportunity to present their case. This will be analyzed and put into perspective for the president.

Clark Clifford will be of great help in maintaining the proper relationship of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to the President of the United States. They have in recent years been brought to the White House only if the President asked to see them, or if one of their number ventured to take the initiative in requesting an audience.

This is an embarassing step to take with a strong-minded secretary of defense ready to assume someone is going over his head.

During World War II, the Joint Chiefs were at the White House nearly every day, and a top military man stayed there all the time as a liaison officer.

The business of saving human lives is a responsibility the commander-in-chief, himself, must recognize as requiring above all else that he keep a first-hand contact with the military chiefs. After all, they have spent a lifetime studying tactics and strategy and the best way to operate in wartime.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO -- Dr. John A. Murphy, Little Building physician, was named city health commissioner.

Lawrence Cline was nominated as Republican candidate for mayor of Chester in the March vote during a party caucus.

The Calcutta Union of the Women's Christian Temperance Union was organized at the Calcutta United Presbyterian Church, with Mrs. David A. Nelson president.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — LaVerge Stone of Mansfield was appointed music teacher for the Beaver Local School District.

Raymond N. Eyster was named chairman of the March of Dimes campaign in New Waterford and surrounding area.

TEN YEARS AGO — Mrs. Ed Massey, Mrs. Ray Sietz and Mrs. Sam Stepanovich were inducted as members of the East Liverpool Lady Elks.

Wellsville's fire loss during 1957 showed an increase of more than $7,000 over 1956.

Louis Sanford, long-time Liverpool Township trustee, resigned preparatory to leaving for Florida.

A Transportation Vacuum?

Uneasiness on the part of area users of the Chester Bridge about its safety, and concern by the Ohio Department of Highways about its load - bearing capability have apparently been justified.

Corrosion of the cable anchorage, discovered by the consulting engineers, has brought a strict curtailment of traffic use of the span, a restriction which will apparently be in effect for some time.

Trucks and buses are barred as a result of the 5,00-pound limit, and only the lighter trucks can utilize the privately - owned Newell Bridge, due to the 10-ton limit on it.

District trucking firms report this poses a time - consuming and expensive operation for them. Freight to be delivered or picked up in Chester by a city concern for example, must be routed by way of the Shippingport Bridge at Midland.

THE 25-TON limit on the Route 68 span over Beaver Creek—violated repeatedly in the past by steel-carrying rigs—has been lifted, and a 36-ton limit is now in effect.

If an in-depth inspection of that bridge showed serious problems which would curb heavy traffic, East Liverpool could become a veritable vacuum for truck transportation, with major hauling firms forced to use Route 14 across the northern part of the county and ship via Steubenville.

It is too early for engineers to assess what repairs will be needed to make the Chester Bridge usable for truck traffic.

The engineers and the Ohio Highway Department indicate the bridge is safe for autos. The engineers are to be commended for spotting a problem and reporting it to the department; the department is to be commended for arranging an in-depth inspection of the span which was built in 1897 and has an uncomfortably similar structure as the Point Pleasant Bridge — a tragic symbol of neglect.

If the Chester Bridge were repaired by next week, however, it might be safe but it would not be adequate to the demands of traffic flow in 1968. It certainly will be less and less adequate as utilization of Routes 7 and 11 grows.

IF CONSTRUCTION began Thursday upon a new bridge in the East Liverpool, it would not help the sudden choke-off of trucking, a signficant job and revenue factor in the East Liverpool economy and its future development.

But what can be started in the very near future is brass tacks work on planning and engineering for a new bridge, and a top-level priority to get one built.

Safety for all traveling the river is of first importance. But a modern highway link for Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania at their common borders, tying Routes 30, 11 and 7 into the national net, is vital for this immediate area and for all three states.

Edginess In A Nuclear Age

The Greenland crash of a B-52 bomber marks the 13th time in 10 years a U.S. aircraft has been in an accident involving nuclear weapons.

The Defense Department is always prompt in its statement that there is no danger of a nuclear explosion because of built-in safety precautions. The public is informed in each case that the bombs are unarmed.

There is only one danger. It made its presence felt in January of 1966 when a bomber and a KC 135 tanker plane collided during a refueling maneuver and crashed off Palomares, Spain.

Three nuclear bombs fell on land near the coastal village, and one fell into the Mediterranean Sea. A pair of the bombs broke open and scattered plutonium and uranium.

It was finally ruled there was no danger to public health or safety. However, while the search continued for the bomb that fell into the sea, the U.S. government removed more than 1,000 tons of Spanish topsoil and vegetation and shipped it to an Atomic Energy Commission radioactive waste burial site in South Carolina.

The government said this action was taken to soothe the fears of Spaniards in the area.

The H-bomb ultimately was recovered from the Mediterranean April 7 and the incident was over officially. But in the hearts and minds of Palomares residents, the chapter isn't closed. Many suits still are pending against the U.S. government, despite $660,000 which has been paid so far on 520 claims.

Underneath all the surface chatter is the edginess that goes with living in a nuclear age when military might is the balancing factor in world balance.

People in America and around the world are haunted by statistics from 1945.

On Aug. 6, 1945, an atomic bomb destroyed 4.1 square miles of Hiroshima, Japan, and killed an estimated 200,000. Three days later, another bomb wiped out 73,000 citizens of Nagasaki, Japan.

Airborne B-52s loaded with unarmed nuclear bombs are a part of the defense network for the free world. But the Defense Department will never be able to dispel the nagging fear that a one-in-a-million mistake could occur.

New Secretary, Old Dilemma

Clark M. Clifford has no irreconcilable mental conflicts with President Johnson, who has designated him to be the next secretary of defense. This much goes without saying.

Mr. Clifford steps into the key position in the presidential cabinet soon to be vacated by Robert McNamara, who did have mental conflicts. That much never has been said, either — only hinted at. But it, too, goes without saying. Mr. McNamara was having dovish feelings.

The president of the United States is commander-in-chief of the armed forces. He is our No. 1 decision maker. He conducts foreign policy. No secretary of defense who differed with the chief executive would be able to stay on the job. He would have a choice between stepping out and being thrown out. Mr. McNamara stepped out.

The man who follows Secretary McNamara someday will have the same choice. Mr. Clifford has been around Washington long enough to know how it works. He has been around Lyndon Johnson long enough to know how he works, too.

The President takes very seriously his prerogative of executive leadership.

This is why his administration has landed on a sizzling hot spot in regard to a large-scale war in Vietnam that never was declared but is being waged by executive decision.

Mr. Johnson advocated such a war in 1961 when newly elected President Kennedy sent him to Southeast Asia to make recommendations on U.S. policy there. He had his chance to put his recommendations for escalation into effect after he won the presidency in 1964.

He led the nation into heavy involvement in Asia, though he had said in his presidential campaign he would not risk bogging down the United States in a place that might bring on war with the hordes of China.

His secretary of defense, who turned out to be a totally inept military prophet, thought the whole thing would be over in no time. It wasn't.

The new secretary of defense can have no such illusion. He has consented to put his reputation as a successful public figure on the firing line when the Johnson administration is on the defensive about its Asia crusade.

He is regarded in Washington as more hawkish than dovish, though he says he should not be classified. Fact is, classification is unimportant. President Johnson couldn't be expected to pick a dove for a hawk's job — and the President these days is all hawk.

The question is the hawkishness of the electorate and whether the Republican party will find a plausible candidate to oppose Lyndon Johnson in November.

Might Be Worth Trying

The Soviets, who have acquired a reputation for inferior workmanship in the manufacture of consumer products, apparently have done it again. This time it is TV sets.

Faced with their own brand of protestors — Russian citizens whose TV sets won't work — those involved in the manufacture and sale of the malfunctioning sets are blaming each other.

The sets are reported to have a staggering repair rate. They either "fail to play" from the time they are carried into the home, or they conk out after operating a short time.

Getting a defective set replaced is next to impossible and finding a repairman is extremely difficult, according to the newspaper of the Moscow Young Communist League.

Faulty parts and rushed sloppy workmanship are blamed by the newspaper on the "rotten hope of businessmen that anything will sell if there is a big demand for it."

The Communists decry the capitalistic system of free enterprise.

But if they were to substitute competition for government control in the manufacture and sale of their TV sets, maybe Igor Q. Public and his family wouldn't suffer the irritating frustration of owning a TV set that won't work and can't be repaired.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REVIEW:

"Three Killed And Ten Injured on Calcutta-Smiths Ferry Road."

This or similar headlines this year or perhaps next but predestined to happen as sure as the sun rises and sets will some day adorn the headlines of our fair paper, The Review.

This road is used heavily by Crucible Employes who happen to be among the safest in the industry to travel to and from work.

The local road service with speed and efficiency removes the snow and ice to the Pennsylvania line. Compliments on a job well done.

Unfortunately the Ohio portion of the road, being clean, can be traveled at a normal speed with excellent car control. Unfortunately, because this good surface seduces the driver into the trap that lies around the bend in the road that suddenly presents the death slide on the virgin ice and snow lying untouched on the Pennsylvania portion of the road.

We have elected officials, and it is expected of them within reason to be guardians of the public welfare.

Is it asking too much of these people to join together to take care of one short mile of important highway? Is their unconcern so profound they can permit this threat to life to go unattended?

When this tragic accident happens, those responsible for the roadway should bear the guilt. Must a picket line or strike, which they all seem to fear and respect, be used to get fast action? Damnation on all their houses!

'Hello? Hello!'

VICTOR RIESEL

Snare For Public Officials

NEW YORK — Until recently some of this state's prominent political personalities sat haunch, paunch and jowl alongside associates of Cosa Nostra characters now involved in a murderous scandal.

Victor Riesel

The politicians rushed to accept banquet invitations simply because the engraved cards were lettered with the magic words: "Labor's Non-Partisan League." These men, who will not be identified here simply because they went unwittingly and thus changed compromising several national leaders who are in the U.S. presidential race, should have checked out their hosts.

They'd have found that this particular Labor's Non-Partisan League of New York State, headquartered in a Long Island suburb, was a handy business nurtured by friends, patrons and proteges of the Three-Finger Brown Luchese Cosa Nostra establishment.

As usualy these days, the Cosa Nostra's business agent on this account were Johnny (Dio) Dioguardi and Anthony (Tony Ducks) Corallo. Each generation has its deadly names. Ducks and Dio are this season's gifts of the Mafia.

Had those political officials who were "honored" by sitting on the dais at recent banquets checked out the names on the "Labor's Nonpartisan League" stationery, they'd have seen the black hand of the crowd which sets up local unions and buys and sells them much as one does a corner drug store.

THIS BEING the political season, now is just the time for the politicos of all parties everywhere, and the leaders of legitimate labor nonpartisan leagues everywhere, to study this profile in craftiness.

On this labor league's letterhead was the name of Arthur Santa Maria. Tht federal records reveal that he was the secretary-treasurer and boss of something once called Local 227, UAW-AFL (not to be confused with the Detroit UAW).

During the Senate rackets probe at least one senator and the chief counsel put into the record their belief that Santa Maria was sponsored by Johnny Dio. At that tme this ex-convict (now facing another five-year federal pen term) was UAW-AFL regional director.

In typical, terse fashion, Sen. Mundt said, ". . .Arthur. . Santa Maria (was) brought into the labor movement by Johnny Dio."

Chief Council Robert Kennedy said: "Dio had this close relationship with Arthur Santa Maria. In fact, he placed him in business."

At least $22,000 disappeared from the Local 227 treasury. So did $50,000 vanish from another union led by Joseph Scalza, also a Labor's Non-Partisan League letterhead official. Scalza was convicted of embezzlement but that did not stop him after from trying to move in on unions in the bowling alley business, toy shops, and retail establishments. He also served as chairman of the league's House Committee.

Who then placed such men on the board, or whatever it really is, of this do-it-yourself political league with headquarters in the office of a project called Local 350, of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' International Union?

Obviously it had to be the president of the non-partisan league, also president of the local, and until the other day president of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers First District Council covering some of the industry in New York and New Jersey (not to be mistaken for the American Bakery and Confectionery Workers, AFL-CIO).

THIS MULTIPRESIDENT, "Danny" J. Motto, also owns a trotter racing stable, and a $57,500 mansion in fashionable Greenwich, Conn. It all has a musical comedy touch. He did it on a salary of $13,250 from Local 350, a union of less than 600 members with a dues take of some $55,000 annually.

How did "Danny" boy — who is now deep in the big city-shaking water department scandal — do it?

It all goes back to some 20 years ago, when this man, with a racket conviction behind him, decided he needed a respectable base. So he moved in on a tiny bakery local.

He picked up the frightened little fellows, the porters, the cleaners in pickle plants and potato chip factories, the box handlers who could not get into the skilled bakery craft unions. He even went after some Chinese food processors and dropped one "t" from his name so he could sound like Mr. Moto, a Chinese, on the phone to prospective members.

Thus he was able to pick up 575 members and get himself some credentials to the national conventions. With the help of his friends he threw his weight around.

Then they organized the labor league. Thev set it up in the now heavily investigated Local 350 offices. Obviously such an enterprise, which ran such banquets and endorsed such candidates, had to have less austere quarters. So last year they borrowed money, bought real estate and prepared to put up a building of their own.

At this point they found themselves involved in the big scandal. Mr. Motto was indicted on charges of "interstate conspiracy involving kickback in the New York City public water works contract."

One of the highest government racket-busting officials tells this correspondent that "the whole thing now is hotter than a pistol at high noon. We don't know where this crisscrossing scandal and investigation will lead."

Well, the least the citizenry can expect is that such "labor" operations and political leagues be x-rayed and exposed before they can go "legitimate" as a front for the mobs.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Clark Clifford

President Johnson, appointing Clark Clifford secretary of defense, didn't pick a specialist in military matters but a man with a type of mind capable of serving as a top counsellor in the Cabinet—someone he has known a long time.

Termination of Robert McNamara's duty as secretary of defense and selection of Mr. Clifford is far more significant than a mere chance in personalities.

There was much said originally in favor of the choice of Mr. McNamara as secretary of defense. He had been a top executive in Ford Motor Co. He was expected to give the huge department of the armed services the benefit of his talent — efficiency in organization. He was accustomed to handling large sums and determining the best way to get the most for the money on a business basis.

But this is not always feasible in government. In the Department of Defense, while the handling of large business contracts is an important part of the job, how can a secretary measure efficiency in evaluating the purpose of weapons or strategy when lives are at stake?

MANY A GENERAL or admiral might prefer to spend millions of dollars in preparedness that might seem to others to be wasteful. If there is a chance to cut down the potential list of casualties in a given operation or piece of strategy, this is considered more important for the future than economizing.

Clark Clifford is a lawyer. He understands the art of reconciling differences of opinion and making compromises, as happens in out-of-court settlements which are frequently as difficult to handle as cases in court.

Mr. Clifford is not the sort of official who will regard admirals or generals as mere champions of an unpopular philosophy. He will reflect their viewpoint to the President and express a layman's judgment as to what should be done, but Mr. Johnson will have to assess for himself the consequences of his decision.

Where Mr. McNamara made an error was in assuming, as too many people mistakingly do nowadays, that military men are obsessed with certain prejudices in favor of more and more battles and the escalation of a war such as is going on in Vietnam.

When given orders to repel aggression or to operate effectvely along with an allied force in fighting the enemy, the problem is not one of politics or penny-saving but of effectuating the military strategy most likely to attain the desired objective.

Again and again, military men have come up with big budgets deemed necessary for national defense. These have often been regarded as too large.

But back of the recommendations has always basically been the military concept of how to protect national security. The biggest cut which a defense budget ever experienced, for example, was one year before the Korean War broke out. It caught the United States unprepared, though warnings were plain. Communists had taken over the mainland of China two years earlier.

CIVILIANS,TO be sure, make the final decisions, but President Johnson now will have at his side a Cabinet secretary who will give the military chiefs every opportunity to present their case. This will be analyzed and put into perspective for the president.

'Small Amount Of Radioactivity'

Burn Marks Discovered At Bomber Crash Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force survey team near Thule, Greenland, reports discovering burn marks, blast fragments and a "negligible amount of radioactivity" where a B52 bomber carrying four hydrogen bombs burned and crashed.

The plane crashed Sunday on thick ice covering North Star Bay near Thule Air Force Base and the bombs have not been recovered.

The Americans on the survey team, their Eskimo dogsled drivers and a Danish guide were exposed to a "limited amount of low-level radioactivity" during their two-hour inspection of the site Monday, the Pentagon said in a statement issued early today.

All of the persons "followed normal decontamination procedurcs with no resulting problem" on their return to the air base, the Pentagon said.

Radiation at the site was "light, fixed and closely confined" and occurred in an area roughly duplicating burn marks, apparently caused by flaming fuel rrom the stricken bomber, the Air Force team reported.

The flame-scorched area and small fragments of the plane found there indicate the B52 may have exploded on impact with the seven-foot thick ice covering the bay, the team reported.

The Pentagon said it was not determined whether the plane or any part of it burned into or through the ice and sank in about 800 feet of water.

None of the parts located, the Pentagon said, "were identified as nuclear weapons or parts of nuclear weapons."

It said the apparent fuel-burn area extends south from the impact point and covers an area about 50 by 500 yards. The radiation was found southwest of the impact point in an area 75 by 600 yards.

The results of the initial survey indicate the plane was headed due south, attmepting to make an emergency landing at the Thule base seven miles away, when it crashed, the Air Force said.

The Pentagon said another team went into the area Tuesday. It did not immediately report its findings.

A team of Danish nuclear scientists was on its way to the crash site and wil lbe joined by a similar task force of American nuclear physicists, the Pentagon said. Before the radiation leak was discovered Denmark said its scientists had been instructed to determine whether the four hydrogen bombs posed a hazard to Greenland's sparse population. Greenland is a Danish possession.

The survey team was hampered in its search by polar darkness, huge snowdrifts, biting winds and temperatures as low as 27 degrees below zero.

Pentagon spokesmen have said it is not possible for the bombs to detonate.

Military sources said the Navy has not been asked to attempt recovery of the bombs pending the complete report of the investigating team.

Personalities In The News

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower presented heroism medals Tuesday to two high school students who rescued a service station attendant being beaten by robbers.

Eisenhower acted in behalf of the Palm Desert Optimist Club in making the presentation at his office to Paul Zinn and Gary Schaffer, both 17, of Indio High School.

"Nothing is as important today as law and order," the general said.

The students were driving by when they saw the four men attack the service station attendant, Raymond L. Ramirez. They drove off three of the assailants and held the fourth for police. The others subsequently were arrested. All four are serving robbery sentences.

Underground Hotel Will Beat The Heat

SYDNEY (AP) — A 15-bedroom hotel, 26 feet underground, is planned for Coober Pedy, the scorched opal - mining center in Central Australia.

The hotel will have a reception desk, dining room and the rest, and will be air-conditioned. The walls are planned in their natural state — white and red sandstone.

Coober Pedy, with an average summer temperature between 95 and 100 degrees, is so hot that most of the people live underground. The Roman Catholic Church of St. Peter and St. Paul is built into a hillside.

Britain Hits Seizure Of U.S. Vessel

LONDON (AP) — The British government today officially deplored North Korea's seizure of the U.S. ship Pueblo and expressed conviction the vessel was in international waters when she was boarded.

Officials also said Britain still regards as valid its commitment to help defend South Korea against unprovoked aggression.

In the first public reaction in the Soviet Union, the news agency Tass accused the United States of a provocation. It made no mention of a State Department statement that the United States had asked the Soviet Union to relay an appeal to North Korea to release the Pueblo.

Britain's reaction was voiced by a Foreign Office spokesman who said he was speaking on the authority of Foreign Secretary George Brown.

"We deplore the seizure of the vessel, which was in international waters," the spokesman said.

Officials said the U.S. government had made available full details of the position of the Pueblo at the time of interception.

They added the British government was convinced on the basis of American and other information—which they did not specify—that the vessel was in fact on the high seas when she was boarded by the North Koreans.

Lease Signed On Drugstore

A New Cumberland real estate developer has announced the signing of a lease with a Chester pharmacist for a new building at Newell.

Matthew Phillips, president of Edco Inc., said a lease has been signed with Clifford Comm of Hersche's Pharmacy to operate the store in Newell, where Phillips is completing a new office building near the intersection of 6th and Washington Sts. The site is the former home of the Edwin M. Knowles family. The family's homestead has been developed into apartments.

Comm currently operates the Hersche firm in Chester and New Cumberland and recently took over the Carnahan Pharmacy in Newell. It is Carnahan's operation which he will move into new facilities about March 1.

Philips currently is in the process of negotiating leases for the other spaces in the building. One unit still under construction houses approximately 3,500 square feet of floor space, while the three rental units in the new pharmacy building have an additional 1,500 square feet.

Chester Home Hit By Flames

The living room of a Chester home was damaged by fire this morning and smoke filled the remainder of the house.

Firemen were called about 9:10 to the residence of Virgil Sprout of 151 Montana Ave. after flames erupted in an overstuffed chair in the living room of the two-story frame dwelling.

Two chairs were damaged and one wall was charred before the blaze was brought under control.

There was extensive smoke damage throughout, firemen said. No estimate of the damage has been made as yet.

Two trucks and 10 men answered the call and were on the scene about 35 minutes. Sprout's daughter and her children were home at the time of the fire, but there were no injuries.

Congress

have war worries enough on our hands without looking for another one."

Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, John Sherman Cooper, D-Ohio, said more details of the incident are needed to judge its significance.

Although any formal congressional investigation is likely to await further details about the incident, the biggest question in the minds of Congress members appeared to be: Why didn't the Pueblo have protection in an area where U.S. military power is great?

Some said they felt the Communists were carrying out a propaganda exercise in an attempt to belittle American military strength. They thought the vessel might be released, along with her 83-member crew, after the Communists had exhausted all possible efforts to humiliate the United States.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he asked the Pentagon for details on why the ship, "did not undertake to defend itself in the two or three hours of the incident or call for air support."

The Pentagon said later the Pueblo didn't call for help until she was being boarded by North Korean sailors.

The ship, equipped with two machine guns, reported she had not used any weapons before becoming the first American naval vessel captured at sea since the Civil war. Some crew members reportedly were wounded.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said intelligence-gathering activities of the type in which the Pueblo was engaged "certainly expose us to incidents of this kind."

The mission of such a ship is to listen in on radio messages and to detect radar positions.

Bids Are Opened

BEAVER — Bids on the proposed 75 units of the Gordon Camp Apartments at Rochester were opened Tuesday by the Beaver County Housing Authority and found to be 7.2 per cent higher than the estimated cost. The total low bids on the low-cost housing project was $1,177,312.

County Plumbing Inspector Will Join In State Seminar

LISBON — Eugene Cover of Homeworth, plumbing inspector for the Columbiana County Health Department, will attend a state plumbing seminar Feb. 5-7 at Ohio State University.

The Board of Health authorized his attendance during its monthly meeting Monday night at the Courthouse. Cooperating in the training program are the state Health Department, state Department of Education, the vocational trade and industrial services and OSU.

Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian, received permission to subscribe to a journal dealing with solid wastes management. Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, said solid waste disposal has become a problem in all areas and the state Health Department is making a concerted effort this year to improve disposal methods.

The board discussed sewage problems in Russell Heights near Wellsville, residential areas of Calcutta and Glenmoor and at the Ivy Stone farms allotment in Knox Township.

Dr. Singer said this department has the full cooperation of the state in correcting these problems. He said three state men and representatives of the county health office met recently with the county commissioners to discuss the situations in these areas.

Dale Wellington, sanitarian, informed the board that state health personnel have inspected and approved the county's food service, vending machines, milk and school programs.

The Health Department issued 44 plumbing permits and 20 sewage permits last month.

Nine immunizations were given in the medical division and four cases of venereal disease, three of rheumatic fever and one of scarlet fever were reported. Dr. Singer held 22 consultations.

Man Injured In Accident

A Darlington area man is "fairly good" at City Hospital with injuries suffered in an auto accident shortly before noon Tuesday in Ohioville.

Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said James L. Meighen of Salem Church Rd., Darlington RD 1, was headed west on the Tuscarawas Rd. — Route 278 — when he attempted to make a left turn onto Route 168.

The 1956 sedan skidded on ice and ashes, struck the guardrail and was demolished.

Meighen first believed he was not injured, but later was admitted to the hospital with a possible concussion.

2 American GIs Freed

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. officials announced today that the Viet Cong had released two American servicemen who had been taken prisoner in South Vietnam.

A spokesman identified the two released captives as Marine Cpl. Jose Agosto Santos and Army Pfc. Luis Ortiz-Rivera. The spokesman said Agosto Santos had been held by the Viet Cong since May 14, 1967, and Ortiz-Rivera had been a captive since Dec. 21, 1966.

'Small Amount Of Radioactivity'

Burn Marks Discovered At Bomber Crash Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Air Force survey team near Thule, Greenland, reports discovering burn marks, blast fragments and a "negligible amount of radioactivity" where a B52 bomber carrying four hydrogen bombs burned and crashed.

The plane crashed Sunday on thick ice covering North Star Bay near Thule Air Force Base and the bombs have not been recovered.

The Americans on the survey team, their Eskimo dogsled drivers and a Danish guide were exposed to a "limited amount of low-level radioactivity" during their two-hour inspection of the site Monday, the Pentagon said in a statement issued early today.

All of the persons "followed normal decontamination procedures with no resulting problem" on their return to the air base, the Pentagon said.

Radiation at the site was "light, fixed and closely confined" and occurred in an area roughly duplicating burn marks, apparently caused by flaming fuel from the stricken bomber, the Air Force team reported.

The flame-scorched area and small fragments of the plane found there indicate the B52 may have exploded on impact with the seven-foot thick ice covering the bay, the team reported.

The Pentagon said it was not determined whether the plane or any part of it burned into or through the ice and sank in about 800 feet of water.

None of the parts located, the Pentagon said, "were identified as nuclear weapons or parts of nuclear weapons."

It said the apparent fuel-burn area extends south from the impact point and covers an area about 50 by 500 yards. The radiation was found southwest of the impact point in an area 75 by 600 yards.

The results of the initial survey indicate the plane was headed due south, attmepting to make an emergency landing at the Thule base seven miles away, when it crashed, the Air Force said.

The Pentagon said another team went into the area Tuesday. It did not immediately report its findings.

A team of Danish nuclear scientists was on its way to the crash site and wil lbe joined by a similar task force of American nuclear physicists, the Pentagon said. Before the radiation leak was discovered Denmark said its scientists had been instructed to determine whether the four hydrogen bombs posed a hazard to Greenland's sparse population. Greenland is a Danish possession.

The survey team was hampered in its search by polar darkness, huge snowdrifts, biting winds and temperatures as low as 27 degrees below zero.

Pentagon spokesmen have said it is not possible for the bombs to detonate.

Military sources said the Navy has not been asked to attempt recovery of the bombs pending the complete report of the investigating team.

Personalities In The News

INDIO, Calif. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower presented heroism medals Tuesday to two high school students who rescued a service station attendant being beaten by robbers.

Eisenhower acted in behalf of the Palm Desert Optimist Club in making the presentation at his office to Paul Zinn and Gary Schaffer, both 17, of Indio High School.

"Nothing is as important today as law and order," the general said.

The students were driving by when they saw the four men attack the service station attendant, Raymond L. Ramirez. They drove off three of the assailants and held the fourth for police. The others subsequently were arrested. All four are serving robbery sentences.

Underground Hotel Will Beat The Heat

SYDNEY (AP) — A 15-bedroom hotel, 28 feet underground, is planned for Coober Pedy, the scorched opal - mining center in Central Australia.

The hotel will have a reception desk, dining room and the rest, and will be air-conditioned. The walls are planned in their natural state — white and red sandstone.

Coober Pedy, with an average summer temperature between 95 and 100 degrees, is so hot that most of the people live underground. The Roman Catholic Church of St. Peter and St. Paul is built into a hillside.

Britain Hits Seizure Of U.S. Vessel

LONDON (AP) — The British government today officially deplored North Korea's seizure of the U.S. ship Pueblo and expressed conviction the vessel was in international waters when she was boarded.

Officials also said Britain still regards as valid its commitment to help defend South Korea against unprovoked aggression.

In the first public reaction in the Soviet Union, the news agency Tass accused the United States of a provocation. It made no mention of a State Department statement that the United States had asked the Soviet Union to relay an appeal to North Korea to release the Pueblo.

Britain's reaction was voiced by a Foreign Office spokesman who said he was speaking on the authority of Foreign Secretary George Brown.

"We deplore the seizure of the vessel, which was in international waters," the spokesman said.

Officials said the U.S. government had made available full details of the position of the Pueblo at the time of interception.

They added the British government was convinced on the basis of American and other information—which they did not specify—that the vessel was in fact on the high seas when she was boarded by the North Koreans.

Lease Signed On Drugstore

A New Cumberland real estate developer has announced the signing of a lease with a Chester pharmacist for a new building at Newell.

Matthew Phillips, president of Edco Inc., said a lease has been signed with Clifford Comm of Hersche's Pharmacy to operate the store in Newell, where Phillips is completing a new office building near the intersection of 6th and Washington Sts. The site is the former home of the Edwin M. Knowles family. The family's homestead has been developed into apartments.

Comm currently operates the Hersche firm in Chester and New Cumberland and recently took over the Carnahan Pharmacy in Newell. It is Carnahan's operation which he will move into new facilities about March 1.

Phillips currently is in the process of negotiating leases for the other spaces in the building. One unit still under construction houses approximately 3,500 square feet of floor space, while the three rental units in the new pharmacy building have an additional 1,500 square feet.

Chester Home Hit By Flames

The living room of a Chester home was damaged by fire this morning and smoke filled the remainder of the house.

Firemen were called about 9:10 to the residence of Virgil Sprout of 151 Montana Ave. after flames erupted in an overstuffed chair in the living room of the two-story frame dwelling.

Two chairs were damaged and one wall was charred before the blaze was brought under control.

There was extensive smoke damage throughout, firemen said. No estimate of the damage has been made as yet.

Two trucks and 10 men answered the call and were on the scene about 35 minutes. Sprout's daughter and her children were home at the time of the fire, but there were no injuries.

have war worries enough on our hands without looking for another one."

Sens. Bourke B. Hickenlooper, R-Iowa, John Sherman Cooper, D-Ohio, said more details of the incident are needed to judge its significance.

Although any formal congressional investigation is likely to await further details about the incident, the biggest question in the minds of Congress members appeared to be: Why didn't the Pueblo have protection in an area where U.S. military power is great?

Some said they felt the Communists were carrying out a propaganda exercise in an attempt to belittle American military strength. They thought the vessel might be released, along with her 83-member crew, after the Communists had exhausted all possible efforts to humiliate the United States.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., of the Senate Armed Services Committee said he asked the Pentagon for details on why the ship, "did not undertake to defend itself in the two or three hours of the incident or call for air support."

The Pentagon said later the Pueblo didn't call for help until she was being boarded by North Korean sailors.

The ship, equipped with two machine guns, reported she had not used any weapons before becoming the first American naval vessel captured at sea since the Civil war. Some crew members reportedly were wounded.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said intelligence-gathering activities of the type in which the Pueblo was engaged "certainly expose us to incidents of this kind."

The mission of such a ship is to listen in on radio messages and to detect radar positions.

Bids Are Opened

BEAVER — Bids on the proposed 75 units of the Gordon Camp Apartments at Rochester were opened Tuesday by the Beaver County Housing Authority and found to be 7.2 per cent higher than the estimated cost. The total low bids on the low-cost housing project was $1,177,312.

County Plumbing Inspector Will Join In State Seminar

LISBON — Eugene Cover of Homeworth, plumbing inspector for the Columbiana County Health Department, will attend a state plumbing seminar Feb. 5-7 at Ohio State University.

The Board of Health authorized his attendance during its monthly meeting Monday night at the Courthouse. Cooperating in the training program are the state Health Department, state Department of Education, the vocational trade and industrial services and OSU.

Harry Stockdale, county sanitarian, received permission to subscribe to a journal dealing with solid wastes management. Dr. M. K. Singer, county health commissioner, said solid waste disposal has become a problem in all areas and the state Health Department is making a concerted effort this year to improve disposal methods.

The board discussed sewage problems in Russell Heights near Wellsville, residential areas of Calcutta and Glenmoor and at the Ivy Stone farms allotment in Knox Township.

Answer State Of Union Message

Republicans Rap LBJ's Domestic, War Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans charge that gradualism and vacillation by President Johnson have prolonged the Vietnam war. On the home front, the GOP says administration policies have failed to combat mounting crime and inflation.

In their answer to President Johnson's State of the Union message, the Republicans called for "military success" in the war based on "effective utilization" of U.S. air and sea power.

And Republicans criticized "complacency, disunity and protest here at home" while warning the nation is losing the strategic superiority they claimed was built under Republican leadership during the 1960s.

The GOP spokesmen also renewed calls for reductions in federal spending and a transfer of programs from the national government to states and localities.

The Republican reply, featuring nine House members and eight senators, was carried live Tuesday night on the CBS radio-television networks.

Republican governors, numbering 26 of the nation's 50, were not included in the presentation, which was introduced by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and had Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., as master of ceremonies.

An audience of Republican congressmen and senators in the auditorium of a Senate office building clapped enthusiastically before and after each speech, interrupting more than 50 times with applause.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has given firm backing to President Johnson's Vietnam policies in previous years, was absent because of illness. Sen. John G. Tower carried the GOP banner on the war issue.

The Texas Republican accused the Johnson administration of following what he termed "a self-defeating policy of gradualism" which he said "caused us to pull our punches; it prolonged the fighting; it cost American lives unnecessarily.

"This war could be over today if the Johnson Administration had acted with determination instead of with vacillation," he said.

Tower said Republicans stand for "military success in Vietnam that will enable the Vietnamese to rebuild a free nation," for "effective utilization of America's vast air and sea superiority" and for "quarantine of the enemy's supply lines so that he can no longer fight."

Rep. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., charged: "This administration has developed a strange new doctrine—that Soviet strategic equality is better than American supremacy."

Rep. Charlotte T. Reid, R-Ill., one of whose two sons left for Vietnam last week, said she believes that "not only all parents, but all thinking Americans, are as deeply distressed as I am by complacency, disunity and protest here at home."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford cited President Johnson's figure of speech comparing the nation with a ship heading through troubled waters and said, "The ship of state is wallowing in a storm-tossed sea, drifting toward the rocks of domestic disaster beaten by the waves of worldwide fiscal crisis that threaten shipwreck."

"We need a captain who inspires his crew to heroic endeavor," Ford said, "a captain who learned his seamanship beyond the Potomac and Pedernales."

Ford said Americans have seen "raging violence, bloodshed destruction and death right on their own doorsteps" and Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., commented that "the cities are boiling with frustration."

Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., attacked what he called administration failures to combat crime.

"Murder is epidemic," he said. "Rape is commonplace—burglary happens so often it is no longer news."

Despite warnings by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover and local law enforcement officers, Poff said, "the Johnson administration has failed to take effective action."

He called for restoration of "peace and tranquillity guaranteed by the Constitution" and said "the American people want the 'enforcement' put back into law enforcement."

None of the GOP speakers presented proposals in the civil rights field, although Murphy mentioned the matter at one point and said Sen. Edward R. Brooke, R-Mass. only Negro member of the Senate, would have talked on the subject had he not been touring Africa.

In line with the GOP plan of emphasizing some of their new faces, the principal argument on spending and taxes came from Texas freshman Rep. George Bush, member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

He renewed GOP arguments that a federal spending cut is necessary before President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge plan can be considered.

"If the President wants to control inflation," Bush said, "he's got to cut back on federal spending."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, called for a return of a portion of federal tax revenues to the states without strings.

In other speeches touching on domestic issues, Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., said Americans want "the President to stop wasting money and make it worth something again"; Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said "this nation requires a realistic housing program, not more false promises" and Rep. Robert B. Mathias, R-Calif., said that "every time the Johnson administration comes up with a new farm program, the farmers pay more and get less."

Take Everyone, Hershey Says Of Draft Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A solution to the military draft problem?

"Take everybody," says Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system.

He explained he was in favor of "universal military training," and said this would be a more equitable induction system than the one now in use.

But, Hershey added, "I don't think the Congress has ever been interested in universal military training."

The 70-year-old Columbus native made his comments at a news conference here before speaking Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the Central Ohio chapter of the Association of the United States Army.

Pakistan is unique in that it is divided into two parts more than 900 miles apart.

Newell Resident Injured At Home

A Newell man hurt on a machine at home Tuesday was admitted to City Hospital, where three others were treated.

Harold Peters of 117 Grant St. is "fairly good" with lacerations of the fingers suffered on a machine in his workshop.

Treated were Charles McKinnon, son of Robert McKinnon of 153 Pennsylvania Ave., a laceration of the right hand while dismantling a drum; Robert Edward Monroe Jr., son of Robert E. Monroe of 331 Bentley Ave., Newell, a laceration of the right knee while sledding.

Kenneth Stull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stull of 457 1st Ave., scalds of the right arm, shoulder and chest from water at home.

The cornerstone of the White House, in Washington, D. C., was laid Oct. 13, 1792, and the first residents were President and Mrs. John Adams, in November 1800.

Answer State Of Union Message

Republicans Rap LBJ's Domestic, War Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional Republicans charge that gradualism and vacillation by President Johnson have prolonged the Vietnam war. On the home front, the GOP says administration policies have failed to combat mounting crime and inflation.

In their answer to President Johnson's State of the Union message, the Republicans called for "military success" in the war based on "effective utilization" of U.S. air and sea power.

And Republicans criticized "complacency, disunity and protest here at home" while warning the nation is losing the strategic superiority they claimed was built under Republican leadership during the 1950s.

The GOP spokesmen also renewed calls for reductions in federal spending and a transfer of programs from the national government to states and localities.

The Republican reply, featuring nine House members and eight senators, was carried live Tuesday night on the CBS radio-television networks.

Republican governors, numbering 26 of the nation's 50, were not included in the presentation, which was introduced by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and had Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., as master of ceremonies.

An audience of Republican congressmen and senators in the auditorium of a Senate office building clapped enthusiastically before and after each speech, interrupting more than 50 times with applause.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who has given firm backing to President Johnson's Vietnam policies in previous years, was absent because of illness. Sen. John G. Tower carried the GOP banner on the war issue.

The Texas Republican accused the Johnson administration of following what he termed "a self-defeating policy of gradualism" which he said "caused us to pull our punches; it prolonged the fighting; it cost American lives unnecessarily.

"This war could be over today if the Johnson Administration had acted with determination instead of with vacillation," he added.

Towers said Republicans stand for "military success in Vietnam that will enable the Vietnamese to rebuild a free nation," for "effective utilization of America's vast air and sea superiority" and for "quarantine of the enemy's supply lines so that he can no longer fight."

Sen. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., charged: "This administration has developed a strange new doctrine—that Soviet strategic equality is better than American supremacy."

Rep. Charlotte T. Reid, R-Ill., one of whose two sons left for Vietnam last week, said she believes that "not only all parents, but all thinking Americans, are as deeply distressed as I am by complacency, disunity and protest here at home."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford cited President Johnson's figure of speech camparing the nation with a ship heading through troubled waters and said, "The ship of state is wallowing in a storm-tossed sea, drifting toward the rocks of domestic disaster beaten by the waves of worldwide fiscal crisis that threaten shipwreck."

"We need a captain who inspires his crew to heroic endeavor," Ford said, "a captain who learned his seamanship beyond the Potomac and Pedernales."

Ford said Americans have seen "raging violence, bloodshed destruction and death right on their own doorsteps" and Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., commented that "the cities are boiling with frustration."

Rep. Richard H. Poff, R-Va., attacked what he called administration failures to combat crime.

"Murder is epidemic," he said. "Rape is commonplace—burglary happens so often it is no longer news."

Despite warnings by FBI director J. Edgar Hoover and local law enforcement officers, Poff said, "the Johnson administration has failed to take effective action."

He called for restoration of "peace and tranquillity guaranteed by the Constitution" and said "the American people want the 'enforcement' put back into law enforcement."

None of the GOP speakers presented proposals in the civil rights field, although Murphy mentioned the matter at one point and said Sen. Edward R. Brooke, R-Mass. only Negro member of the Senate, would have talked on the subject had he not been touring Africa.

In line with the GOP plan of emphasizing some of their new faces, the principal argument on spending and taxes came from Texas freshman Rep. George Bush, member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee.

He renewed GOP arguments that a federal spending cut is necessary before President Johnson's 10 per cent income tax surcharge plan can be considered.

"If the President wants to control inflation," Bush said, "he's got to cut back on federal spending."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House Republican Conference, called for a return of a portion of federal tax revenues to the states without strings.

In other speeches touching on domestic issues, Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., said Americans want "the President to stop wasting money and make it worth something again"; Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., said "this nation requires a realistic housing program, not more false promises" and Rep. Robert B. Mathias, R-Calif., said that "every time the Johnson administration comes up with a new farm program, the farmers pay more and get less."

Take Everyone, Hershey Says Of Draft Problem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A solution to the military draft problem?

"Take everybody," says Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the Selective Service system.

He explained he was in favor of "universal military training," and said this would be a more equitable induction system than the one now in use.

But, Hershey added, "I don't think the Congress has ever been interested in universal military training."

The 70-year-old Columbus native made his comments at a news conference here before speaking Tuesday night at a dinner meeting of the Central Ohio chapter of the Association of the United States Army.

Pakistan is unique in that it is divided into two parts more than 900 miles apart.

Newell Resident Injured At Home

A Newell man hurt on a machine at home Tuesday was admitted to City Hospital, where three others were treated.

Harold Peters of 117 Grant St. is "fairly good" with lacerations of the fingers suffered on a machine in his workshop.

Treated were Charles McKinnon, son of Robert McKinnon of 153 Pennsylvania Ave., a laceration of the right hand while dismantling a drum; Robert Edward Monroe Jr., son of Robert E. Monroe of 331 Bentley Ave., Newell, a laceration of the right knee while sledding.

Kenneth Stull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stull of 457 1st Ave., scalds of the right arm, shoulder and chest from water at home.

The cornerstone of the White House, in Washington, D. C., was laid Oct. 13, 1792, and the first residents were President and Mrs. John Adams, in November 1800.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Julie Harris Goes Where The Work Is

Actor Alfred Lunt once told actress Julie Harris that he watched TV and that some of the best character acting he'd ever seen was being done in TV Westerns.

Hal Humphrey

Julie has contributed to some of that character acting the past couple of years in such Westerns as the old "Rawhide" series (her first) and doesn't feel she is slumming or demeaning her career with such roles.

She went to Hollywood from her New York home a few weeks ago to do a "Run for Your Life", then stayed on for parts in "Bonanza" and "Daniel Boone" episodes.

THE LAST NAMED she just wrapped up the past week, and in it she plays Faith Griswold, a teacher suspected of witchcraft because of her way with animals. It airs sometime in April.

"I don't consider whether these roles are up or down from other things I've done," says Julie. I just feel that I'm acting which is what I like to do. I've turned down some TV series offers because I didn't like the part. I still must feel strongly about what I do."

She admits, however, to missing old "live" days of TV when she was doing such plays as "Ethan Frome," "The Heiress" and "The Power and the Glory." She has appeared 10 times in "Hall of Fame" TV productions.

THE FIRST of those was "The Good Fairy" done in 1956. Julie won a "best performance" Emmy for her portrayal in "Victoria Regina" in 1961.

"TV gave me the chance to do many things I'd never have gotten to do on the stage, like 'A Doll's House' and 'Pygmalion,' and it was wonderful," she says.

Julie's most recent "Hall of Fame" play was "Anastasia" last March in which she costarred with Lynn Fontanne. The most fan mail she ever received was from "Little Moon of Alban" which she did for "Hall of Fame" twice — in 1958 with Christopher Plummer and in 1964 with Dirk Bogarde.

HER FANS who know and love Julie from such TV performancts probably aren't even aware that she's working in any of these series. She received considerable mail from her "Anastasia" appearance last season, but no mail at all from a two-part "Tarzan" show she did the same season.

Julie was a missionary in the "Tarzan" episodes and did it skillfully as always, but obviously viewers of "Tarzan" who write letters are not the same ones who would have watched the "Anastasia" production on TV.

But an actress has to eat (even though the frail, 105-pound Julie doesn't look as if she eats much), and if she's going to work fairly steadily in TV today she must accept whatever that medium is doing.

SUE MENGERS, an agent, lured Julie into doing that first "Rawhide." She asked Julie what her favorite TV show was at the time. "Rawhide," said Julie, and Sue promptly called the producer and asked if he was interested in Julie as a guest star. He was.

"I found out, too," says Julie, "that acting in these series is the real thing, just as Alfred Lunt said.

"There was a character actor on that 'Rawhide' with me who was just wonderful. His name is Kelly Thordsen, and he read a line of dialog like I'd never heard. 'There's blood on the way,' this Kelly said, and the way he said it still sticks with me today."

JULIE would do a series if she could find a producer interested in what she'd like to do. Recently she came across a volume of "Irish Folk and Fairy Tales" edited by William Butler Yeats and thinks the stories in it would make a fine series with her as hostess and acting in a few of the stories.

But TV isn't buying anthology series any more. The industry gets better ratings with old movies and series with the same lead characters each week, and that's why actresses like Julie Harris are doing guest shots on shows like "Daniel Boone."

Rep. Halleck To Quit End Of Session

MONTICELLO, Ind. (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck, who has served both as majority and minority leader during his 33 years as a Republican member of the House, says he will retire at the end of the session.

"Without dramatics let me tell you simply that I am not going to run for re-election. The time has come to turn over the job to a young man," Halleck announced Tuesday night at a Republican committee meeting. He is 67.

"I could have called a press conference in Washington," Halleck said, "but here is where I belong."

He said he and his wife, the former Blanche White of Indianapolis, will continue to make their home in Rensselaer.

"I'm going to start spending more time doing the things I like to do, like fishing, hunting and golfing," Halleck said.

With his departure, congress is losing one of its most colorful and toughest members and one of its most battle-scarred veterans.

A native of Jasper County, Halleck began his political career there in 1924 with election as prosecuting attorney. He won re-election four times and then in 1935 won a special election to succeed Rep. Frederick Landis, R-Ind.

Halleck came into the spotlight in 1940 with a dramatic address in Philadelphia, nominating Wendell L. Willkie for president.

Halleck became a protege of former Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts and in 1946 was chosen chairman of the influential congressional campaign committee. Halleck was majority leader when Martin served as speaker in 1947-48 and 1953-54.

A master political tactician, Halleck became former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's legislative right hand and was chosen by Eisenhower to make his nominating speech at San Francisco in 1956.

On Jan. 7, 1959, Halleck engineered a major coup in ousting Martin as minority floor leader. The vote in a party caucus was 74-70 in favor of Halleck.

He fell victim to a similar coup Jan. 4, 1965, when Republicans, stunned by heavy election losses, picked Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan as minority leader.

Fines And Costs Net $8,871 In 3 Courts

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine collected $8,871 in fines and costs during December, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

He said the county treasurer received $5,709 and the state treasurer $2,948, representing 45 per cent of fines in Ohio Highway Patrol cases.

The sheriff, constables and city police received fees totaling $214.

Stacey said 410 criminal cases and 40 civil cases were filed in the three courts last month.

Danish Socialists Lose, Minority Party To Resign

COPENHAGEN (AP) — The defeat of Denmark's Socialist government in national elections opened a period of intense political maneuvering today with the key position held by a party opposed to Danish membership in NATO.

Premier Jens Otto Krag announced his minority government would resign after his Social Democratic party lost six seats in Parliament in Tuesday's election and the allied Peoples Socialists lost three. Krag had called the election to seek approval of an austerity program to check inflation.

The 53-year-old premier made clear he would try to remain in the post he has occupied since 1962. He said his party, still the largest in Parliament with 63 seats, would seek an alliance with the pacifistic Radical Liberals, whose increase from 15 to 28 seats was the biggest gain in the election and gave them the balance of power in the 179-seat Parliament.

Pre-election soundings indicated the Radical Liberals were unlikely to join forces with Krag. There was much talk of a coalition made up of the Conservatives, the Moderate Liberals and the Radical Liberals, but the Radical Liberal organ, Politiken, said this "is by no means to be taken for granted."

It appeared certain, however, that any coalition would have to include the Radical Liberals to get a majority and that this insured realization of a key demand of the party—a national referendum to determine whether Denmark should remain a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Radical Liberals undoubtedly will try to make anti-NATO capital out of the crash Sunday in Greenland—Danish territory—of a U.S. B52 bomber with four hydrogen bombs aboard. The crash became a last-minute election issue but its effect on the outcome, if any, was not immediately apparent.

Smaller left-wing parties had expected resentment over the crash to give them a boost, but instead the Leftist Socialists lost all six of their seats and the Communists again were shut out.

The Conservatives won 38 seats, a gain of four, and the Moderate Liberals held on to their 35 seats.

The Marxist-based Socialist Peoples party, which backed the Social Democrats in the last Parliament, lost three seats in the voters' swing to the right and now has 11.

The other party in the last parliament, the Liberal Center, lost all four of its seats, and the other four seats, representing Greenland and the Faroe Islands, were not at stake.

Krag's reverses stemmed from dissatisfaction with the rising costs of living.

America No. 1 Racist Country, Gregory Claims

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "America is the No. 1 racist country, bar none," Negro comedian Dick Gregory said in a rambling speech at Ohio State University Tuesday night.

"Instead of riots hurting like they should, America is so sick that they help," he told a crowd of 3,000 in Mershon Auditorium. He said that after the Detroit riots, an auto manufacturer hired 6,000 Negroes.

He said that because of the civil rights movement and the riots, Negroes are now "finding themselves" and are recipients of rewards from the federal government.

Gregory said the role of the policeman is one of the primary causes for violence in the streets.

"The cop is the most underpaid, underrespected man in America, he said. "The system is misusing him, so he's misusing the poor folk. It's not his fault, but our fault."

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Julie Harris Goes Where The Work Is

Actor Alfred Lunt once told actress Julie Harris that he watched TV and that some of the best character acting he'd ever seen was being done in TV Westerns.

Hal Humphrey

Julie has contributed to some of that character acting the past couple of years in such Westerns as the old "Rawhide" series (her first) and doesn't feel she is slumming or demeaning her career with such roles.

She went to Hollywood from her New York home a few weeks ago to do a "Run for Your Life", then stayed on for parts in "Bonanza" and "Daniel Boone" episodes.

THE LAST NAMED she just wrapped up the past week, and in it she plays Faith Griswold, a teacher suspected of witchcraft because of her way with animals. It airs sometime in April.

"I don't consider whether these roles are up or down from other things I've done," says Julie. I just feel that I'm acting which is what I like to do. I've turned down some TV series offers because I didn't like the part. I still must feel strongly about what I do."

She admits, however, to missing old "live" days of TV when she was doing such plays as "Ethan Frome," "The Heiress" and "The Power and the Glory." She has appeared 10 times in "Hall of Fame" TV productions.

THE FIRST of those was "The Good Fairy" done in 1956. Julie won a "best performance" Emmy for her portrayal in "Victoria Regina" in 1961.

"TV gave me the chance to do many things I'd never have gotten to do on the stage, like 'A Doll's House' and 'Pygmalion,' and it was wonderful," she says.

Julie's most recent "Hall of Fame" play was "Anastasia" last March in which she costarred with Lynn Fontanne. The most fan mail she ever received was from "Little Moon of Alban" which she did for "Hall of Fame" twice — in 1958 with Christopher Plummer and in 1964 with Dirk Bogarde.

HER FANS who know and love Julie from such TV performancts probably aren't even aware that she's working in any of these series. She received considerable mail from her "Anastasia" appearance last season, but no mail at all from a two-part "Tarzan" show she did the same season.

Julie was a missionary in the "Tarzan" episodes and did it skillfully as always, but obviously viewers of "Tarzan" who write letters are not the same ones who would have watched the "Anastasia" production on TV.

But an actress has to eat (even though the frail, 105-pound Julie doesn't look as if she eats much), and if she's going to work fairly steadily in TV today she must accept whatever that medium is doing.

SUE MENGERS, an agent, lured Julie into doing that first "Rawhide." She asked Julie what her favorite TV show was at the time. "Rawhide," said Julie, and Sue promptly called the producer and asked if he was interested in Julie as a guest star. He was.

"I found out, too," says Julie, "that acting in these series is the real thing, just as Alfred Lunt said.

"There was a character actor on that 'Rawhide' with me who was just wonderful. His name is Kelly Thordsen, and he read a line of dialog like I'd never heard. 'There's blood on the way,' this Kelly said, and the way he said it still sticks with me today."

JULIE would do a series if she could find a producer interested in what she'd like to do. Recently she came across a volume of "Irish Folk and Fairy Tales" edited by William Butler Yeats and thinks the stories in it would make a fine series with her as hostess and acting in a few of the stories.

But TV isn't buying anthology series any more. The industry gets better ratings with old movies and series with the same lead characters each week, and that's why actresses like Julie Harris are doing guest shots on shows like "Daniel Boone."

Rep. Halleck To Quit End Of Session

MONTICELLO, Ind. (AP) — Rep. Charles A. Halleck, who has served both as majority and minority leader during his 33 years as a Republican member of the House, says he will retire at the end of the session.

"Without dramatics let me tell you simply that I am not going to run for re-election. The time has come to turn over the job to a young man," Halleck announced Tuesday night at a Republican committee meeting. He is 67.

"I could have called a press conference in Washington," Halleck said, "but here is where I belong."

He said he and his wife, the former Blanche White of Indianapolis, will continue to make their home in Rensselaer.

"I'm going to start spending more time doing the things I like to do, like fishing, hunting and golfing," Halleck said.

With his departure, congress is losing one of its most colorful and toughest members and one of its most battle-scarred veterans.

A native of Jasper County, Halleck began his political career there in 1924 with election as prosecuting attorney. He won re-election four times and then in 1935 won a special election to succeed Rep. Frederick Landis, R-Ind.

Halleck came into the spotlight in 1940 with a dramatic address in Philadelphia, nominating Wendell L. Willkie for president.

Halleck became a protege of former Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts and in 1946 was chosen chairman of the influential congressional campaign committee. Halleck was majority leader when Martin served as speaker in 1947-48 and 1953-54.

A master political tactician, Halleck became former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's legislative right hand and was chosen by Eisenhower to make his nominating speech at San Francisco in 1956.

On Jan. 7, 1959, Halleck engineered a major coup in ousting Martin as minority floor leader. The vote in a party caucus was 74-70 in favor of Halleck.

He fell victim to a similar coup Jan. 4, 1965, when Republicans, stunned by heavy election losses, picked Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan as minority leader.

Premier Will Try To Hold Post

Fines And Costs Net $8,871 In 3 Courts

LISBON — The three Columbiana County courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine collected $8,871 in fines and costs during December, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey.

He said the county treasurer received $5,709 and the state treasurer $2,948, representing 45 per cent of fines in Ohio Highway Patrol cases.

The sheriff, constables and city police received fees totaling $214.

Stacey said 410 criminal cases and 40 civil cases were filed in the three courts last month.

'Full House' At Jail

Judge Sets Bond For 15 Indicted

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court set bonds Tuesday afternoon for 15 indicted secretly Friday by the Columbiana County grand jury.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan requested the bond - setting session because of a "full house" at the County Jail.

The grand jury returned a record 50 secret indictments, including several against defendants named in true bills reported last week.

Pre-arraignment will be held Monday and arraignment Feb. 5, both before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who was in Columbus yesterday.

DEFENDANTS appearing yesterday follow, with charges and the amount of bond:

Stanley C. Lovett, 26, of 669½ Walnut St., East Liverpool, Dec. 27 burglary at Pearl China Co.; Dec. 29 burglary at Pickens Grocery, and Jan. 2 robbery of Dale Saling, attendant at Humble Service Station, E. 3rd St., East Liverpool; $5,000 covering all three charges.

Charles J. Mercer, 18, of 130 Ravine St., East Liverpool, Dec. 27 burglary at Pearl China Co., and Jan. 2 robbery of Dale Saling; $5,000 covering both cases.

George Deem Jr., 38, of 800 Broadway, Wellsville, July 26 robbery of Naomi Palmer at Berlie's Diner, Mulberry St., East Liverpool, and July 24 robbery of Joyce Serafy, a waitress at Adrian's Catering Service, East Liverpool. The grand jury also returned three non-secret robbery indictments against Deem. Judge Sharp yesterday set bond of $10,000 to cover all five indictments.

Alfonza Foster, 19, of 170 Haywood St., East Liverpool, night burglary July 12 at the John Fitch residence, 518 Mulberry St.; $5,000.

Vincent Candito, 19, of 115½ W. 6th St., East Liverpool, Oct. 20 robbery of Nellie Taylor at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave.; $2,500.

CLAIR Cunningham, 57, of 114 E. 2nd St., East Liverpool, harboring and concealing a felon (two indictments); $2,500 in each case. The state claims the defendant concealed William L. Nesbitt, 19, of 268 W. Washington St., Lisbon, on two occasions last fall. The grand jury indicted Nesbitt in four robberies.

Dave Cunningham, 19, of 114 E. 2nd St., harboring and concealing Nesbitt on Nov. 3; $2,500.

Larry R. Jackson, 19, of 824 Pennsylvania Ave., East Liverpool, Aug. 24 burglary at Bloor's Pharmacy, 1010 Pennsylvania Ave.; $1,000.

John Finlay, also known as "Bill" Finlay, 18, of 820 Highland Ave., East Liverpool; Terry L. Wolfe, 18, of 106 W. Drury Ln., East Liverpool, and Keith Matheny, 18, of 1004 St. Clair Ave., East Liverpool, Dec. 14 burglary at Sunoco Service Station at Route 170 and St. Clair Ave. in Calcutta; bonds of $1,000 each. The same trio was named in non-secret indictments covering a burglary Dec. 14 at the Petrosol Service Station on Pennsylvania Ave.

John R. Veney, 19, Ruth St., East Liverpool, obtaining money under false pretenses by promising Harry Cahill of East Liverpool the return of savings bonds and valuable papers, which had been stolen from Cahill, in exchange for $200; and July 5 burglary at Ferello's Market, 549 Mulberry St.; $1,000 bond in each case.

Robert C. Jackson, 21, of 824 Pennsylvania Ave., obtaining money under false pretenses by promising Pearl Wheatley of East Liverpool he would, in exchange for $100, give her valuables which had been stolen from her. A non-secret indictment already reported charged Jackson with obtaining money from Harry Cahill under false pretenses. The court set bond at $1,000 in each case.

THE DEFENDANT is blind. "How did it happen?" Judge Sharp asked when he observed companions guiding Jackson by the arm. "A shotgun," the defendant answered.

Robert S. Wilkinson, 34, of 825 Cadmus St., East Liverpool, embezzlement (four counts); the indictment alleges he converted to his own use money of the Seaboard Finance Co., East Liverpool, which came into his possession as an employe; $500.

Carol Biser, 24, Peace Valley Rd., Negley, forgery (two indictments); own recognizance in amount of $1,000 for each case. She was named in another forgery indictment last week.

Mrs. Lucy A. Bush, 32, of 290 N. Lundy Ave., Salem, charged with traffic manslaughter in the death Nov. 16 of Edward J. Bailey, 66, of 436 Franklin Ave., Salem; own recognizance, $1,000.

Wilkinson, Matheny and Finlay made bond yesterday afternoon. The others were returned to the County Jail.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Huff and family of Canton visited Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Maple.

Stolen Pittsburgh Car Recovered At Hebron

A 1960 model compact sedan stolen in East Liverpool Jan. 11 was found abandoned at Hebron in Licking County Tuesday by the Ohio Highway Patrol, local police were advised.

Paul H. Bush of Pittsburgh told police he left the car on W. 4th St. for only four minutes late on the afternoon of Jan. 11. He said the auto probably was stolen by a young hitch-hiker who remained in it.

Meanwhile, a 1953 sedan which John Howard of the Y. & O. Rd. reported stolen Friday night from E. Church Alley was recovered by the owner in the same alley Monday, officers said.

Osteopathic Hospital Returns All Officers

All officers of the East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital were returned during the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees Tuesday night.

They are: Dr. John W. Hayes, president; Dr. M. W. Riegel of Salem, vice president; Dr. C. M. Mayberry, secretary, and Mrs. Robin Gillespie, treasurer. Dr. Hayes also was returned for a one-year term as administrator.

The board discussed 1967 activities, including the increase in the patient load and new additions to the hospital's equipment.

Fines Levied On 2 Drivers

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today decreed fines for two motorists who pleaded guilty to charges filed by local police and the Ohio Highway Patrol.

Robert N. Shannon, 19, of 713 Burford St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge he crashed a traffic signal at E. 4th and Washington Sts. Shannon was cited Tuesday at 8:32 p. m. by Patrolmen David Mumaw and Charles Coen.

William Raymond Jarrett, 37, of 1004 Lisbon St. was fined $10 and costs on a charge of ignoring a "'yield right-of-way" sign Nov. 28 at Lisbon and W. 8th Sts. Jarrett was cited by Patrolman L. J. Heptner of the state patrol, who said the local motorist's auto nearly collided with his cruiser.

Harry T. Weyand, 26, of 519 1st Ave. was given a suspended fine of $15 and costs after the judge convicted him in a lengthy hearing on a charge of failure to yield at least half the roadway to oncoming traffic Weyand was ordered to pay the costs. He was cited Jan. 12 on Mapletree St. by Coen as a result of a two-car mishap. Weyand was represented by Donald D. Shay.

Francis Lyle Taylor, 25, of Lisbon St., Glenmoor, also was given a suspended $10 fine, but was ordered to pay the costs, on a charge of driving an auto with only one headlight. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 8:30 p. m. on Route 30.

Raymond Walker, 45, of Lake Milton forfeited a $17.50 bond on a charge he crashed a stop sign at the junction of Routes 7 and 30. He was cited by the patrol Saturday at 4:30 p. m.

Wellsville's Eastern Star Marks 'Obligation Night'

"Obligation Night" was observed by Wellsville Chapter 417, Order of Eastern Star, Monday in the Masonic Temple.

The obligation was renewed, with Fred Huston, worthy patron, the Star Points and past matrons Mrs. Eunice Huston, Mrs. Nancy Palmer, Mrs. Betty Rager, Mrs. Helen Geer and Mrs. Clara Michaels taking part.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wallace of Canton, deputy grand matron of District 13 and the worthy matron and worthy patron of the East Palestine chapter were presented. Twelve past matron and three past patrons of the Wellsville chapter also were among those present.

AN ADDENDA, "Stars in the East" presented by the Star Points, was given to honor the deputy grand matron. The deputy grand matron then was crowned by Mrs. Lois Smith, worthy matron, with beads and honey bees and presented by Huston with a china beehive of honey. Emmett Wallace, husband of the deputy grand matron, was given a beekeeper's hat and kit.

In the East, a motto, "I Am the Way, the Truth and the Light," was featured on a yellow drape over an open Bible lighted by a white milk glass hurricane lamp which held violets. The Bible is an old family Bible belonging to the worthy patron. The West featured a picture of Sallman's head of Christ on a blue drape encircled with golden links. Mrs. Smith, worthy matron, and Huston, worthy patron, presided in the East.

A DONATION was sent to the OES Home Circle at Columbus. The altar was draped in memory of Mrs. Josephine Tarr. Mrs. Smith announced the chapter will serve the annual dinner for Royal Arch Masons Feb. 17.

Lunch was served 42 members and five visitors in the dining room, with the tables decorated with violets and lavender tapers. Favors were miniature white felt Bibles pinned with a violet.

The luncheon committee included Mr. Doris Knepper, Mrs. Michaels, Mrs. Annabelle DeSellem and Mrs. Nancy Thomas.

'Full House' At Jail

Judge Sets Bond For 15 Indicted

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp of Common Pleas Court set bonds Tuesday afternoon for 15 indicted secretly Friday by the Columbiana County grand jury.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan requested the bond - setting session because of a "full house" at the County Jail.

The grand jury returned a record 50 secret indictments, including several against defendants named in true bills reported last week.

Pre-arraignment will be held Monday and arraignment Feb. 5, both before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard, who was in Columbus yesterday.

DEFENDANTS appearing yesterday follow, with charges and the amount of bond:

Stanley C. Lovett, 26, of 669½ Walnut St., East Liverpool, Dec. 27 burglary at Pearl China Co.; Dec. 29 burglary at Pickens Grocery, and Jan. 2 robbery of Dale Saling, attendant at Humble Service Station, E. 3rd St., East Liverpool; $5,000 covering all three charges.

Charles J. Mercer, 18, of 130 Ravine St., East Liverpool, Dec. 27 burglary at Pearl China Co., and Jan. 2 robbery of Dale Saling; $5,000 covering both cases.

George Deem Jr., 38, of 800 Broadway, Wellsville, July 26 robbery of Naomi Palmer at Berlie's Diner, Mulberry St., East Liverpool, and July 24 robbery of Joyce Serafy, a waitress at Adrian's Catering Service, East Liverpool. The grand jury also returned three non-secret robbery indictments against Deem. Judge Sharp yesterday set bond of $10,000 to cover all five indictments.

Alfonza Foster, 19, of 170 Haywood St., East Liverpool, night burglary July 12 at the John Fitch residence, 518 Mulberry St.; $5,000.

Vincent Candito, 19, of 115½ W. 6th St., East Liverpool, Oct. 20 robbery of Nellie Taylor at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave.; $2,500.

CLAIR Cunningham, 57, of 114 E. 2nd St., East Liverpool, harboring and concealing a felon (two indictments); $2,500 in each case. The state claims the defendant concealed William L. Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell your housewives and other readers not to put paper clips or coins in a letter without marking "hand stamp" on the outside of the envelope.

Post offices run letters through electric stamp canceling machines. When they hit a paper clip or coin, it usually tears your letter and jams the machine. The operator must stop and unjam the machine and try to repair your letter.

We would appreciate it forevermore and be able to give your readers better service.

A POSTMASTER.

So, Folks, do take heed to the Postmaster's word. I have a little hand-crank machine which cuts open 60 letters a minute and when we run across a paper clip, it jams our machine too.

Takes only a few minutes to mark "hand stamp" on the outside of your envelope. Sure would be nice . . .

Also, if you do put a paper clip on a letter, fold it so the clip will be at the bottom of the envelope away from the stamp.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I write my baby's new accomplishments on my kitchen calendar. When I finally get out baby's book to record the information, I backtrack on my calendar making notes and dates of baby's cutest tricks.

I also make health notes of illnesses, teeth, etc. Nothing goes unrecorded because I didn't have time to get it into the baby book right away.

MRS. G. KUNDERT.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever stand over a hot stove, stirring and stirring spaghetti sauce or chili so that it would not stick or burn?

Try this trick and see how easy it is.

Just put all the ingredients together in a roaster and put it into your oven. Stir it occasionally until it reaches the right consistency.

Sure saves time and strength.

CAROL M.

DEAR HELOISE: Our new paper boy has come up with a very ingenius idea.

He asked each of his customers for permission to put a strip of reflective tape near the bottom of the front door where he could be sure and find it with a flashlight in the early morning dark.

Now we're never missed and our paper is usually easier to reach when we open the door.

MRS. PETER FOWLER.

DEAR HELOISE: When my wax paper box was almost empty I've always had trouble holding it firmly while trying to tear off the right length.

This morning it kept slipping and I was tearing the pieces off crooked again. I thought of opening up the box and laying a folded dish cloth (clean, of course) in the box on top of the small roll of paper and putting the lid back in place.

I could then grip the box and tear off the exact amount of paper as if the roll was full again. Sure made a difference.

MRS. LUTHER NANNY.

DEAR HELOISE: I learned from an optometrist to always wash the nose piece of my glasses whenever I cleaned the lenses because the oils from a person's skin makes the nose piece slippery, thereby causing the glasses to slide down.

After trying this, I found that it does help tremendously.

DOROTHY NICKOLS.

DEAR HELOISE: If you live in a damp climate and have trouble keeping your crackers and cereals crisp, just put a small light bulb in your cupboard and keep it burning all the time. Of course, you will have to get someone to properly wire your cupboard.

This is an idea they use in Panama. My mother used to call it her Panama closet. Works like a charm for us.

KATHERINE PEARSON.

DEAR HELOISE: This is a hint for all the ladies who have been suffering from girdle supporters pressing deeply into their legs.

If you'll buy two nylon stretch headbands and put one on each leg right under the supporters, it will keep them from hurting your legs.

The headbands aren't thick enough to be bulky and yet they are wide enough to fit any leg without cutting off the circulation.

Johnson's Job Plan Gets Support

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's enlistment of private enterprise in a drive against hard-core unemployment has won guarded endorsements from labor and industry.

Congress seems friendly, too, but may balk at giving him the full $2.1 billion he seeks.

The National Association of Manufacturers, saying industry has achieved good results in this area, questioned the need for a federal program.

Johnson's goal, stated Monday, is to create 500,000 jobs for hard-core unemployed in the nation's 15 biggest cities. The three-year program isn't expected to have a significant impact on slum restlessness this summer.

Johnson named about a dozen top business leaders to a National Alliance of Businessmen which will work with the government on the program. Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., will head it.

Under the program, the government would pinpoint the hard-core unemployed and private business would provide the training, aided by federal funds.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the 14-million-member labor federation will support Johnson's manpower proposals. But he said that to reach the ultimate goal of full employment "the government must be the employer of last resort."

He said Congress would have to enact legislation creating one million public service jobs if the problem of hard-core unemployment is to be solved.

Meany also said the President's proposal needs "careful policing" to assure that federal job-training money isn't used as a "disguised wage subsidy" to business.

Allan Shivers, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, welcomed Johnson's "decision to try to develop job opportunities in private enterprise for the hard-core unemployed rather than to create public jobs through government fiat."

But Shivers added: "No job program should promise more than it can deliver."

He said job programs "should not be promoted as guarantees against civil disorder. The facts from Watts, Detroit and other cities show there is not necessarily a correlation between unemployment and riots."

W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, expressed hope "industry will have an equal voice in planning and managing the program."

But he expressed reservations, saying industry "has achieved significant results in this field and can look forward to continued improvement.

"We question the need of a major new federal program involving further regulations," Gullander added.

In Congress, it appeared certain the Senate and House Labor Committees would endorse legislation authorizing Johnson's program.

But the appropriations committees, which provide the actual cash, appeared likely to balk at the $2.1 billion figure, especially if budget-cutting fever runs strong again this year.

A substantial part of the funds will come under the antipoverty program, a big target of economy advocates last year.

However, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he thinks Congress will support the full request.

Second Assistant Requested For Prosecutor In Hancock

A second assistant would be provided for the prosecuting attorney of Hancock County under a proposed amendment to the Omnibus Salary Bill in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Del. George House, Hancock Democrat, submitted the action at Charleston at the request of Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr of Weirton.

The state code now provides for a prosecuting attorney at a salary of $6,000, an assistant prosecuting attorney at $5,400 and a stenographer at $4,200.

The salary for the second assistant prosecutor was listed at between $3,000 and $4,800.

Donald Donell of Weirton is the present assistant prosecuting attorney.

Griffith said he favored an additional prosecutor "to help curb the rise in crime in the Hancock area."

He said that Hancock County is the only one of the top seven counties in the state which does not have two assistant prosecuting attorneys.

He said Ohio County has two assistants and one investigator. Some counties, like Kanawha, have as many as four assistants and an investigator, he pointed out.

Decline Reported In Porter Profit

H. K. Porter Co., Inc., has reported fourth-quarter 1967 net income of $1,804,503, or $1.20 a share, compared with $1,567,527, or $1.02 a share, the year before.

Full year 1967 earnings were off sharply, however: $4,274,325, or $2.57 a share, against $7,440,090, or $5.01, in 1966. Sales for the year were $280.3 million against $294.9 million in 1966.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Please tell your housewives and other readers not to put paper clips or coins in a letter without marking "hand stamp" on the outside of the envelope.

Post offices run letters through electric stamp canceling machines. When they hit a paper clip or coin, it usually tears your letter and jams the machine. The operator must stop and unjam the machine and try to repair your letter.

We would appreciate it forevermore and be able to give your readers better service.

A POSTMASTER.

So, Folks, do take heed to the Postmaster's word. I have a little hand-crank machine which cuts open 60 letters a minute and when we run across a paper clip, it jams our machine too.

Takes only a few minutes to mark "hand stamp" on the outside of your envelope. Sure would be nice . . .

Also, if you do put a paper clip on a letter, fold it so the clip will be at the bottom of the envelope away from the stamp.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I write my baby's new accomplishments on my kitchen calendar. When I finally get out baby's book to record the information, I backtrack on my calendar making notes and dates of baby's cutest tricks.

I also make health notes of illnesses, teeth, etc. Nothing goes unrecorded because I didn't have time to get it into the baby book right away.

MRS. G. KUNDERT.

DEAR HELOISE: Did you ever stand over a hot stove, stirring and stirring spaghetti sauce or chili so that it would not stick or burn?

Try this trick and see how easy it is.

Just put all the ingredients together in a roaster and put it into your oven. Stir it occasionally until it reaches the right consistency.

Sure saves time and strength.

CAROL M.

DEAR HELOISE: Our new paper boy has come up with a very ingenius idea.

He asked each of his customers for permission to put a strip of reflective tape near the bottom of the front door where he could be sure and find it with a flashlight in the early morning dark.

Now we're never missed and our paper is usually easier to reach when we open the door.

MRS. PETER FOWLER.

DEAR HELOISE: When my wax paper box was almost empty I've always had trouble holding it firmly while trying to tear off the right length.

This morning it kept slipping and I was tearing the pieces off crooked again. I thought of opening up the box and laying a folded dish cloth (clean, of course) in the box on top of the small roll of paper and putting the lid back in place.

I could then grip the box and tear off the exact amount of paper as if the roll was full again. Sure made a difference.

MRS. LUTHER NANNY.

DEAR HELOISE: I learned from an optometrist to always wash the nose piece of my glasses whenever I cleaned the lenses because the oils from a person's skin makes the nose piece slippery, thereby causing the glasses to slide down.

After trying this, I found that it does help tremendously.

DOROTHY NICKOLS.

DEAR HELOISE: If you live in a damp climate and have trouble keeping your crackers and cereals crisp, just put a small light bulb in your cupboard and keep it burning all the time. Of course, you will have to get someone to properly wire your cupboard.

This is an idea they use in Panama. My mother used to call it her Panama closet. Works like a charm for us.

KATHERINE PEARSON.

DEAR HELOISE: This is a hint for all the ladies who have been suffering from girdle supporters pressing deeply into their legs.

If you'll buy two nylon stretch headbands and put one on each leg right under the supporters, it will keep them from hurting your legs.

The headbands aren't thick enough to be bulky and yet they are wide enough to fit any leg without cutting off the circulation.

Johnson's Job Plan Gets Support

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's enlistment of private enterprise in a drive against hard-core unemployment has won guarded endorsements from labor and industry.

Congress seems friendly, too, but may balk at giving him the full $2.1 billion he seeks.

The National Association of Manufacturers, saying industry has achieved good results in this area, questioned the need for a federal program.

Johnson's goal, stated Monday, is to create 500,000 jobs for hard-core unemployed in the nation's 15 biggest cities. The three-year program isn't expected to have a significant impact on slum restlessness this summer.

Johnson named about a dozen top business leaders to a National Alliance of Businessmen which will work with the government on the program. Henry Ford II, board chairman of the Ford Motor Co., will head it.

Under the program, the government would pinpoint the hard-core unemployed and private business would provide the training, aided by federal funds.

George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, said the 14-million-member labor federation will support Johnson's manpower proposals. But he said that to reach the ultimate goal of full employment "the government must be the employer of last resort."

He said Congress would have to enact legislation creating one million public service jobs if the problem of hard-core unemployment is to be solved.

Meany also said the President's proposal needs "careful policing" to assure that federal job-training money isn't used as a "disguised wage subsidy" to business.

Allan Shivers, president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, welcomed Johnson's "decision to try to develop job opportunities in private enterprise for the hard-core unemployed rather than to create public jobs through government fiat."

But Shivers added: "No job program should promise more than it can deliver."

He said job programs "should not be promoted as guarantees against civil disorder. The facts from Watts, Detroit and other cities show there is not necessarily a correlation between unemployment and riots."

W. P. Gullander, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, expressed hope "industry will have an equal voice in planning and managing the program."

But he expressed reservations, saying industry "has achieved significant results in this field and can look forward to continued improvement.

"We question the need of a major new federal program involving further regulations," Gullander added.

In Congress, it appeared certain the Senate and House Labor Committees would endorse legislation authorizing Johnson's program.

But the appropriations committees, which provide the actual cash, appeared likely to balk at the $2.1 billion figure, especially if budget-cutting fever runs strong again this year.

A substantial part of the funds will come under the antipoverty program, a big target of economy advocates last year.

However, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he thinks Congress will support the full request.

Second Assistant Requested For Prosecutor In Hancock

A second assistant would be provided for the prosecuting attorney of Hancock County under a proposed amendment to the Omnibus Salary Bill in the West Virginia House of Delegates.

Del. George House, Hancock Democrat, submitted the action at Charleston at the request of Prosecuting Atty. Floyd Tarr of Weirton.

The state code now provides for a prosecuting attorney at a salary of $6,000, an assistant prosecuting attorney at $5,400 and a stenographer at $4,200.

The salary for the second assistant prosecutor was listed at between $3,000 and $4,800.

Donald Donell of Weirton is the present assistant prosecuting attorney.

Griffith said he favored an additional prosecutor "to help curb the rise in crime in the Hancock area."

He said that Hancock County is the only one of the top seven counties in the state which does not have two assistant prosecuting attorneys.

He said Ohio County has two assistants and one investigator. Some counties, like Kanawha, have as many as four assistants and an investigator, he pointed out.

Bridge

cern from Ohioville officials.

For years the bridge was marked by signs designating a 25-ton limit, but these were removed Tuesday.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said he is greatly concerned over the action.

On Monday, Zlatovich and officers from the Pennsylvania State Police post at Chippewa started checking several trucks using the highway as a bypass because of the load limits set on Chester Bridge.

At least 12 tractor - trailer trucks were turned back because they had loads as much as 80,000 pounds.

ZLATOVICH discovered Tuesday afternoon the signs had been removed. He checked with James Miller, Beaver County highway superintendent, and was advised the signs were ordered down as the result of an inspection last week.

Zlatovich said he was told the new legal weight limit is 72,000 pounds.

Miller told the officer the bridge had been inspected last week by R. J. Summers, a bridge engineer for the department at Pittsburgh.

Summers said he had inspected the bridge last week, but had not issued orders for removal of the weight limit sights.

Miller said the large potholes in the 20-foot-wide span will be repaired as soon as possible.

Route 68 and the bridge is heavily traveled by millworkers to and from the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. The highway also is an east-west artery for truck traffic.

Cooperative Plan Due For Replacing Bridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cooperaive plan for replacement of the Ohio River bridge at Point Pleasant, W. Va., which collapsed Dec. 15 and killed 39 persons is expected soon, Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., said Tuesday.

"Real progress is being made to accelerate the replacement of the span," Randolph said in a statement.

Randolph, chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, indicated a site downstream from the old bridge is receiving prime consideration.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, the Appalachian Regional Commission and the state highway commissions of West Virginia and Ohio will share in financing the new structure, Randolph said.

He is married to the former Mildred Thomas of Homeworth. They have a son Philip, a sophomore at Akron University.

McQuilkin said, "I certainly appreciate the confidence the executive committee has placed in me and I will do the best I can to serve all the people of the county."

Approximately 60 attended a meeting of the central committee later in Village Hall Council chambers.

Members discussed the primary election and received supplies of tickets for the Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 8 at East Palestine High School. Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe will speak.

our present facilities, and the additional space will be used to handle the increased volume of work involved," he said.

"Activity in the checking accounts nearly has doubled over the last 10 years, and this, coupled with the increased use of checks by our customers, has accentuated that growth. Our proof department and checking account department are handling in excess of 450,000 items a month. This compares to less than 200,000 a month a few years ago.

"The trust department has experienced a substantial increase in activity over recent years, and this is also adding to our problem of working space for available facilities."

The building offers an additional 11,000 square feet of additional space on the two floors, Boyce said. Since plans are now in process for the use of the additional facility, no announcement can be made at present as to the exact use to which the additional space will be put. However, he said design of the additional space will be such that the greatest in customer convenience and better service will be offered.

"It is our intention," Boyce said, "to complement the improvements already made in the downtown area with the remodeling and renovation of the annex."

Cashdollar said Campbell will continue as daylight patrolman, with his days off changed. Cornell, who has been a full-time employe of the city, will patrol mostly during the afternoon turn. The new schedule will go into effect immediately.

The advancement of Cowey brings to three the number of full-time men for the department.

THOUGH THE plan will begin at once, City Clerk Donald Hood pointed out Council will have to act soon to transfer monies from another city fund to the police fund, since current pay provisions in the police budget limit the third patrolman to about 24 hours duty each week.

Hood said he will ask Council during its next meeting to authorize a letter to Fairfax Brown, commissioner of budgets and levies for West Virginia. The routine action will ask permission to transfer the funds so Council can pay for the third full-time patrolman.

Council, in setting up its budget for the new fiscal year last June, did not foresee the need for a third full-time patrolman and allotted only enough money to pay men for part-time work.

The major thefts which caused the action have included those at Russ Davis' IGA food store, the State Liquor Store and Citizens Drugstore, all on Carolina Ave.

The liquor and drugstores are adjacent at the corner of 5th St. and Carolina.

Last night's session lasted more than two hours.

For the last 17 years she has worked on the canvass of primary and general elections at the County Board of Elections in East Liverpool. She has conducted several board-sponsored training classes for poll workers throughout the county.

Mrs. Cope formerly was employed at Hamilton's Drugstore in Lisbon and was a clerk for the Morrisville and Elkton livestock auctions during their operations.

Following graduation from Salem Business College, she was employed in the Salem News business office until her marriage to Walter Cope, former Salem resident.

base in a 30-minute barrage. There was no immediate word of casualties or damage.

About 2,000 of the 5,000 Leathernecks deployed in the hill country around Khe Sanh man bunkers and artillery batteries at the regimental base.

Marine outposts on Hill 881 and 861, just to the north, again came under sporadic enemy fire, newsmen were told.

North Vietnam was reported to have sent 10,000 more troops into South Vietnam's embattled northern provinces. A senior U.S. officer in Saigon quoted a defector as saying their goal is to wipe out American forces there to pave the way for negotiations.

The American: 2nd graf 137

The American officer said the North Vietnamese 304th Division has infiltrated into western Quang Tri Province, where the U.S. Marines have been under heavy pressure this week.

The U.S. source said a lieutenant who defected from the new division told allied interrogators the Communist objective was to launch an offensive against South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces which would "destroy American forces."

"A victory would be followed by negotiations," the defector said.

A number of high officials in the U.S. military command and the U.S. Embassy in Saigon believe that North Vietnam is about to launch a massive military campaign in an attempt to gain advantages for use at the negotiation table.

The lieutenant who defected was quoted as saying that the Communist battle plan against the northern frontier is considered so crucial that it is under the direction of the North Vietnamese Defense Ministry headed by Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the architect of the Communist victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu.

Negotiators Continue Meeting On Ware Pact

son Township in the southeastern part of the county in the proposed new 1st District instead of switching it into the 6th District as proposed in the Senate version.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood said whether a floor vote would come today or Thursday depended on whether Democrats would give their support to suspension of a rule requiring measures to over for two legislative days.

Although redistricting took the limelight during one of the busiest days of the session, the governor's $850 million bond issue proposal got more static in testimony before the Senate Finance Committee.

Chancellor John D. Millett of the Ohio Board of Regents and Martin Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, both said allocations proposed for their construction budgets were far short of needs.

Earlier Tuesday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would permit the issuance of revenue bonds for construction of state office buildings.

Up to ten per cent of the $700 million workmen's compensation trust fund could be tapped for purchase of the bonds and retirement would come from rents charged various departments for use of its facilities.

The vote was 73-16 with most of the opposition coming from Democrats. They included Rep. Richard M. Christiansen D-17 Richland who asserted a constitutional amendment removing the state's $750,000 bond debt limit should have been proposed instead.

The Senate received several new measures—among them a bill creating a division of bridge inspection to require annual inspection of all Ohio spans, including railroad bridges.

Other new bills would streamline budget procedures of county boards of education and clarify authority of school boards to borrow up to 50 per cent of the anticipated proceeds of voter-approved tax levies.

Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese D-22 Cleveland introduced a measure setting up an insurance regulation board with authority over rates and risk classifications.

The Senate Elections, Commerce, and Labor Committee recommended passage of a bill that sets a flexible filing deadline for congressional candidates awaiting final disposition of legislative redistricting.

cern from Ohioville officials.

For years the bridge was marked by signs designating a 25-ton limit, but these were removed Tuesday.

Ohioville Police Chief Bernard Zlatovich said he is greatly concerned over the action.

On Monday, Zlatovich and officers from the Pennsylvania State Police post at Chippewa started checking several trucks using the highway as a bypass because of the load limits set on Chester Bridge.

At least 12 tractor - trailer trucks were turned back because they had loads as much as 80,000 pounds.

ZLATOVICH discovered Tuesday afternoon the signs had been removed. He checked with James Miller, Beaver County highway superintendent, and was advised the signs were ordered down as the result of an inspection last week.

Zlatovich said he was told the new legal weight limit is 72,000 pounds.

Miller told the officer the bridge had been inspected last week by R. J. Summers, a bridge engineer for the department at Pittsburgh.

Summers said he had inspected the bridge last week, but had not issued orders for removal of the weight limit sights.

Miller said the large potholes in the 20-foot-wide span will be repaired as soon as possible.

Route 68 and the bridge is heavily traveled by millworkers to and from the Midland Division of the Crucible Steel Co. The highway also is an east-west artery for truck traffic.

Cooperative Plan Due For Replacing Bridge

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cooperaive plan for replacement of the Ohio River bridge at Point Pleasant, W. Va., which collapsed Dec. 15 and killed 39 persons is expected soon, Sen. Jennings Randolph, D-W. Va., said Tuesday.

"Real progress is being made to accelerate the replacement of the span," Randolph said in a statement.

Randolph, chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, indicated a site downstream from the old bridge is receiving prime consideration.

The U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, the Appalachian Regional Commission and the state highway commissions of West Virginia and Ohio will share in financing the new structure, Randolph said.

our present facilities, and the additional space will be used to handle the increased volume of work involved," he said.

"Activity in the checking accounts nearly has doubled over the last 10 years, and this, coupled with the increased use of checks by our customers, has accentuated that growth. Our proof department and checking account department are handling in excess of 450,000 items a month. This compares to less than 200,000 a month a few years ago.

"The trust department has experienced a substantial increase in activity over recent years, and this is also adding to our problem of working space for available facilities."

The building offers an additional 11,000 square feet of additional space on the two floors, Boyce said. Since plans are now in process for the use of the additional facility, no announcement can be made at present as to the exact use to which the additional space will be put. However, he said design of the additional space will be such that the greatest in customer convenience and better service will be offered.

"It is our intention," Boyce said, "to complement the improvements already made in the downtown area with the remodeling and renovation of the annex."

Cashdollar said Campbell will continue as daylight patrolman, with his days off changed. Cornell, who has been a full-time employe of the city, will patrol mostly during the afternoon turn. The new schedule will go into effect immediately.

The advancement of Cowey brings to three the number of full-time men for the department.

THOUGH THE plan will begin at once, City Clerk Donald Hood pointed out Council will have to act soon to transfer monies from another city fund to the police fund, since current pay provisions in the police budget limit the third patrolman to about 24 hours duty each week.

Hood said he will ask Council during its next meeting to authorize a letter to Fairfax Brown, commissioner of budgets and levies for West Virginia. The routine action will ask permission to transfer the funds so Council can pay for the third full-time patrolman.

Council, in setting up its budget for the new fiscal year last June, did not foresee the need for a third full-time patrolman and allotted only enough money to pay men for part-time work.

The major thefts which caused the action have included those at Russ Davis' IGA food store, the State Liquor Store and Citizens Drugstore, all on Carolina Ave.

The liquor and drugstores are adjacent at the corner of 5th St. and Carolina.

Last night's session lasted more than two hours.

Marine outposts on Hill 881 and 861, just to the north, again came under sporadic enemy fire, newsmen were told.

North Vietnam was reported to have sent 10,000 more troops into South Vietnam's embattled northern provinces. A senior U.S. officer in Saigon quoted a defector as saying their goal is to wipe out American forces there to pave the way for negotiations.

The American: 2nd graf 137

The American officer said the North Vietnamese 304th Division has infiltrated into western Quang Tri Province, where the U.S. Marines have been under heavy pressure this week.

The U.S. source said a lieutenant who defected from the new division told allied interrogators the Communist objective was to launch an offensive against South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces which would "destroy American forces."

"A victory would be followed by negotiations," the defector said.

A number of high officials in the U.S. military command and the U.S. Embassy in Saigon believe that North Vietnam is about to launch a massive military campaign in an attempt to gain advantages for use at the negotiation table.

The lieutenant who defected was quoted as saying that the Communist battle plan against the northern frontier is considered so crucial that it is under the direction of the North Vietnamese Defense Ministry headed by Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap, the architect of the Communist victory over the French at Dien Bien Phu.

Negotiators Continue Meeting On Ware Pact

son Township in the southeastern part of the county in the proposed new 1st District instead of switching it into the 6th District as proposed in the Senate version.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-4 Wood said whether a floor vote would come today or Thursday depended on whether Democrats would give their support to suspension of a rule requiring measures to over for two legislative days.

Although redistricting took the limelight during one of the busiest days of the session, the governor's $850 million bond issue proposal got more static in testimony before the Senate Finance Committee.

Chancellor John D. Millett of the Ohio Board of Regents and Martin Janis, director of the Department of Mental Hygiene and Corrections, both said allocations proposed for their construction budgets were far short of needs.

Earlier Tuesday, the House passed and sent to the Senate a bill that would permit the issuance of revenue bonds for construction of state office buildings.

Up to ten per cent of the $700 million workmen's compensation trust fund could be tapped for purchase of the bonds and retirement would come from rents charged various departments for use of its facilities.

The vote was 73-16 with most of the opposition coming from Democrats. They included Rep. Richard M. Christiansen D-17 Richland who asserted a constitutional amendment removing the state's $750,000 bond debt limit should have been proposed instead.

The Senate received several new measures—among them a bill creating a division of bridge inspection to require annual inspection of all Ohio spans, including railroad bridges.

Other new bills would streamline budget procedures of county boards of education and clarify authority of school boards to borrow up to 50 per cent of the anticipated proceeds of voter-approved tax levies.

Sen. Anthony O. Calabrese D-22 Cleveland introduced a measure setting up an insurance regulation board with authority over rates and risk classifications.

The Senate Elections, Commerce, and Labor Committee recommended passage of a bill that sets a flexible filing deadline for congressional candidates awaiting final disposition of legislative redistricting.

Aliquippa and Ambridge played yesterday afternoon at Aliquippa in an important Section 3 game, but the results were kept as secret as possible.

Aliquippa is under WPIAL probation for numerous incidents involving its students, especially in games against traditional rival Ambridge, so the WPIAL decreed that the game be played right after school, with only Aliquippa students permitted to attend.

The WPIAL dictum said that press coverage would be normal, but Aliquippa did not quite live up to this. Normal press coverage, to my mind, means that any member of the press who wishes to cover an event may do so. Usually illegal exclusion of the press does not occur in sports, but in political reporting, with "closed" meetings of public bodies. But the Aliquippa officials, backed by WPIAL president Dr. Robert McNamara, ruled that only a representative of the paper that normally covers Aliquippa and Ambridge (The Beaver County Times), would be allowed at the game.

When a team is unbeaten in the strongest league in the state plays the defending state champion, which has an All-America cager on its team, especially when the two schools are traditional rivals, the game is of more than local interest. Because the game was being played in the afternoon, no matter what the reason for this, sportswriters who would be busy covering another school Tuesday evening would have a chance to see the game and report on it. But Aliquippa apparently has not heard of the first amendment to the U. S. Constitution dealing with Freedom of the Press.

Aliquippa has a bad reputation for student violence, possibly the worst reputation of any school in the WPIAL. There have been numerous incidents, some of them involving knifing, between Aliquippa students from rival schools. Two years ago Sharon, after an incident at Sharon involving Aliquippa students, wanted to break off relations, but the tradition bound up in Section 3 forced Sharon to continue to play Aliquippa.

So Aliquippa's reputation as a school of troublemakers already has been made.

The school is now making a reputation for not abiding by the constitution.

MIDLAND'S Norm Vanlier had a fine game as St. Francis upset previously unbeaten St. Peters 68-78 in Altoona Saturday night. Vanlier scored 23 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and handed off 16 assists. For this performance, he was named Western Pennsylvania College Player of the Week by the Pittsburgh Basketball Writers. On the season Vanlier is averaging 17.3 points and 11.5 rebounds per contest. Mercer's Bill Snodgrass leads St. Francis in scoring with a 20.1 average.

THE DUQUESNE Freshman team, coached by East Liverpool's Al Bailey, remains unbeaten after six games. The team is averaging 101 points a game, with Jarrett Durham of Aliquippa contributing 24 and the Nelson twins of Fox Chapel combining for 38.

ALL STATE Insurance has available for group showings a movie of the 1967 college football All-American team. Those interested may call the local agent at 385-5903.

DUQUESNE continues to advance in the national computer rating of Dr. E. E. Litkenhaus. The Dukes are up to eighth, with St. Bonaventure sixth. Ohio State is 10th, Toledo 13th and Cincinnati 14th.

Davis, Olich Pace 92-61 Victory

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Led by 6-6 center Mickey Davis and speedy guard Kirk Olich the Monaca Indians concluded the first half of Section 6 play with a 7-0 record by rolling over Midland 92-61 on the Leopards' floor Tuesday night.

Davis, playing about half the game because of foul trouble, scored 19 points, grabbed 20 rebounds, passed off when necessary, drove with ease through the Midland defense and handled the ball competently. Olich was deadly from the outside, hitting five in a row at one point, ran well on the effective Monaca fast break and was credited with 10 assists.

As a team the powerful Indians, now 14-1 on the season, shot 55 per cent from the floor and 78 per cent from the foul line. Midland hit 38 per cent from the field and a ridiculous 28 per cent from the charity stripe. Monaca controlled the boards 58-35.

Also in double figures for the winners was John Gecina with 21, while Dave Vanlier had 16 and Howard Leak 13 for the losers. Vanlier had 11 rebounds.

Midland held a brief early lead, and trailed only 10-8, but Monaca jumped out to 24-11 before the first period was over and the only question was whether the high - scoring Indins would hit 100, Otto Pritchard cleared his bench in the late stages and the subs couldn't make it.

Both teams fast broke and both pressed at times, with 20 turnovers for each team resulting. The Leopards worked the ball well at times, and got some good shots, but everything seemed to be rolling around the rim and out instead of in. Many of Monaca's shots weren't even hitting the rim, only the cords.

A flurry in the third period brought Midland back to 60-46, but Monaca, led by Gecina, ran off 16 straight points to put the game well out of reach and sent Ed Olkowski's charges down to their ninth defeat in 15 games and a 3-4 section mark. A 16-point streak decided the reserve 7contest, also. Greg Phillips hit a bucket at the beginning of the last period to make it 34-30 Midland, but the visitors scored 16 straight before Midland could tally again, with about two minutes left. Midland jumped off to a 6-0 lead and led most of the way during the first three periods, though never by more than six. Elbert (Bubba) Bynum led the losers with 11 while Tom Karczewski had 11 and Bob Ungarean 10 for Monaca. The key figure in the 16-point streak, however, was Bob Staff, who got 8 of his game high 14 rebounds then, many on the offensive board. Midland was outrebounded 17-7 in the final quarter and also hit only 1 of 9 field goal attempts.

Hull, Mikita, Orr Lead All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, Chicago's high scoring forwards, and defenseman Bobby Orr of Boston were named unanimously today to the National Hockey League's All-Star team for the opening half of the 1967-68 season.

Three veteran players, right winger Gordie Howe of Detroit and goalie Johnny Bower and defenseman Tim Horton of Toronto, also made the first team in a vote of the circuit's coaches.

The New York Rangers of the league's East Division and the six expansion teams in the new West Division were completely shut out as the five other East Division clubs dominated the second team.

Oak Glen Tops Madonna, 'Biff' Stanley Gets 35

With 6-6 Perry (Biff) Stanley having the greatest night of his varsity career the Oak Glen Golden Bears rolled over Weirton Madonna 82-61 at Oak Glen last night.

Stanley scored 35 points, hitting 16 of 22 field goal attempts, and pulled down 22 rebounds. His effort was three points short of the school scoring record.

John Roach added 15 points and Dan Crago 10, and each corralled 10 rebounds, as the winners controlled the boards 59-40. Matt Provenzano had 15 points and John Slanchik 10 for the losers.

Bob Starkey's team is now 6-6 on the year, while the Blue Dons are 7-4.

Oak Glen hit an excellent 40 per cent of its field goal attempts, as Stanley was connecting from close range. Pin-point passing penetrated the Weirton zone defense, with Roach recording eight assists and Jim Carne nine. The losers shot only 24 per cent.

The Golden Bears led 18-13 after one period and just kept widening the margin.

Rams Back On Track, Rout West Allegheny

South Side improved its Section 17 record to 4-1 with a 73-57 win over West Allegheny Tuesday night at South Side.

Ron Peden scored 24, Francis Nash 17 and Dan Hartzell 11 for John Nace's team, now 8-5, while West Allegheny, winless in league play and 5-8 on the year, was paced by 22 by John Mazer, 15 by Walt Kelly and 10 by John Siefert.

West Allegheny shot 40 per cent to 34 per cent by the home team, and controlled the boards 48-41, but the Rams had a press that was effective throughout the game and caused numerous turnovers. Peden had 20 rebounds.

The reserves won and the freshmen beat Monaca in overtime to complete a three game sweep for South Side Tuesday.

Pro Football Draft Set For Next Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has announced the ground rules and order of selection for professional football's second common draft of collegians.

The 26 pro teams will select 462 college players in 17 draft rounds next Tuesday and Wednesday here. Cincinnati, the American Football League's new expansion team, will have 42 picks—the most for any team—while the New York Giants of the National League will have the fewest number of choices—11.

The first pick belongs to Minnesota as a result of the trade which sent quarterback Fran Tarkenton to the Giants last year. After the Vikings make their choice, Cincinnati makes its initial selection.

The Bengals will have the first and last picks in each round as well as a second choice at the end of the second, third and fourth rounds. Cincinnati also gets all AFL choices except Miami's in the sixth round. The Dolphins were the first AFL expansion team two years ago.

Rozelle said each team would have 15 minutes for its selections in the first two rounds and five minutes for each selection after that.

Alabama's football team had a 17-game winning streak snapped in 1967 when the Crimson Tide played a 37-37 tie with Florida State.

Powerful Monaca Rolls Over Midland; 7-0 In Section

Sports Whirled

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Aliquippa and Ambridge played yesterday afternoon at Aliquippa in an important Section 3 game, but the results were kept as secret as possible.

Aliquippa is under WPIAL probation for numerous incidents involving its students, especially in games against traditional rival Ambridge, so the WPIAL decreed that the game be played right after school, with only Aliquippa students permitted to attend.

The WPIAL dictum said that press coverage would be normal, but Aliquippa did not quite live up to this. Normal press coverage, to my mind, means that any member of the press who wishes to cover an event may do so. Usually illegal exclusion of the press does not occur in sports, but in political reporting, with "closed" meetings of public bodies. But the Aliquippa officials, backed by WPIAL president Dr. Robert McNamara, ruled that only a representative of the paper that normally covers Aliquippa and Ambridge (The Beaver County Times), would be allowed at the game.

When a team is unbeaten in the strongest league in the state plays the defending state champion, which has an All-America cager on its team, especially when the two schools are traditional rivals, the game is of more than local interest. Because the game was being played in the afternoon, no matter what the reason for this, sportswriters who would be busy covering another school Tuesday evening would have a chance to see the game and report on it. But Aliquippa apparently has not heard of the first amendment to the U. S. Constitution dealing with Freedom of the Press.

Aliquippa has a bad reputation for student violence, possibly the worst reputation of any school in the WPIAL. There have been numerous incidents, some of them involving knifing, between Aliquippa students from rival schools. Two years ago Sharon, after an incident at Sharon involving Aliquippa students, wanted to break off relations, but the tradition bound up in Section 3 forced Sharon to continue to play Aliquippa.

So Aliquippa's reputation as a school of troublemakers already has been made.

The school is now making a reputation for not abiding by the constitution.

MIDLAND'S Norm Vanlier had a fine game as St. Francis upset previously unbeaten St. Peters 88-78 in Altoona Saturday night. Vanlier scored 23 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and handed off 16 assists. For this performance, he was named Western Pennsylvania College Player of the Week by the Pittsburgh Basketball Writers. On the season Vanlier is averaging 17.3 points and 11.5 rebounds per contest. Mercer's Bill Snodgrass leads St. Francis in scoring with a 20.1 average.

THE DUQUESNE Freshman team, coached by East Liverpool's Al Bailey, remains unbeaten after six games. The team is averaging 101 points a game, with Jarrett Durham of Aliquippa contributing 24 and the Nelson twins of Fox Chapel combining for 38.

ALL STATE Insurance has available for group showings a movie of the 1967 college football All-American team. Those interested may call the local agent at 385-5903.

DUQUESNE continues to advance in the national computer rating of Dr. E. E. Litkenhaus. The Dukes are up to eighth, with St. Bonaventure sixth. Ohio State is 10th, Toledo 13th and Cincinnati 14th.

Rams Back On Track, Rout West Allegheny

South Side improved its Section 17 record to 4-1 with a 73-57 win over West Allegheny Tuesday night at South Side.

Ron Peden scored 24, Francis Nash 17 and Dan Hartzell 11 for John Nace's team, now 8-5, while West Allegheny, winless in league play and 5-8 on the year, was paced by 22 by John Mazer, 15 by Walt Kelly and 10 by John Siefert.

West Allegheny shot 40 per cent to 34 per cent by the home team, and controlled the boards 48-41, but the Rams had a press that was effective throughout the game and caused numerous turnovers. Peden had 20 rebounds.

The reserves won and the freshmen beat Monaca in overtime to complete a three game sweep for South Side Tuesday.

Davis, Olich Pace 92-61 Victory

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

Led by 6-6 center Mickey Davis and speedy guard Kirk Olich the Monaca Indians concluded the first half of Section 6 play with a 7-0 record by rolling over Midland 92-61 on the Leopards' floor Tuesday night.

Davis, playing about half the game because of foul trouble, scored 19 points, grabbed 20 rebounds, passed off when necessary, drove with ease through the Midland defense and handled the ball competently. Olich was deadly from the outside, hitting five in a row at one point, ran well on the effective Monaca fast break and was credited with 10 assists.

As a team the powerful Indians, now 14-1 on the season, shot 55 per cent from the floor and 78 per cent from the foul line. Midland hit 38 per cent from the field and a ridiculous 28 per cent from the charity stripe. Monaca controlled the boards 58-35.

Also in double figures for the winners was John Gecina with 21, while Dave Vanlier had 16 and Howard Leak 13 for the losers. Vanlier had 11 rebounds.

Midland held a brief early lead, and trailed only 10-8, but Monaca jumped out to 24-11 before the first period was over and the only question was whether the high - scoring Indins would hit 100. Otto Pritchard cleared his bench in the late stages and the subs couldn't make it.

Both teams fast broke and both pressed at times, with 20 turnovers for each team resulting. The Leopards worked the ball well at times, and got some good shots, but everything seemed to be rolling around the rim and out instead of in. Many of Monaca's shots weren't even hitting the rim, only the cords.

A flurry in the third period brought Midland back to 60-46, but Monaca, led by Gecina, ran off 16 straight points to put the game well out of reach and sent Ed Olkowski's charges down to their ninth defeat in 15 games and a 3-4 section mark. A 16-point streak decided the reserve 7contest, also. Greg Phillips hit a bucket at the beginning of the last period to make it 34-30 Midland, but the visitors scored 16 straight before Midland could tally again, with about two minutes left. Midland jumped off to a 6-0 lead and led most of the way during the first three periods, though never by more than six. Elbert (Bubba) Bynum led the losers with 11 while Tom Karczewski had 11 and Bob Ungarean 10 for Monaca. The key figure in the 16-point streak, however, was Bob Staff, who got 8 of his game high 14 rebounds then, many on the offensive board. Midland was outrebounded 17-7 in the final quarter and also hit only 1 of 9 field goal attempts.

Hull, Mikita, Orr Lead All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita, Chicago's high scoring forwards, and defenseman Bobby Orr of Boston were named unanimously today to the National Hockey League's All-Star team for the opening half of the 1967-68 season.

Three veteran players, right winger Gordie Howe of Detroit and goalie Johnny Bower and defenseman Tim Horton of Toronto, also made the first team in a vote of the circuit's coaches.

The New York Rangers of the league's East Division and the six expansion teams in the new West Division were completely shut out as the five other East Division clubs dominated the second team.

Pro Football Draft Set For Next Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Pete Rozelle has announced the ground rules and order of selection for professional football's second common draft of collegians.

The 26 pro teams will select 462 college players in 17 draft rounds next Tuesday and Wednesday here. Cincinnati, the American Football League's new expansion team, will have 42 picks—the most for any team —while the New York Giants of the National League will have the fewest number of choices—11.

The first pick belongs to Minnesota as a result of the trade which sent quarterback Fran Tarkenton to the Giants last year. After the Vikings make their choice, Cincinnati makes its initial selection.

The Bengals will have the first and last picks in each round as well as a second choice at the end of the second, third and fourth rounds. Cincinnati also gets all AFL choices except Miami's in the sixth round. The Dolphins were the first AFL expansion team two years ago.

Rozelle said each team would have 15 minutes for its selections in the first two rounds and five minutes for each selection after that.

Oak Glen Tops Madonna, 'Biff' Stanley Gets 35

With 6-6 Perry (Biff) Stanley having the greatest night of his varsity career the Oak Glen Golden Bears rolled over Weirton Madonna 82-61 at Oak Glen last night.

Stanley scored 35 points, hitting 16 of 22 field goal attempts, and pulled down 22 rebounds. His effort was three points short of the school scoring record.

John Roach added 15 points and Dan Crago 10, and each corralled 10 rebounds, as the winners controlled the boards 59-40. Matt Provenzano had 15 points and John Slanchik 10 for the losers.

Bob Starkey's team is now 6-6 on the year, while the Blue Dons are 7-4.

Oak Glen hit an excellent 49 per cent of its field goal attempts, as Stanley was connecting from close range. Pin-point passing penetrated the Weirton zone defense, with Roach recording eight assists and Jim Carne nine. The losers shot only 24 per cent.

The Golden Bears led 18-13 after one period and just kept widening the margin.

Stanton Nips Southern As Indians Miss Fouls

Southern Local came within an eyelash of its first win of the season last night, but poor foul shooting proved the undoing of the Indians as they fell 56-54 at Stanton.

Al Girone's club could make only 8 of 19 free throws as it dropped its 14th straight. Outgoaled, Dave Murray's Red Raiders hit 14 of 23 charity tosses to win their fourth in 13 outings.

Southern trailed 27-19 at halftime, but came on strong in the third period to tie the score at 36-36. The Indians led 46-41 with 5:35 to go, and didn't fall behind until 30 seconds remained, when Randy Frampton hit a pair of foul tosses to break a 51-51 tie. Southern countered with one foul, but Cliff Slusher made a basket with 11 seconds remaining to make it 55-52.

Rob Carter of Southern was fouled and converted twice, but the visitors were still down one with nine seconds left. Jack Byers was fouled with two seconds showing, made one, and Slusher grabbed the rebound when he missed the second.

Frampton led Stanton with 19 points and Dave Olesky added 13. Carter had 17, George Thompson 11 and Frank Francis 10 for the losers.

Both teams shot 35 per cent for the game.

Southern won the reserve game, 45-36, as Bob Smith had 14 for the winners and Tim Furbee 17 for the losers.

Greer Most Valuable

NBA East Whips West

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Hannum, holding a fistful of aces, played his cards right and the East easily turned up with the winning hand in the National Basketball Association All-Star game.

Calling on a smattering of talent, pride, competition and teamwork, the East clobbered the West 144-124 Tuesday night before a record 18,422 fans in Madison Square Garden.

The winning pot was not much —$500 for the winners and $300 for the losers—but it served to help rub out the memory of last year's 145-120 upset victory by the West. The East had won four straight before that game and now has captured 12 of 18 classics.

Oscar Robertson's 13 points and 12 by John Havlicek helped the East to an early 14-point lead which the West managed to cut to 64-59 at the half. And when Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Jim King put the West ahead momentarily early in the third quarter, the East played its trump card—Hal Greer.

The Philadelphia guard scored seven straight points for an 80-75 lead and continued on to outscore the West 14-4 for an 87-79 spread and it grew from there. Greer finished with 19 points in the quarter, an All-Star record, and totaled 21 for the game. His performance won him the Most Valuable Player award.

Russell and Havlicek took over in the final period, along with Jerry Lucas and Robertson of Cincinnati and Willis Reed and Dick Barnett of New York, and turned the game into a rout. Havlicek finished with 26 points, five more than Greer.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West paced the West with 22 and 17 points, respectively.

Sets New Grid Ticket Prices

A new ticket price schedule for football and the purchase of new bleachers for the football field were approved by the Beaver Local Athletic Association at its quarterly meeting last night.

In 1968 reserved seats for football will be sold only on a season basis, with a ticket for the five home games costing $5. Adult tickets sold at the gate will be $1.25 while student tickets remain $.50. Season tickets may be ordered any time by calling 385-5615.

Two new bleacher sections, with a total seating of 400, will be purchased. This will increase the seating capacity of the field to 2,500.

The possibility of a golf team for this spring was discussed, but no official action was taken. A baseball budget of $588 was approved, a track budget of $296 was approved and a football budget of $5,522.07 was approved.

Wrestling expenses to date have been $423, while income has been $155. Basketball expenses to date have been $1,657 while income has been $2,061.45. There is $700 more anticipated in basketball income and $150 more anticipated in wrestling income. The association has a $928 balance and expects $1,615 in expense until the end of the season.

Arnie Palmer Defending L.A. Golf Title

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The 42nd annual Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament gets under way Thursday with many familiar faces on deck but on a new course and, in fact, in a new city.

The most familiar face is that of Arnold Palmer, a three-time winner of the event and the defending champion.

The setting is the 7,100 yard, 36-35—71 Brookside Golf Course, a revamped municipal course sprawling hard by Pasadena's famed Rose Bowl.

The professionals teamed with amateurs in today's pro-am preliminary to the main show—72 holes which is scheduled to wind up Sunday.

Notably absent is the U.S. Open champion, Jack Nicklaus, who has played but twice in the Los Angeles fixture since he turned pro in 1961 and made his debut in the 1962 Los Angeles tournament.

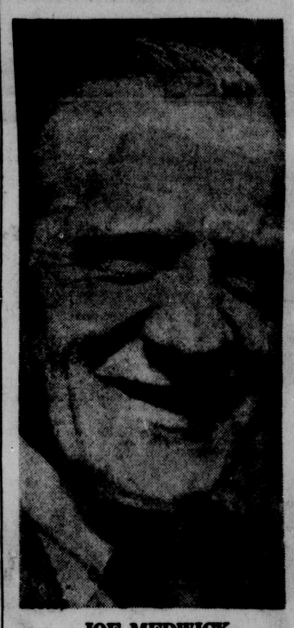
Reds Sign Three

CINCINNATI (AP) — Shortstop Leo Cardenas, outfielder Mac Jones and catcher John Bench became today the first signed contracts for the 1968 season, club officials announced.

Medwick In Hall Of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Medwick, baseball's newest Hall of Famer and a .300 batter during 14 of his 17 National League seasons, blames the increased emphasis on power for the recent decrease in the number of .300 hitters.

"They are all going for the long ball, but that can be corrected," said the swaggering hero of the St. Louis Cards' rambunctious Gas House Gang of the 1930s.



JOE MEDWICK

Medwick was voted into the Hall Tuesday, less than a week after being named a batting instructor for players on the Cards' minor league teams.

"The averages are also lower today because of the platoon system and the fact that the batters often have to face three different pitchers before a game is over," Medwick explained.

"These days," he added, "you can win a triple crown with a .326 batting average," obviously referring to the mark compiled by Boston's Carl Yastrzemski in winning the American League's triple crown last season.

There were only 16 players on the 20 big league teams who hit .300 or higher in 1967. When Medwick captured the NL's triple crown with a .374 mark in 1937, 54 players on the 16 clubs finished with .300 or more.

A total of 48 players received votes in the Hall of Fame balloting by 283 members of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

However, Medwick was the only one to be named on the required 75 per cent or more of the ballots. He received 240 votes, 27 more than necessary for election.

Roy Campanella, the former catching great of the Brooklyn Dodgers and a three-time winner of the NL's Most Valuable Player Award, missed election by only eight votes. He received 205.

Lou Boudreau, former shortstop and manager of the Cleveland Indians, was third with 146.

Muskies Win Easily Over Kentucky

By The Associated Press

That Jones Boy, as some refer to Jimmy Jones of the New Orleans Buccaneers, threw in 23 points Tuesday night to spark the Bucs to a 112-104 victory over the Dallas Chaparrals in the American Basketball Association.

In other games, also home court triumphs, Minnesota crushed Kentucky 120-97 and Oakland snapped a six-game losing streak by defeating Houston 120-110.

Jones hit for three straight baskets in the second half and later put New Orleans ahead for good at 90-89 against Dallas with a layup. Doug Moe of New Orleans was banished in the third quarter after coming to blows with Cincy Powell of Dallas, who also was ejected.

Les Hunter got 24 points to pace Minnesota over Kentucky for the Muskies' ninth straight home victory and their fourth in a row. Darel Carrier topped the Colonels with 20.

Jim Hadnot's 30 points led Oakland over Houston. Willie Somerset, with 26 points, 22 of them in the second half, topped the Mavericks.

Stanton Nips Southern As Indians Miss Fouls

Southern Local came within an eyelash of its first win of the season last night, but poor foul shooting proved the undoing of the Indians as they fell 56-54 at Stanton.

Al Girone's club could make only 8 of 19 free throws as it dropped its 14th straight. Outgoaled, Dave Murray's Red Raiders hit 14 of 23 charity tosses to win their fourth in 13 outings.

Southern trailed 27-19 at halftime, but came on strong in the third period to tie the score at 36-36. The Indians led 46-41 with 5:35 to go, and didn't fall behind until 30 seconds remained, when Randy Frampton hit a pair of foul tosses to break a 51-51 tie. Southern countered with one foul, but Cliff Slusher made a basket with 11 seconds remaining to make it 55-52.

Rob Carter of Southern was fouled and converted twice, but the visitors were still down one with nine seconds left. Jack Byers was fouled with two seconds showing, made one, and Slusher grabbed the rebound when he missed the second.

Frampton led Stanton with 19 points and Dave Olesky added 13. Carter had 17, George Thompson 11 and Frank Francis 10 for the losers.

Both teams shot 35 per cent for the game.

Southern won the reserve game, 45-36, as Bob Smith had 14 for the winners and Tim Furbee 17 for the losers.

Greer Most Valuable

NBA East Whips West

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Alex Hannum, holding a fistful of aces, played his cards right and the East easily turned up with the winning hand in the National Basketball Association All-Star game.

Calling on a smattering of talent, pride, competition and teamwork, the East clobbered the West 144-124 Tuesday night before a record 18,422 fans in Madison Square Garden.

The winning pot was not much —$500 for the winners and $300 for the losers—but it served to help rub out the memory of last year's 145-120 upset victory by the West. The East had won four straight before that game and now has captured 12 of 18 classics.

Oscar Robertson's 13 points and 12 by John Havlicek helped the East to an early 14-point lead which the West managed to cut to 64-59 at the half. And when Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Jim King put the West ahead momentarily early in the third quarter, the East played its trump card—Hal Greer.

The Philadelphia guard scored seven straight points for an 80-75 lead and continued on to outscore the West 14-4 for an 87-79 spread and it grew from there. Greer finished with 19 points in the quarter, an All-Star record, and totaled 21 for the game. His performance won him the Most Valuable Player award.

Russell and Havlicek took over in the final period, along with Jerry Lucas and Robertson of Cincinnati and Willis Reed and Dick Barnett of New York, and turned the game into a rout. Havlicek finished with 26 points, five more than Greer.

Elgin Baylor and Jerry West paced the West with 22 and 17 points, respectively.

Williams Stars, Iowa Wins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam Williams, one of the best college basketball players in the Big Ten, came up with one of his outstanding performances for Iowa against Michigan State.

He flipped in 33 points to bring the Hawkeyes from behind for a 76-71 victory over the Spartans at East Lansing Tuesday night and a tie for first place with Northwestern.

The fifth-ranked Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, romped to a 103-74 victory over Detroit at Olean, N.Y.

In other major games, Lousville edged Dayton 73-72 at Louisville and Canisius went overtime to down Cornell 83-79 at Ithaca.

Also Oklahoma City scored over Southern Methodist 93-82 at Oklahoma City, Vermont upset Massachusetts 85-82 in overtime at Burlington, Vt., and Oregon scored on the road over Portland 74-56.

Iowa was down by six points, 38-32, at halftime but Williams cut loose for a 19-point second half performance that brought victory to the Hawkeyes.

Michigan State used three different players to defend against Williams, but they couldn't stop the former Detroit high school player.

Bill Butler, with 29, and Bob Lanier, with 28, combined for 57 points to lead unbeaten St. Bonaventure to its 14th straight. Bill Kalbaugh helped by stealing the ball eight times from Detroit.

Louisville almost blew a 15- but the Cardinals hung on to beat Dayton. Don May of Dayton was high scorer with 27 points while Dan Obrovac, a 6-foot-10 soph, scored all of his 15 points in the second-half Dayton comeback.

Westley Unseld topped Louisville with 20 points.

Tony Masiello scored 28 points, 10 of them in the extra period, to pace Canisius over Cornell. The Big Red, led by Greg Morris' 23 points, wiped out a 10-point deficit in the last two minutes to tie the regulation game at 69-69.

Rich Travis' 34 points paced Oklahoma City over SMU and Dave Lapointe's 10-foot bank shot with 21 seconds left in the overtime gave Vermont its surprise win over Massachusetts.

At the time, Vermont trailed 82-81. Don Katz added two free throws for the final points.

Louisville Nips Dayton Despite 27 By Don May

By The Associated Press

The Dayton Flyers helped make Louisville's homecoming a success Tuesday night. But it was not their intention.

The Cardinals, playing at home for the first time in six weeks, nipped the Flyers 73-72 in a sloppily played basketball game.

It was the highlight of a light Ohio schedule. In other games, Wittenberg defeated Heidelberg for the 13th straight time, 61-48; Baldwin-Wallace won its fifth game in the last six, a 75-65 decision over Hiram; Rio Grande outlasted Cumberland, Ky., 111-103; Manchester, Ind., edged Bluffton 79-76; Cedarville beat Urbana 97-85, and Wilberforce downed Franklin of Columbus 120-112.

Louisville had a 15-point lead against Dayton with 12 minutes to go, but had to scramble the rest of the way against the Flyers' zone defense. The Cardinals needed a free throw by reserve Gordon Minner with seven seconds remaining to get the victory.

Don May threw in 27 points for Dayton, now 7-9 on the season. Louisville was led by Westley Unseld with 20 points.

Wittenberg's "Mr. Clutch," Don Corfman, put the Tigers in front of Heidelberg for good with two quick baskets with about 10 minutes remaining.

The Tigers were led by Stan Starkey with 15 points and Corfman with 14. Heidelberg's high point man was Mike Fisher with 13.

Ted Johnson scored 22 points in Baldwin-Wallace's Ohio Conference victory over Hiram.

Tony Bass poured in 47 points and a teammate Bob Mabry added 35 to lead Rio Grande past Cumberland.

Yastrzemski Received By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson laid aside cares of state and received Carl Yastrzemski, the American League Most Valuable Player who led the Boston Red Sox to the 1967 AL baseball pennant.

"With all the problems in the world and at home there's no better answer than good healthy sports," the President said in accepting a bat from the Red Sox slugger at the White House ceremony Tuesday.

Yastrzemski said it was the thrill of a lifetime to meet the President, who in his youth played sandlot ball as a left-handed hitting first baseman.

Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert was at the ceremony along with Boston Manager Dick Williams, Joe DiMaggio of the Oakland Athletics, San Francisco pitcher Mike McCormick, Mrs. Yastrzemki and his parents.

Utah Football Coaching Job To Bill Meek

By The Associated Press

Bill Meek is leaving Army to become head football coach at the University of Utah.

The assistant to Tom Cahill, head coach at West Point, was named to his new post Tuesday by the Utah board of regents. He was given a three-year contract at $18,000 a year and permission to appoint five assistants.

Meek's appointment to succeed the resigned Mike Giddings was one of several changes in the coaching ranks Tuesday.

In the others, Eddie Kriwiel became head coach at Wichita State succeeding Boyd Converse and Jerry Lyons resigned as head coach at Portland State.

The sassafras tree bears leaves of three different shapes.

California Negroes Protesting

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Negro athletes on the University of California Berkeley campus are demanding better treatment, saying they will boycott varsity sports if it isn't forthcoming.

Some two dozen of the university's 40 Negro athletes outlined complaints at a news conference Tuesday, including a demand for replacement of three Berkeley campus coaches "for reasons of their inability or unwillingness to relate to black athletes and their general incompetence."

Acting as spokesman for the group was Bobby Smith, defensive halfback on the All-Pacific-8-Conference team who also played in the East-West and Hula Bowl games.

The protesting athletes suggested no specific replacements, but one of their demands was that the school make a sincere effort to hire coaches with minority background.

Neither Herrerias nor Athletic Director Pete Newell would comment. Newell said he was trying to meet with the Negro athletes.

'Feather' Winstone Regains Title

LONDON (AP) — Howard Winstone of Britain claimed the world featherweight boxing title today and headed back to his home in Wales to appear in a divorce action against his wife.

Winstone, 28, stopped Mitsunori Seki of Japan after one minute, 44 seconds of the ninth round in their scheduled 15-rounder Tuesday night at London's Royal Albert Hall.

"Having got the title I guess I'm all ready to face up to the domestic side of things," Winstone said.

Winstone was to turn up in the Welsh divorce court to begin proceedings against his wife Bentia, who, he claims, deserted him after his unsuccessful title bout against former world champion Vicente Saldivar in Mexico last October.

Saldivor, now retired, was at the ringside among a crowd of 6,000 who saw the English referee make a controversial decision against Seki.

Seki said he was so disappointed at the result that he was retiring from the ring.

Shoemaker Breaks Leg In Mishap

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, perhaps the most famous jockey in the world today, broke a bone in his right thigh in a spill at Santa Anita race track and there's no telling when he will ride again.

The mishap to the 36-year-old Texas-born "Shoe," who has ridden many of the world's best known thoroughbreds, the latest of which is Damascus, happened in the second race Tuesday.

The 12-horse field was rounding into the stretch when Juan Gonzalez' mount, Kodiak Kid, tripped on the heels of another horse, Jack's Aloha ridden by Manuel Ycaza.

Shoemaker's mount, Bel Bush, tripped over Kodiak Kid, as the rest of the field thundered past.

Gonzalez and Shoemaker sprawled on the track, Gonzalez with a minor leg injury, Shoemaker with a broken leg, his most serious injury in his 19-year career. He was in many previous spills, but always escaped with minor bruises.

Shoemaker was taken to the Daniel Freeman Hospital in nearby Inglewood and underwent surgery by Dr. Robert Kerlen.

Dub Jones Resigns From Brown Staff

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a new three-year contract and a reorganized staff, Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier is already in the starting gate for the 1968 National Football League season.

"I am delighted," Collier said Tuesday when the Browns announced the new contract. "We have a job ahead in rebuilding our team. I'm eagerly looking ahead."

These were the changes:

—Offensive coach Dub Jones resigned.

—Defensve coach Nick Skorich will handle the offense.

—Dick Modzelewski, a former Browns defensive tackle, will take over the defense.

"I'm in the spot of feeling sorry that Dub is leaving but pleased that we have a fellow like Nick to take over the job," said Collier, who is starting his sixth year as head coach of the Browns.

FOUR CLUES TO DRUG ADDICTION

Many a parent has learned to their dismay that one of their children has become a drug addict. Usually by the time this information becomes known, it is because the child is in serious trouble as both a drug user and a criminal to procure his daily supply.

Look for these symptoms: 1) A good scholar becomes erratic for no apparent reason. 2) A shy child becomes talkative. 3) A truthful child starts telling lies and plays truant. 4) A healthy child loses weight and is unable to sleep. These characteristics indicate a possible, but not positive drug addiction.

Williams Stars, Iowa Wins

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sam Williams, one of the best college basketball players in the Big Ten, came up with one of his outstanding performances for Iowa against Michigan State.

He flipped in 33 points to bring the Hawkeyes from behind for a 76-71 victory over the Spartans at East Lansing Tuesday night and a tie for first place with Northwestern.

The fifth-ranked Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, romped to a 103-74 victory over Detroit at Olean, N.Y.

In other major games, Lousville edged Dayton 73-72 at Louisville and Canisius went overtime to down Cornell 83-79 at Ithaca.

Also Oklahoma City scored over Southern Methodist 93-82 at Oklahoma City, Vermont upset Massachusetts 85-82 in overtime at Burlington, Vt., and Oregon scored on the road over Portland 74-56.

Iowa was down by six points, 38-32, at halftime but Williams cut loose for a 19-point second half performance that brought victory to the Hawkeyes.

Michigan State used three different players to defend against Williams, but they couldn't stop the former Detroit high school player.

Bill Butler, with 29, and Bob Lanier, with 28, combined for 57 points to lead unbeaten St. Bonaventure to its 14th straight. Bill Kalbaugh helped by stealing the ball eight times from Detroit.

Louisville almost blew a 15- but the Cardinals hung on to beat Dayton. Don May of Dayton was high scorer with 27 points while Dan Obrovac, a 6-foot-10 soph, scored all of his 15 points in the second-half Dayton comeback.

Westley Unseld topped Louisville with 20 points.

Tony Masiello scored 28 points, 10 of them in the extra period, to pace Canisius over Cornell. The Big Red, led by Greg Morris' 23 points, wiped out a 10-point deficit in the last two minutes to tie the regulation game at 69-69.

Rich Travis' 34 points paced Oklahoma City over SMU and Dave Lapointe's 10-foot bank shot with 21 seconds left in the overtime gave Vermont its surprise win over Massachusetts.

At the time, Vermont trailed 82-81, Don Katz added two free throws for the final points.

Louisville Nips Dayton Despite 27 By Don May

California Negroes Protesting

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Negro athletes on the University of California Berkeley campus are demanding better treatment, saying they will boycott varsity sports if it isn't forthcoming.

Some two dozen of the university's 40 Negro athletes outlined complaints at a news conference Tuesday, including a demand for replacement of three Berkeley campus coaches "for reasons of their inability or unwillingness to relate to black athletes and their general incompetence."

Acting as spokesman for the group was Bobby Smith, defensive halfback on the All-Pacific-8-Conference team who also played in the East-West and Hula Bowl games.

The protesting athletes suggested no specific replacements, but one of their demands was that the school make a sincere effort to hire coaches with minority background.

Neither Herrerias nor Athletic Director Pete Newell would comment. Newell said he was trying to meet with the Negro athletes.

'Feather' Winstone Regains Title

LONDON (AP) — Howard Winstone of Britain claimed the world featherweight boxing title today and headed back to his home in Wales to appear in a divorce action against his wife.

Winstone, 28, stopped Mitsunori Seki of Japan after one minute, 44 seconds of the ninth round in their scheduled 15-rounder Tuesday night at London's Royal Albert Hall.

"Having got the title I guess I'm all ready to face up to the domestic side of things," Winstone said.

Winstone was to turn up in the Welsh divorce court to begin proceedings against his wife Bentia, who, he claims, deserted him after his unsuccessful title bout against former world champion Vicente Saldivar in Mexico last October.

Saldivor, now retired, was at the ringside among a crowd of 6,000 who saw the English referee make a controversial decision against Seki.

Seki said he was so disappointed at the result that he was retiring from the ring.

Shoemaker Breaks Leg In Mishap

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Willie Shoemaker, perhaps the most famous jockey in the world today, broke a bone in his right thigh in a spill at Santa Anita race track and there's no telling when he will ride again.

The mishap to the 36-year-old Texas-born "Shoe," who has ridden many of the world's best known thoroughbreds, the latest of which is Damascus, happened in the second race Tuesday.

The 12-horse field was rounding into the stretch when Juan Gonzalez' mount, Kodiak Kid, tripped on the heels of another horse, Jack's Aloha ridden by Manuel Ycaza.

Shoemaker's mount, Bel Bush, tripped over Kodiak Kid, as the rest of the field thundered past.

Gonzalez and Shoemaker sprawled on the track, Gonzalez with a minor leg injury, Shoemaker with a broken leg, his most serious injury in his 19-year career. He was in many previous spills, but always escaped with minor bruises.

Shoemaker was taken to the Daniel Freeman Hospital in nearby Inglewood and underwent surgery by Dr. Robert Kerlen.

Dub Jones Resigns From Brown Staff

CLEVELAND (AP) — With a new three-year contract and a reorganized staff, Cleveland Browns' Coach Blanton Collier is already in the starting gate for the 1968 National Football League season.

"I am delighted," Collier said Tuesday when the Browns announced the new contract. "We have a job ahead in rebuilding our team. I'm eagerly looking ahead."

These were the changes:

—Offensive coach Dub Jones resigned.

—Defensve coach Nick Skorich will handle the offense.

—Dick Modzelewski, a former Browns defensive tackle, will take over the defense.

"I'm in the spot of feeling sorry that Dub is leaving but pleased that we have a fellow like Nick to take over the job," said Collier, who is starting his sixth year as head coach of the Browns.

Communist China has the world's largest population.

FOUR CLUES TO DRUG ADDICTION
Many a parent has learned to their dismay that one of their children has become a drug addict. Usually by the time this information becomes known, it is because the child is in serious trouble as both a drug user and a criminal to procure his daily supply.
Look for these symptoms: 1) A good scholar becomes erratic for no apparent reason. 2) A shy child becomes talkative. 3) A truthful child starts telling lies and plays truant. 4) A healthy child loses weight and is unable to sleep. These characteristics indicate a possible, but not positive drug addiction.

Sudden Death

Medics Probe To Block Impulses

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Medics are looking for ways to block brain impulses, triggered at times by fear or panic, which can switch off a healthy human heart and cause sudden death.

Studies on how to short-circuit the killer impulses are under way at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

The fatal brain impulses can be brought about by several factors, said Dr. Stewart Wolf, director of the neurosciences section of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

"Drowning victims," he said, often are found to have no water in their lungs. "The patient just died of a turned-off heart as a result of fear or panic . . . the same could be true of those who died from snakebites." He added that only 15 to 20 per cent of snakebite fatalities have had enough venom to kill them.

"Heart attacks occur most frequently," Wolf said, "in those emotionally upset, those depressed, or those at the end of their rope, shunned by a tight society, with no place to turn.

"'Sudden death may be due to a combination, which may include heart damage, chronic emotional states such as dejection and discouragement or other factors, such as overwhelming or sudden fear."

Wolf said "we know it is possible to activate in animals the brain mechanism which turns off the heart. You can do it in a number of ways. We are experimenting in various methods of blocking the mechanism."

"The uncertainty of when it's going to happen," he added, is the biggest hurdle facing the researchers.

"It's too early to get into the methods," Wolf said. "There isn't any pill . . . there are maneuvers we can use in animal work which we can't use in humans at this time. We're working with animals to try to develop a practical way to do it with humans."

Last week a Yale University medical school researcher told an Oklahoma City symposium that a device to help control heart activity through stimulation of parts of the brain will be tried on humans within a year.

Dr. Jose M. R. Delgado said the device will be similar to the pacemaker which now can be implanted in the chest cavity to regulate the heart beat with electrical impulses. He said the brain device will be implanted under the skin of the head and could be activated by an outside radio. He said the device initially will be used to learn which areas of the brain control which activities of the heart.

"We must reverse the long held general opinion that the heart controls the brain," Delgado said. "We're finding it is the brain which controls blood pressure, hypertension, heart rate, heart rhythm and electrocardiogram activity."

Ohio Youth Held On Murder Count

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—An 18-year-old Barberton youth was held on a murder charge today after leading police to the body of a man he is accused of killing.

Assistant Prosecutor William Gore said the youth, Dennis Pounds, was charged with first-degree murder Tuesday in the death of Clifton Hendon, 42, who had been missing since Jan. 13.

Police said Pounds led them to a creek in Barberton where Hendon's body was recovered.

Pounds and Hendon lived in the same apartment building here. Hendon was reported missing after he failed to report for work at Commercial Motor Freight, where he had been employes for 21 years.

Police said a mysterious fire last Thursday caused $10,000 damage to the apartment building where Hendon lived and on the same day they found Hendon's car, stripped of all identification, abandoned in Akron.

Reservist Wins Fight Against Call To Army

CLEVELAND (AP)— Reservist James Jackson of Akron apparently has won his fight against being called to active duty with the Army for missing drills.

His lawyer, John W. Reece, said Tuesday that the 20th Army Corps has withdrawn an order that would have put Jackson, with only four months left of a six-year reserve obligation, on active duty for 18 months.

Jackson, 28, filed suit in U.S. District Court here last week calling the Army order a "cruel and unusual punishment" which violates the eighth amendment of the Constitution.

Jackson said two of his absences from drill last year were caused by sickness and that car trouble caused him to be late twice.

Medics Probe To Block Impulses

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Medics are looking for ways to block brain impulses, triggered at times by fear or panic, which can switch off a healthy human heart and cause sudden death.

Studies on how to short-circuit the killer impulses are under way at the University of Oklahoma Medical Center.

The fatal brain impulses can be brought about by several factors, said Dr. Stewart Wolf, director of the neurosciences section of the Oklahoma Medical Research Foundation.

"Drowning victims," he said, often are found to have no water in their lungs. Liquor Tax Defended By W. Va. Aide

CHARLESTON (AP) — Complaints from private clubs about the special liquor tax are unjustified, State Alcohol Beverage Control Commissioner H. Coleman Nichols told the House Finance Committee Tuesday.

Clubs pay a special $1.25 tax per fifth or 60 cents per pint of liquor.

"The clubs all says it's too high, but yet they buy a fifth of bar whisky for about $5.75, including the tax, and sell 20 or more drinks out of it for about $1 each," Nichols said.

"They make at least $14 a bottle, which is a pretty good profit," he added.

Nichols stated special liquor tax revenues totaled $522,788 during the first half of this fiscal year. License fees amounted to $469,875.

"This is a total of $992,633 for the first half, so, according to our projections, total income from private clubs this fiscal year should be $2 million," he said.

Nichols requested a 15.6 per cent ABC budget increase for the coming fiscal year. The ABC's budget totaled $4,787,385 during the 1967-68 fiscal year.

The increased funds would be used to boost salaries about 8 per cent and to hire several new employes to inspect private clubs.

"Frankly, we could do a better job of inspecting these clubs for violations, but we will tighten up and already we are closing some," he said.

According to Nichols, the most common violation is staying open after legal closing hours.

There are more than 730 licensed private clubs in West Virginia.

Then you'd discover the crust is short and flaky like your own.

You'd discover the fruit is the kind you'd use.. the best...juicy, not stiff with starch.

And if you popped a Jane Parker Pie into the oven and warmed it before serving, you'd discover a pie you'd be proud to call your own.

This week, be adventurous...try one.
What have you got to lose?
After all, if we sell it,
it's guaranteed to please.

Are Jane Parker Pies a good reason

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. space scientists have released photographs made on the surface of the moon showing twin laser beams aimed at Surveyor VII from two points in the western United States, 244,000 miles away.

Two pinpoints of light are visible in a dark area of the photo, just to the left of the bright crescent curve of the earth. They were beamed from the Kitt Peak National Observatory, Tucson, Ariz., and from the Jet Propulsion Laboratory's Table Mountain observatory at Wrightwood, Calif.

The laser rays were photographed by cameras mounted on Surveyor VII which relayed the photos to receivers on earth.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal controls to hold down rising costs of the medicare health program have been urged by an AFL-CIO spokesman.

Bert Seidman, the labor federation's Social Security director, said a reimbursement system for doctors and hospitals should not "permit them to decide for themselves, exclusively, what their charges will be."

There's no justification, he said, for the rise in premium charges from $3 to $4 for the voluntary medical insurance. The hikes, announced by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, takes effect April 1.

Capital Footnotes

The Agriculture Department says it will make no changes in its 1968 cotton production adjustment program.

The Department of Interior says it will cut about $120 million from its controllable obligations during the rest of the current fiscal year. It said new irrigation projects in the west would be most severely affected.

"Heave to or I will open fire on you."—The message received by the U.S.S. Pueblo just before she was boarded and seized by North Koreans in the Sea of Japan.

"A dastardly act of piracy."—Rep. William H. Bates, R-Mass., ranking Republican on the House Armed Services Committee.

"All I can do is hope and pray for his safety. It's in God's hands."—Mrs. Rose Bucher, whose husband, Cmdr. L. M. Bucher, the Pueblo's captain, was seized with his 82 officers and men by the Communist vessels.

Council Acts On Housing At Wellsville

Wellsville Council voted to apply for a phase of federal low-rent housing during a special session Tuesday night.

The approved resolution will be submitted to the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, which, in turn, will present it to the district office in Chicago for final approval.

Wayne Rose, Council president, pointed out that the term "existing" can apply to structures newly built specifically for the program.

Under the program, the owner of a structure is guaranteed a pre-determined rent. The occupant pays according to ability based on a federal-established formula — for example, 25 per cent of his income — with the government paying the balance.

Councilmanic action was the first step necessary in launching the application for participation.

Nunzio Lombardozzi, Third Ward councilman, pointed out that although the city did not qualify for other federal housing programs because it failed to meet requirements in time, it may be eligible for other phases later.

It is possible to participate in more than one program at the same time, he said.

Rate Increase Requested To Pass On Tax

One of two utilities to be taxed by New Cumberland Council has asked for a rate increase in order to pass the tax onto the customers.

The West Virginia Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing March 14 on the proposal of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. to increase iits natural gas rates in New Cumberland.

The company has proposed an annual increase which would bring in $3,500 additional revenue from 577 customers.

John J. Eagan, area manager, said the company's policy is to pass along such taxes to the customer. He pointed out it has been done in a number of other communities along the river served by the company.

Council has passed a 3 per cent gross sales tax on utilities serving New Cumberland in order to provide additional operating funds.

The increase asked amounts to 3.218 per cent.

Burned Child Ready For Hospital Release

Cindy Duke, 4-year-old city girl burned Dec. 15 when her clothing ignited from a stove at home, is scheduled to be returned Sunday from the Shrine Burns Institute at Cincinnati where she was taken by airplane Dec. 27.

Daughter of Mrs. Linda Duke of Oak St., the child was taken to the institute as a project of the East Liverpool Shrine Club by a committee headed by Earl Roush.

Physicians at the institute yesterday advised Mrs. Duke her daughter has responded to the further treatment there and could be returned home.

Man Injured In Structure Hit By Truck

A Warren man was injured when a truck struck a Route 14 restaurant and a New Waterford woman was cited for driving while intoxicated in two mishaps investigated early today by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

Norman E. Wilhelm, 47, of W. Main St., New Waterford, was headed west and attempting to pass another vehicle on Route 14 about a half-mile west of Route 7 and 6:45 when he lost control of his 1966 pickup truck.

The truck went off the south side of the road and struck the Beeman's Truck Stop building, causing moderate damage and injuring Frederick Stillwagon, 50, of Warren who was inside.

Wilhelm, unhurt, was cited for speeding.

Dorothy M. Gaskill, 48, of Maple Dr., New Waterford, escaped injury when her 1965 auto struck a parked car on W. Main St., New Waterford, at 1:15 a.m. today and she continued on without halting, the patrol said.

Her sedan struck a parked 1964 auto owned by Mary Jane Clark of Neeld Rd., East Palestine. She was cited for driving while intoxicated.

Elwood Show, 37, of Lisbon RD 5 was cited after a collision with a County Highway Department truck on County Rd. 427 about a mile west of Route 7 Tuesday at 7:30 a. m.

Officers said Show was headed north, lost control and his 1964 sedan slid left of center, hitting the truck driven by William J. Duke, 64, of RD 4.

The two drivers were shaken, and James Show, 28, of Center Rd., East Liverpool, passenger in the car, was taken to City Hospital. The older Show was charged with driving left of center.

James R. Payne, 19, of Irondale RD 2 and Evelyn S. McIntosh, 42, of Salineville RD 2 were cited after their vehicles collided on Township Rd. 1002 about two miles east of Route 45 at 9:20 a.m. yesterday.

The patrol said Payne was headed west and the woman east when his 1956 sedan and her 1961 stationwagon collided. Both were charged with failure to yield half of the highway.

Hays Applies Brakes To His Trips Abroad

WASHINGTON — In line with President Johnson's appeal for reduced traveling abroad, Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Ohio District, says he will make no trips to foreign countires this year.

He commented that he hopes the State Department will follow his example.

As chairman of the subcommittee on State Department organization and foreign operations, Hays had planned to go to London to look in on the U.S. embassy there. He suspects there may be more U.S. employes there than they know what to do with.

"Just about every U.S. agency has its own foreign service over there," Hays said.

But now he has decided not to go, "because it would be hard to get across to the public what I was trying to accomplish."

Although he may curb his own wandering, he does not expect to back President Johnson's call for a tax on travel abroad by Americans.

"If I did that, I'd have to oppose foreign aid," Hays said. "I couldn't ask Americans not to spend their money abroad and then send out U.S. dollars to buy Cadillacs for every pipsqueak in Africa.

"If we got some assurance that the government was cutting down on its traveling, we might be in a position to ask civilians to stay home."

Colder Weather Due Tonight For District

The "cold war" is on again in earnest — at least for tonight.

The forecast calls for clear and quite cold, with a low of from zero to 5 above.

Increasing cloudiness and not so cold is the prediction for Thursday.

Temperatures Thursday through Monday are due to average near normal, with highs in the 30s and lows in the low 20s.

Thursday and Friday will be warmer, the weekend colder and it will warm a little next week. Light snow or flurries late Thursday and Friday and again early next week will average .25 inch or less melted.

Council Acts On Housing At Wellsville

Wellsville Council voted to apply for a phase of federal lowrent housing during a special session Tuesday night.

The approved resolution will be submitted to the Columbiana Metropolitan Housing Authority, which, in turn, will present it to the district office in Chicago for final approval.

The legislators acted under Section 23 of the U.S. Housing Act of 1937 which provides for a "lease program," federal aid being provided for the leasing of "existing privately - owned structures."

Wayne Rose, Council president, pointed out that the term "existing" can apply to structures newly built specifically for the program.

Under the program, the owner of a structure is guaranteed a pre-determined rent. The occupant pays according to ability based on a federal-established formula — for example, 25 per cent of his income — with the government paying the balance.

Councilmanic action was the first step necessary in launching the application for participation.

Nunzio Lombardozzi, Third Ward councilman, pointed out that although the city did not qualify for other federal housing programs because it failed to meet requirements in time, it may be eligible for other phases later.

It is possible to participate in more than one program at the same time, he said.

Rate Increase Requested To Pass On Tax

One of two utilities to be taxed by New Cumberland Council has asked for a rate increase in order to pass the tax onto the customers.

The West Virginia Public Service Commission has scheduled a public hearing March 14 on the proposal of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. to increase iits natural gas rates in New Cumberland.

The company has proposed an annual increase which would bring in $3,500 additional revenue from 577 customers.

John J. Eagan, area manager, said the company's policy is to pass along such taxes to the customer. He pointed out it has been done in a number of other communities along the river served by the company.

Council has passed a 3 per cent gross sales tax on utilities serving New Cumberland in order to provide additional operating funds.

The increase asked amounts to 3.218 per cent.

"Just about every U.S. agency has its own foreign service over there," Hays said.

But now he has decided not to go, "because it would be hard to get across to the public what I was trying to accomplish."

Although he may curb his own wandering, he does not expect to back President Johnson's call for a tax on travel abroad by Americans.

"If I did that, I'd have to oppose foreign aid," Hays said. "I couldn't ask Americans not to spend their money abroad and then send out U.S. dollars to buy Cadillacs for every pipsqueak in Africa.

"If we got some assurance that the government was cutting down on its traveling, we might be in a position to ask civilians to stay home."

Colder Weather Due Tonight For District

The "cold war" is on again in earnest — at least for tonight.

The forecast calls for clear and quite cold, with a low of from zero to 5 above.

Increasing cloudiness and not so cold is the prediction for Thursday.

Temperatures Thursday through Monday are due to average near normal, with highs in the 30s and lows in the low 20s.

Thursday and Friday will be warmer, the weekend colder and it will warm a little next week. Light snow or flurries late Thursday and Friday and again early next week will average .25 inch or less melted.

Russia is designing fishing vessels that can cruise and fish without crew. The fully automated craft will be controlled by a mother ship miles away.

Pistol, Blanket Stolen From Alton St. House

Hugh Ward of 827 Alton St. told police Tuesday night at 10 intruders ransacked his home and took a .177-caliber air pistol and a pink woolen blanket while the house was unoccupied between Nov. 7 and yesterday.

The intruders first tried unsuccessfully to gain entry by going into the cellar and forcing a door into the kitchen, officers said. Then they broke a window on the north side of the home, which gave entry to the bathroom.

All the rooms were ransacked. Officers said the entry apparently was the work of juveniles, as small footprints were found in the snow around the home.

Skis have been found in Scandinavian bogs which are known to have been made over 4,000 years ago.

Final OK Due For Airport

LISBON — Federal approval of plans and specifications for the construction of the Columbiana County Airport in Madison Township is expected within a few days.

Vincent Laneve of East Liverpool, chairman, presented that report to the Airport Authority Tuesday night at the Courthouse.

He said the Ohio Department of Aviation has given its final approval to the plans and the Federal Aviation Administration in Cleveland advised him by phone FAA approval can be expected shortly.

County commissioners will be able to advertise for construction bids as soon as the FAA approves the plans.

Authority members said they are hopeful work can begin in March, weather permitting. They estimate the contractor can complete the project in seven months.

The authority recommended that the county commissioners refain Mosure & Fok, Youngstown consulting engineering firm, until the airport is completed.

Charles J. Gause, president of the county commissioners, and Tom Mosure of the engineering firm attended the meeting.

Giant Boiler Ordered For Stratton Plant

The Babcock & Wilcox Co., which has a tubular products plant in Beaver Falls, has announced it will build a 20-story-high boiler for the Ohio Edison Co. of Akron at a cost of more than $11 million.

Capable of generating steam for the production of 600,000 net kilowatts of electricity, the new boiler will be erected at the utility's W. H. Sammis Plant at Stratton.

The unit is the third Babcock & Wilcox boiler of its type to be purchased by Ohio Edison for its Stratton installation since 1965. Scheduled for operation in 1971, the boiler has a capacity of 4,710,000 pounds of steam per hour.

Babcock & Wilcox subsidiaries, Bailey Meter Co. of Wickliffe and Diamond Power Specialty Corp. of Lancaster, will furnish auxiliary equipment for the steam-generating unit.

The boiler purchase is part of a $375 million expansion program projected by Ohio Edison and its subsidiary, the Pennsylvania Power Co., during the next five years.

Woofter Enters Race For Clay District Post

A New Cumberland resident has filed on the Democratic ticket seeking nomination in the May 14 primary in Hancock County as a candidate for constable in Clay District.

Charles Woofter of 410 Ridge Ave., currently serving his third year as a New Cumberland councilman from the Second Ward, will seek the nomination along with six other candidates who already have filed. All are Democrats.

He is a member of the New Cumberland Church of the Nazarene, Masonic Lodge 22, Chapter 14, Royal Arch Masons, Weirton Commandery 30 and Knights Templar York Rite. He has been employed at the Weirton Steel Co. 18 years.

Should Lead Way

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — Uttar Pradesh state officials have been requested to put all compounds at government buildings and at their residences under cultivation. An order from the state chief secretary said the "grow more food" campaign would be financed by the state in its compounds but that the officials should pay for and benefit from food grown at home.

'Dimes' Drive Set Feb. 13 In Chester Area

The March of Dimes drive in Chester will get under way Feb. 13, the Chester Kiwanis Club announced Tuesday night during its weekly meeting at the City Hall.

Alvin Fineman, campaign chairman, said the men will collect for the fund immediately after the club's dinner meeting that night. Members of the Oak Glen High School Key Club will assist.

Last night's guest speaker, Frank Mangano of the East Liverpool Planning Commission, told members of benefits Chester could receive under the program for East Liverpool. He pointed out how the "master plan" and the growth of East Liverpool would benefit the West Virginia area.

Mangano said Gov. Hulett Smith already has spoken of the need for a superhighway on the West Virginia side of the river.

Eugene Seeley presented a brief history of the Chester club since it began meeting in 1945. He is secretary-treasurer.

Twenty-five attended. Robert Cooley presided.

Ohio Farmer Wins National Corn Award

BOONE, Iowa (AP) — An Ohio farmer who produced a record yield of 231 bushels of corn per acre was announced Tuesday as winner of the 1967 National Corn Yield Contest.

Donald J. Storehalder of Delta, Ohio, had the highest production of the 249 farmers from 27 states who entered the annual contest sponsored by the National Corn Growers Association here.

Storehalder farms 460 acres in Fulton County and produced his record yield on a 26-acre field, which he rotates between corn and soybeans.

Fairview Grange Helps With Party

The Fairview Grange authorized $10 for the Oak Glen postprom party during a meeting Tuesday night in the hall at New Manchester. Dale Gardner, worthy master, presided.

A collection for the March of Dimes netted $6.

Mrs. Hilda Allison, lecturer, was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Helen McClain presented a reading and lighted a candle for the new centennial year. New Year's readings were given by Mrs. McClain and Mrs. Allison.

Refreshments were served 18 by Mrs. Marie Pugh and her committee.

A Valentine party and box lunch will be held Feb. 13 at the hall.

Bridge Tragedy Scene

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Chester Firemen Aid Hunt For Bodies At Pt. Pleasant

By TOM FUTHEY

Two of four Chester firemen, who aided Civil Defense volunteers in Mason County in the search for bodies from the fallen Silver Bridge over the weekend, have described their experiences as "unbelievable," citing the tremendous effort put forth by nearly 500 volunteers from five states and the attitude of the people of Point Pleasant.

Robert Kincaid and Fred Mader, who made the journey to the small Ohio River community along with Harry (Pooch) Huff and George Cowey, said they never were treated so royally or have been shown so much gratitude.

Everywhere, Kincaid reported "people said 'God bless you and your crew'."

THE CHESTER contigent and a group from Weirton responded to a call from the West Virginia Civil Defense Unit to help in the massive dragging operation which yielded three more bodies from the mired bottom of the Ohio River, in some places 100 feet deep.

Kincaid and Huff left late Friday night and worked both Saturday and Sunday, while Mader and Cowey arrived in time to work Sunday.

The Chester crew took the fire department's new squad car and provided grappling hooks and rope. In addition, they said, Harold Krosney, a Chester merchant, provided the men with life jackets.

The men were housed in the Pleasant Point Lodge, a resort which the government closed some years ago when it ran into financial trouble. The resort has been open during the month since the disaster to provide rooms for the rescue workers. The men were fed by the townspeople at the local Moose Lodge, Kincaid explained.

FIFTY - FOUR boats were involved in the search on Saturday, the men reported, and about 60 on Sunday. Workers with their equipment and boats came from all parts of West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Tennessee. The rescue units traveled as far as 500 miles to aid in the search. Civil Defense officials described it as the largest inland rescue operation in U.S. history.

The four, who used their squad car's radio as a P.A. system for directing the operation from the shore, also participated in dragging operations with a group of men from White Sulphur Springs.

Mader termed the operation an "unbelievable sight".

"I didn't realize there were so many people who would be willing to help others," Kincaid added. "I didn't know there were so many in this country that felt so much toward their fellow man."

Although it has been a month since the disaster, "some of these people looked at us like we were God", he declared. He said the men had a chance to talk with many of the communitys residents. Several, he explained, placed a hand on his shoulder and thanked him for coming.

KINCAID talked with one woman at the scene who cried because she had taught school with three who were lost when the bridge fell. He said the teacher was overwhelmed with grief as she explained she knew one teacher and her husband who had wanted children all their lives. The woman had become pregnant and the baby would have been born about last Saturday, she said.

About 75 per cent of the people on the bridge when it fell were related to residents of Point Pleasant, the men reported, and many stood grief-stricken during the weekend as three more bodies were pulled from the river.

One man, who escaped but lost his wife and child, has been dragging the river with his father every day since the disaster. Some days their boat was the only one in the river.

But a day never passed that someone was not dragging the river searching for the bodies still hidden by the murky waters. Boats were on the river when the temperature fell to seven below zero, the men said. Some workers have given up their yearly vacations to assist.

The men declared they never have experienced such a team effort; "All 500 men worked as a team. "If something needed to be done, it was done," they said.

ALSO "unbelievable," as Mader put it, was the organization of the West Virginia State Police. The men recalled that some bodies were identified only two or three hours after they were pulled from the water. It is believed seven still are in the river.

Kincaid explained he talked with a Civil Defense director who stated his belief in the cause of the collapse. Kincaid said the man asserts the bridge worked up "harmonics" caused by the stop-and-go movement of traffic and eventually "was like a kid on a swing". This, the official said, probably caused the bridge to fall.

MADER SAID he talked with one man who was sitting in his car on the ramp when the bridge fell. The man, still in a state of shock from the event, said he looked away for a second, then back at the bridge and there was nothing to be seen.

But the Chesterites sounded a warning for river towns. "Our area is in terrible need of rescue squads, not only because of potential river disasters, but also for the highways." Presently efforts are not coordinated in this area, the men declared.

KINCAID said this is not the case at Point Pleasant.

"They know exactly what's going on. "It's miraculous. They know who's still lost, and they even know now how many were in each car."

The men said a small tugboat and crew are credited with saving the nine who survived the plunge. The crew took the boat from its moorings near the bridge, and pulled persons from the cold water.

The current was so swift last weekend, the men said, that scuba divers were unable to work in the 30-degree water. Hard hat divers are being used to give the men enough weight to stay on the bottom.

Scuba workers reported they had to hold onto the steel superstructure of the bridge to keep from being swept away by the current.

The men said they "feel good" knowing that there are so many who will help and returned to the discussion of the fine treatment and the attitude of the people.

They were overcome with grief, the men agreed, but "They fed us royally, we stayed in a better hotel than I've ever been in," Kincaid concluded.

Man Sentenced; Probation Set In Burglary Action

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court sentenced a Lowellville man for forgery Tuesday and granted probation to a woman who pleaded guilty to burglary.

Wayne Flickinger, 45, was denied probation and was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Ohio State Penitentiary.

The court placed Crystal Berger, 24, of New Waterford RD 1 on probation for five years. She was indcted for a burglary last April 19 at Blosco's Bargain Center in East Palestine.

Flickinger pleaded guilty Oct. 14 to a charge that he passed a $35 Red Cross check on which the endorsement was forged. He was living in Leetonia at the time.

Judge Sharp said Flickinger is already under a Juvenile Court sentence for nonsupport and is on probation from Mahoning County on antother offense. The court asked Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan to check with those agencies before conveying the prisoner to Columbus.

Calcutta Group Invited To Film

Members of the Calcutta Parent - Teacher Organization were invited by letter at their meeting Monday night to view a film on venereal disease at the fire hall Feb. 21.

It will be sponsored by the Junior Women's Club.

A report was presented on the recently - completed PTO-sponsored light project.

The program included readings and group singing by students of the fourth grades.

New Indictment Bared As Result Of Red Dog Raid

WHEELING (AP) — Joseph E. Santoriello of Pittsburgh has been named in a secret indictment charging interstate travel to further gambling interests, according to a U. S. District Court spokesman here.

The indictment was returned by a federal grand jury which met in Wheeling last week. The indictment of five other suspects on similar charges was announced at the time.

The charge stemmed from a Nov. 4 raid by federal agents on the Red Dog Gambling Casino near New Cumberland. Santoriello, also known as Joe Sands, is free on $1,000 bond pending a hearing in federal court here Jan. 31.

Controversial Package

ConCon Slates New Look At Tax Exemption Plan

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Constitutional Convention's tax panel planned to make another effort today to adopt a controversial package of tax exemption reform proposals.

Ironically, the Committee on Taxation and State Finance had announced nearly two weeks ago that the package had been tentatively approved and was on the verge of being presented to the full convention for floor action.

Since then, however, deep rifts have developed over exemptions for public and charitable institutions and the question of whether public utilities should be required to pay local real estate taxes.

The subcommittee on Taxation spent almost eight hours debating the public utilities issue Tuesday, but failed to come up with anything approaching a consensus.

Delegate George F. Potts of Allegheny County, subcommittee co-chairman, said the panel could not resolve the issue in time to meet the full committee's Tuesday night deadline.

"We are nowhere near agreement on a proposal," Pott said after the extended debate. "We have been at this all day, but we haven't gotten anywhere."

The full committee met for more than two hours Tuesday night, but only slightly more than half of its 40 members turned out.

Delegate Robert L. Leonard of Philadelphia, committee co-chairman, was visibly annoyed over the slim attendance and the subcommittee's apparent inability to resolve the tax exemptions question.

"We've got a tremendous job to do in the next few days," Leonard said. "We've got to stay on the subject and remain unemotional if we are to get it done on time."

Committees have only seven working days left to complete their deliberations and report reform proposals to the floor for action.

The hassle over public utilities centers mainly on the question of whether local governments should be permitted to collect property taxes for operating facilities such as power generating plants.

These facilities now are tax exempt, but the basis for the exemptions is a series of court opinion rather than a constitutional provision.

Local government proponents contend that utilities are not paying their fair share of the local tax burden and should be denied exemptions.

However, the subcommittee members argue that utilities, which pay the state a 20-mill gross receipts tax, are adequately taxed and should not lose the exemptions.

West Virginia Leads Nation In Proportion Of GIs In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP)—West Virginia has a greater proportion of its sons in the armed forces in Vietnam than any other state, according to Defense Department figures.

Seven thousand West Virginian are in Vietnam, out of a 1960 census population of 1.86 million.

In addition, the 202 West Virginians killed in action in Vietnam, according to a recent compilation, places the state second in the nation in the proportion of its population lost in the war.

Only Hawaii has lost a greater proportion of its population.

The statistics were compiled by the Defense Department at the request of Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W. Va.

"The war in Vietnam continues to be a greater burden on West Virginia than any other state," Hechler said in a statement.

"This is true both in personal terms and in the curtailment of certain programs which benefit West Virginia's economy."

Hechler is a critic of the administration's Vietnam policy and has urged a descalation of the war.

"West Virginians have been in the forefront of every war," he said.

During the Korean War, he noted, West Virginia led the nation both in number of men serving and in casualties in proportion to its population, but was last among the state in military installations and contracts.

"West Virginia was first in war, first in peace but last in the hearts of the Pentagon," he said. "The situation has improved somewhat since that time, but we still lag behind in our share of the defense dollar."

Chester Firemen Aid Hunt For Bodies At Pt. Pleasant

By TOM FUTHEY

Two of four Chester firemen, who aided Civil Defense volunteers in Mason County in the search for bodies from the fallen Silver Bridge over the weekend, have described their experiences as "unbelievable," citing the tremendous effort put forth by nearly 500 volunteers from five states and the attitude of the people of Point Pleasant.

Robert Kincaid and Fred Mader, who made the journey to the small Ohio River community along with Harry (Pooch) Huff and George Cowey, said they never were treated so royally or have been shown so much gratitude.

Everywhere, Kincaid reported "people said 'God bless you and your crew'."

THE CHESTER contigent and a group from Weirton responded to a call from the West Virginia Civil Defense Unit to help in the massive dragging operation which yielded three more bodies from the mired bottom of the Ohio River, in some places 100 feet deep.

Kincaid and Huff left late Friday night and worked both Saturday and Sunday, while Mader and Cowey arrived in time to work Sunday.

The Chester crew took the fire department's new squad car and provided grappling hooks and rope. In addition, they said, Harold Krosney, a Chester merchant, provided the men with life jackets.

The men were housed in the Pleasant Point Lodge, a resort which the government closed some years ago when it ran into financial trouble. The resort has been open during the month since the disaster to provide rooms for the rescue workers. The men were fed by the townspeople at the local Moose Lodge, Kincaid explained.

FIFTY - FOUR boats were involved in the search on Saturday, the men reported, and about 60 on Sunday. Workers with their equipment and boats came from all parts of West Virginia, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Tennessee. The rescue units traveled as far as 500 miles to aid in the search. Civil Defense officials described it as the largest inland rescue operation in U.S. history.

The four, who used their squad car's radio as a P.A. system for directing the operation from the shore, also participated in dragging operations with a group of men from White Sulphur Springs.

Mader termed the operation an "unbelievable sight".

"I didn't realize there were so many people who would be willing to help others," Kincaid added. "I didn't know there were so many in this country that felt so much toward their fellow man."

Although it has been a month since the disaster, "some of those people looked at us like we were God", he declared. He said the men had a chance to talk with many of the communitys residents. Several, he explained, placed a hand on his shoulder and thanked him for coming.

KINCAID talked with one woman at the scene who cried because she had taught school with three who were lost when the bridge fell. He said the teacher was overwhelmed with grief as she explained she knew one teacher and her husband who had wanted children all their lives. The woman had become pregnant and the baby would have been born about last Saturday, she said.

About 75 per cent of the people on the bridge when it fell were related to residents of Point Pleasant, the men reported, and many stood grief-stricken during the weekend as three more bodies were pulled from the river.

One man, who escaped but lost his wife and child, has been dragging the river with his father every day since the disaster. Some days their boat was the only one in the river.

But a day never passed that someone was not dragging the river searching for the bodies still hidden by the murky waters. Boats were on the river when the temperature fell to seven below zero, the men said. Some workers have given up their yearly vacations to assist.

The men declared they never have experienced such a team effort; "All 500 men worked as a team. "If something needed to be done, it was done," they said.

ALSO "unbelievable," as Mader put it, was the organization of the West Virginia State Police. The men recalled that some bodies were identified only two or three hours after they were pulled from the water. It is believed seven still are in the river.

Kincaid explained he talked with a Civil Defense director who stated his belief in the cause of the collapse. Kincaid said the man asserts the bridge worked up "harmonics" caused by the stop-and-go movement of traffic and eventually "was like a kid on a swing". This, the official said, probably caused the bridge to fall.

MADER SAID he talked with one man who was sitting in his car on the ramp when the bridge fell. The man, still in a state of shock from the event, said he looked away for a second, then back at the bridge and there was nothing to be seen.

But the Chesterites sounded a warning for river towns. "Our area is in terrible need of rescue squads, not only because of potential river disasters, but also for the highways." Presently efforts are not coordinated in this area, the men declared.

KINCAID said this is not the case at Point Pleasant.

"They know exactly what's going on. "It's miraculous. They know who's still lost, and they even know now how many were in each car."

The men said a small tugboat and crew are credited with saving the nine who survived the plunge. The crew took the boat from its moorings near the bridge, and pulled persons from the cold water.

The current was so swift last weekend, the men said, that scuba divers were unable to work in the 30-degree water. Hard hat divers are being used to give the men enough weight to stay on the bottom.

Scuba workers reported they had to hold onto the steel superstructure of the bridge to keep from being swept away by the current.

The men said they "feel good" knowing that there are so many who will help and returned to the discussion of the fine treatment and the attitude of the people.

They were overcome with grief, the men agreed, but "They fed us royally, we stayed in a better hotel than I've ever been in," Kincaid concluded.

Man Sentenced; Probation Set In Burglary Action

LISBON — Judge Joel H. Sharp in Common Pleas Court sentenced a Lowellville man for forgery Tuesday and granted probation to a woman who pleaded guilty to burglary.

Wayne Flickinger, 45, was denied probation and was sentenced to 1 to 20 years in Ohio State Penitentiary.

The court placed Crystal Berger, 24, of New Waterford RD 1 on probation for five years. She was indcted for a burglary last April 19 at Blosco's Bargain Center in East Palestine.

Flickinger pleaded guilty Oct. 14 to a charge that he passed a $35 Red Cross check on which the endorsement was forged. He was living in Leetonia at the time.

Judge Sharp said Flickinger is already under a Juvenile Court sentence for nonsupport and is on probation from Mahoning County on antoher offense. The court asked Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan to check with those agencies before conveying the prisoner to Columbus.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ursula and I grew up together. We're both 18 and plan to go to secretarial school when we're graduated in the spring.

One thing about Ursula bothers me terribly. She wears falsies, and not just an average cup — she wants to look like Sophia Loren. She knows she's not fooling the girls because we've seen her in a gym suit and she's as flat as a board.

I've tried to tell her if she gets serious with a fellow he's going to learn the truth sooner or later and this could be quite a blow to a guy who is expecting something spectacular.

What are your views on the subject?—BOSOM PAL.

Dear Pal: Clothes fit better on a female figure with curves. If Ursula feels more comfortable with a little padding I see no reason why she shouldn't use it. A girl does not owe the world a guarantee that everything on display is homegrown.

I agree that Ursula would be better off if she reduced her padding to dimensions of verisimilitude. Look it up, kids.

Time To Fly

Dear Ann: I'm a professional woman, 31 years of age and, ashamed to say, still living with my mother.

Father died when I was at Radcliffe Mother begged me to come home and enroll in the local college. I hated the thought of leaving Radcliffe, but felt I owed it to my mother to do as she asked.

I learned too late that her real motive was to break up my romance with a young man of whom she did not approve. She objected to his "undistinguished family background" and assured me he'd never amount to anything. (The man is now a U.S. senator and has a lovely family.)

Five years later I became engaged to a professor but he and my mother got into a screaming argument and she told him he was not welcome in our home. I then had to choose between my fiance and my mother. She went into a deep depression and I felt that her mental health was at stake so I broke up with him. Six months later he married someone else.

I'm now going with a wonderful widower. Mother's tried to break us up on the grounds that widowers always compare the second wife to the first and I'll go crazy competing with a ghost.

Last month we set the wedding date. Mother immediately took to her bed and has been there ever since. She's lost 12 pounds and does not eat enough to keep a bird alive. She now says if I'm determined to do "this foolish thing" she'll starve herself to death to punish me.

Yesterday I went to our family doctor because I'm a nervous wreck. He is a kindly gentleman who knows our family well. He said, "I hate to advise a woman to go against her aged mother's wishes — but — "and then his voice drained off and he concluded the visit. Please tell me what to do. — EVE.

Dear Eve: Go back to the doctor and ask him to finish his sentence. I think he was just about to give you some very good advice.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

'Dimes' Drive Chairmen Set

Section chairmen have been announced for the annual Mothers March of Dimes by Mrs. Pansy Ice of Annesley Rd., city chairman.

Mrs. Vickie Lane is co-chairman.

The chairmen follow: Mrs. Janice Williams, West End; Mrs. Sally Springer, Radio Heights; Mrs. Barbara Bennett, East End; Mrs. Becky Allen, Fisher Park; Mrs. Barbara May, Lincoln School area; Mrs. Richard Clark, Taft School area; Mrs. Howard Gibbs, Beechwood; Mrs. Danny Robinson, Grant School area; Mrs. Beveral Brliam Bartolovich, downtown area; Mrs. Jean Madison, Calcutta; Mrs. Wilma Crowe, former Walker School area; Mrs. Pauline McKeever, McKinley School area; Mrs. Betty Heald, Glenmoor; Mrs. Vivian Arcuragi, Dixonville, and Mrs. Lois Adams, LaCroft.

Mrs. Ice said the women can be identified by the collection envelope, yellow with red letters, which reads, "Please Help Fight Birth Defects; Join the March of Dimes." The solicitors also will wear a blue, white and green tag, with a key emblem attached.

President Garfield's Granddaughter Dies

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Lucreia Garfield Comer, granddaughter of President James A. Garfield, died at her home here Tuesday at the age of 74. She was a native of Cleveland, Ohio.

Her father was the late Harry A. Garfield, a political reformer and for many years president of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

In Office Nearly 3 Months

Thieu Plans Move Soon To Start Saigon Reforms

SAIGON (AP) — The new civilian-style government in South Vietnam has been in office nearly three months. President Nguyen Van Thieu's friends say he will be moving soon to start the reforms that long have been considered essential to win popular support for the Saigon regime.

His critics, Vietnamese and American alike, are showing signs of impatience. The lack of early progress led one American official to complain—anonymously: "Bold, dynamic leadership hasn't been there."

While Thieu, a former general, is now president and commander of the armed forces, he still must work with the generals who ruled South Vietnam under a military junta for several years.

Although the generals no doubt realize that things have changed and that a coup is no longer possible if there is to be continued U.S. support of the government, many feel Thieu is a threat to their power.

He could be if he chose to go ahead with his inauguration-speech plans to eliminate corruption and inefficiency at all levels.

So far Thieu has chosen to go slowly.

In addition, personal differences between Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, a former air marshal, have hampered executive decision-making.

Both men deny they are feuding, but people close to them say that snubs and imagined snubs cause the two men to avoid each other. Thieu and Ky appear together in public only occasionally.

Rumors persist that Ky has been masterminding an anti-American program in the newspapers to discredit Thieu. Ky denies this. He has told associates that Theu has given him little to do in the government.

The House of Representatives and the Senate, elected in September and October, only recently completed setting up their rules and electing officers. They still have not acted on any legislation, although committees are looking into several problems.

Thieu met with President Johnson in Australia last month. Vietnamese sources say Johnson was disturbed by reports that Ky had formed his own "government," complete with a shadow cabinet, and at times was able to rally the more powerful South Vietnamese generals behind himself and against Thieu.

Unless Thieu consolidated his power as president, Johnson is supposed to have told him, much-needed reforms could fall by the wayside. Johnson likely had heard reports that Premier Nguyen Van Loc, torn between obeying directives from Thieu and Ky, had not shown any great effectiveness.

As associates picture it, Thieu couldn't agree more about the need to consolidate his power.

The military still represents the only nationally organized force besides the Communists, and as such Theu needs its support.

So although he is known to want to get rid of some generals and province chiefs, he is biding his time. Some army officers have been tried for corruption or removed for inefficiency, but their ranks are low and their numbers small.

Thieu has presented bold plans for reforming Vietnamese society. In his inaugural speech he spoke of improving and reinforcing the armed forces, imposing austerity on the relatively affluent cities, and eradicating corruption.

LBJ Budget Gets 'Bad' Marks From Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's budget hasn't even been formally presented to Congress but already it has bad marks from the committee his administration is trying hardest to win over.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee told the administration spokesmen Tuesday they had better take a pencil to the spending side of the budget again if they hope to have his crucial support for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

The Arkansas Democrat offered a little consolation by congratulating Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and his companions on what he called an improved job of establishing the inflationary dangers to the economy if a tax increase is not voted.

Johnson has said the budget will reach about $186 billion, with an $8 billion deficit—reaching $21 billion without the tax boost.

Mills, who twice before has put aside the tax bill pending more spending cuts, in effect postponed further consideration of it until March. He adiourned the committee until Feb. 5, when it begins hearings and executive sessions on balance-of-payments matters expected to consume the rest of the month.

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, who had pinned his hopes on a contention that the new budget—due to be submitted to Congress Monday—will show spending cuts of $2.5 billion to $3 billion, told newsmen afterward he wouldn't try to say just what additional reductions Mills may have in mind.

But he said the budget as prepared "fully justifies the tax increase." The bulky estimates of spending and revenues, he said, are already locked up and ready for the printer.

Mills did not bar the door irrevocably against further consideration of the tax increase.

At the very least, however, the committee action kills whatever slight chance there was for enactment of a tax bill by April 1, Johnson's latest target date.

That in itself throws the budget out of kilter, since its revenue estimates were based on three-fourths of a year's collections at the higher rates.

Robert McLean Plans To Retire From AP Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert McLean, a director of The Associated Press for 44 years and its president from 1938 to 1957, will retire from the board in April.

McLean, chairman of the board of The Philadelphia Bulletin and The Santa Barbara, Calif. News-Press, told the nominating committee he did not wish to be considered for renomination.

The committee, meeting here to nominate candidates for election as directors at the annual meeting of AP members April 22, expressed its regret. It said this "outstanding leadership and constant devotion to the principles and problems of The Associated Press is unsurpassed."

The AP Board of Directors, in a resolution adopted at its January meeting in San Diego, Calif., called McLean "a living symbol of The Associated Press."

The resolution said:

"You are a personification of its ideals. You are a depository of its history. You are the authority on its past problems and its policies.

"You are the recipient of our affectionate pride in the continuing discharge by The Associated Press of its responsibilities involving freedom of news throughout the world."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Ursula and I grew up together. We're both 18 and plan to go to secretarial school when we're graduated in the spring.

One thing about Ursula bothers me terribly. She wears falsies, and not just an average cup — she wants to look like Sophia Loren. She knows she's not fooling the girls because we've seen her in a gym suit and she's as flat as a board.

I've tried to tell her if she gets serious with a fellow he's going to learn the truth sooner or later and this could be quite a blow to a guy who is expecting something spectacular.

What are your views on the subject?—BOSOM PAL.

Dear Pal: Clothes fit better on a female figure with curves. If Ursula feels more comfortable with a little padding I see no reason why she shouldn't use it. A girl does not owe the world a guarantee that everything on display is homegrown.

I agree that Ursula would be better off if she reduced her padding to dimensions of verisimilitude. Look it up, kids.

Time To Fly

Dear Ann: I'm a professional woman, 31 years of age and, ashamed to say, still living with my mother.

Father died when I was at Radcliffe. Mother begged me to come home and enroll in the local college. I hated the thought of leaving Radcliffe, but felt I owed it to my mother to do as she asked.

I learned too late that her real motive was to break up my romance with a young man of whom she did not approve. She objected to his "undistinguished family background" and assured me he'd never amount to anything. (The man is now a U.S. senator and has a lovely family.)

Five years later I became engaged to a professor but he and my mother got into a screaming argument and she told him he was not welcome in our home. I then had to choose between my fiance and my mother. She went into a deep depression and I felt that her mental health was at stake so I broke up with him. Six months later he married someone else.

I'm now going with a wonderful widower. Mother's tried to break us up on the grounds that widowers always compare the second wife to the first and I'll go crazy competing with a ghost.

Last month we set the wedding date. Mother immediately took to her bed and has been there ever since. She's lost 12 pounds and does not eat enough to keep a bird alive. She now says if I'm determined to do "this foolish thing" she'll starve herself to death to punish me.

Yesterday I went to our family doctor because I'm a nervous wreck. He is a kindly gentleman who knows our family well. He said, "I hate to advise a woman to go against her aged mother's wishes — but —— "and then his voice drained off and he concluded the visit. Please tell me what to do. — EVE.

Dear Eve: Go back to the doctor and ask him to finish his sentence. I think he was just about to give you some very good advice.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

'Dimes' Drive Chairmen Set

Section chairmen have been announced for the annual Mothers March of Dimes by Mrs. Pansy Ice of Annesley Rd., city chairman.

Mrs. Vickie Lane is co-chairman.

The chairmen follow: Mrs. Janice Williams, West End; Mrs. Sally Springer, Radio Heights; Mrs. Barbara Bennett, East End; Mrs. Becky Allen, Fisher Park; Mrs. Barbara May, Lincoln School area; Mrs. Richard Clark, Taft School area; Mrs. Howard Gibbs, Beechwood; Mrs. Danny Robinson, Grant School area; Mrs. Beveral Brliam Bartolovich, downtown area; Mrs. Jean Madison, Calcutta; Mrs. Wilma Crowe, former Walker School area; Mrs. Pauline McKeever, McKinley School area; Mrs. Betty Heald, Glenmoor; Mrs. Vivian Arcuragi, Dixonville, and Mrs. Lois Adams, LaCroft.

Mrs. Ice said the women can be identified by the collection envelope, yellow with red letters, which reads, "Please Help Fight Birth Defects; Join the March of Dimes." The solicitors also will wear a blue, white and green tag, with a key emblem attached.

Collected funds will be turned in Jan. 30 from 7 to 10 p.m. at the First National Bank.

The name of Ireland's capital —Dublin—is derived from two Gaelic words, dubh and linn, meaning "black pool."

President Garfield's Granddaughter Dies

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Lucreia Garfield Comer, granddaughter of President James A. Garfield, died at her home here Tuesday at the age of 74. She was a native of Cleveland, Ohio.

Her father was the late Harry A. Garfield, a political reformer and for many years president of Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

In Office Nearly 3 Months

Thieu Plans Move Soon To Start Saigon Reforms

SAIGON (AP) — The new civilian-style government in South Vietnam has been in office nearly three months. President Nguyen Van Thieu's friends say he will be moving soon to start the reforms that long have been considered essential to win popular support for the Saigon regime.

His critics, Vietnamese and American alike, are showing signs of impatience. The lack of early progress led one American official to complain—anonymously: "Bold, dynamic leadership hasn't been there."

While Thieu, a former general, is now president and commander of the armed forces, he still must work with the generals who ruled South Vietnam under a military junta for several years.

Although the generals no doubt realize that things have changed and that a coup is no longer possible if there is to be continued U.S. support of the government, many feel Thieu is a threat to their power.

He could be if he chose to go ahead with his inauguration-speech plans to eliminate corruption and inefficiency at all levels.

So far Thieu has chosen to go slowly.

In addition, personal differences between Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky, a former air marshal, have hampered executive decision-making.

Both men deny they are feuding, but people close to them say that snubs and imagined snubs cause the two men to avoid each other. Thieu and Ky appear together in public only occasionally.

Rumors persist that Ky has been masterminding an anti-American program in the newspapers to discredit Thieu. Ky denies this. He has told associates that Theu has given him little to do in the government.

The House of Representatives and the Senate, elected in September and October, only recently completed setting up their rules and electing officers. They still have not acted on any legislation, although committees are looking into several problems.

Thieu met with President Johnson in Australia last month. Vietnamese sources say Johnson was disturbed by reports that Ky had formed his own "government," complete with a shadow cabinet, and at times was able to rally the more powerful South Vietnamese generals behind himself and against Thieu.

Unless Thieu consolidated his power as president, Johnson is supposed to have told him, much-needed reforms could fall by the wayside. Johnson likely had heard reports that Premier Nguyen Van Loc, torn between obeying directives from Thieu and Ky, had not shown any great effectiveness.

As associates picture it, Thieu couldn't agree more about the need to consolidate his power.

The military still represents the only nationally organized force besides the Communists, and as such Theu needs its support.

So although he is known to want to get rid of some generals and province chiefs, he is biding his time. Some army officers have been tried for corruption or removed for inefficiency, but their ranks are low and their numbers small.

Thieu has presented bold plans for reforming Vietnamese society. In his inaugural speech he spoke of improving and reinforcing the armed forces, imposing austerity on the relatively affluent cities, and eradicating corruption.

LBJ Budget Gets 'Bad' Marks From Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's budget hasn't even been formally presented to Congress but already it has bad marks from the committee his administration is trying hardest to win over.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee told the administration spokesmen Tuesday they had better take a pencil to the spending side of the budget again if they hope to have his crucial support for a 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

The Arkansas Democrat offered a little consolation by congratulating Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler and his companions on what he called an improved job of establishing the inflationary dangers to the economy if a tax increase is not voted.

Johnson has said the budget will reach about $186 billion, with an $8 billion deficit—reaching $21 billion without the tax boost.

Mills, who twice before has put aside the tax bill pending more spending cuts, in effect postponed further consideration of it until March. He adiourned the committee until Feb. 5, when it begins hearings and executive sessions on balance-of-payments matters expected to consume the rest of the month.

Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, who had pinned his hopes on a contention that the new budget—due to be submitted to Congress Monday—will show spending cuts of $2.5 billion to $3 billion, told newsmen afterward he wouldn't try to say just what additional reductions Mills may have in mind.

But he said the budget as prepared "fully justifies the tax increase." The bulky estimates of spending and revenues, he said, are already locked up and ready for the printer.

Mills did not bar the door irrevocably against further consideration of the tax increase.

At the very least, however, the committee action kills whatever slight chance there was for enactment of a tax bill by April 1, Johnson's latest target date.

That in itself throws the budget out of kilter, since its revenue estimates were based on three-fourths of a year's collections at the higher rates.

Robert McLean Plans To Retire From AP Board

NEW YORK (AP) — Robert McLean, a director of The Associated Press for 44 years and its president from 1938 to 1957, will retire from the board in April.

McLean, chairman of the board of The Philadelphia Bulletin and The Santa Barbara, Calif. News-Press, told the nominating committee he did not wish to be considered for renomination.

The committee, meeting here to nominate candidates for election as directors at the annual meeting of AP members April 22, expressed its regret. It said this "outstanding leadership and constant devotion to the principles and problems of The Associated Press is unsurpassed."

The AP Board of Directors, in a resolution adopted at its January meeting in San Diego, Calif., called McLean "a living symbol of The Associated Press."

The resolution said:

"You are a personification of its ideals. You are a depository of its history. You are the authority on its past problems and its policies.

"You are the recipient of our affectionate pride in the continuing discharge by The Associated Press of its responsibilities involving freedom of news throughout the world."

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIAN CORN

QUESTION: Why is the colored corn used for decoration called "Indian?"

ANSWER: Some old-fashioned ideas are so attractive to us that we can't let them go. One is the cozy, homey way people celebrated harvest time in the fall and winter, gathering pumpkins and apples, making cider and cookies. They often used to hang strings of dried corn cobs from the rafters, where mice couldn't get at them.

When the white men came, they found the Indians raising corn. The cobs were not just of one color; some varieties had kernels of black or red or blue or pink. On some cobs, the colors were mixed, which the Indians liked for the ornamental quality. At first, the white men, interested in the food value of corn, raised the white and yellow kind only, But recently, companies which raise seeds have found that corn grown Indian-fashion from different strains — so that the kernels will be differently colored — can be readily sold at roadside markets. Groups of these make fine decorations; they are called "Indian" after the Indians who first appreciated their beauty.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 24, the 24th day of 1968. There are 342 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1848, James Marshall found a gold nuggett at a sawmill he was building for John Sutter in California's Sierra Nevada. The California Gold Rush followed.

On this date:

In 1908, the first Boy Scout troop was organized in England by Gen. Robert Baden-Powell.

In 1915, during World War I, the British defeated the Germans in a naval battle off Dogger Bank in the North Sea.

In 1945, Russian soldiers crossed the Oder River and landed on German soil for the first time in World War II.

In 1946, the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission was created.

In 1949, the U.S. Air Force began Operation Haylift to drop feed to millions of cattle and sheep stranded by snowstorms on the Great Plains and West.

Ten years ago — The Chinese Communists permitted three American mothers to visit their sons in prison but rejected appeals for the men's release.

Five years ago — France told Britain that nation could join the European Common Market when her economic evolution made her an acceptable partner.

One year ago — South Vietnam's Premier Nguyen Ky encountered an unruly antiwar demonstration during a visit to New Zealand.
